Death of William Long Roach.

We learn that William Long Roach, of Birney, Mont., a former student who left Carlisle about two years ago, died of tuberculosis on January 19, 1915.

Mr. R. E. Chevrick, day school teacher at that place, pays the following tribute to his life and character:

"Willian had been the Birney Day School policeman for the eight months previous to December 1st, when he resigned on account of failing health. He was undoubtedly the best and most faithful policeman that school has had to that date. He was unusally kind, thoughtful, and considerate of the boys and girls, while at the same time he kept up his work in splendid shape. He was buried in the Menonite Cemetery near the school, the school children attending enmasse."

William was one of the popular boys while at Carlisle and well liked. His many friends are indeed sorry to hear of his death.

Mr. R. E. Chevrick,
Teacher of the Birney Day School,
Birney, Mont.

My dear Sir:

I have noted the information you conveyed to me in your letter of February the 19th, to the effect that William Long Roach's death occurred on January the 19th of this year.

It is sad indeed that so promising a young man had to succumb to the malady from which there was no escape at the very beginning of his usefulness, but it is gratifying to know that he had given you such splendid service during the time he was able to be thoughtful of others.

Trusting that the brief period of his service with you may continue to show results among those with whom you are working, I remain,

Very truly yours,

HKM.

Gentlemen;-

Noting that you are still mailing copies of the Arrow to William Long Roach, I believed you would be interested in the sad news that William died of tuberculosis on Jan. I9, I9I5.

William had been t e Birney Day school policeman for the 8 months previous to Dec. I, when he resigned account of failing health. He was undoubtedly the best , and most faithful policeman this school has had to that date. He was unusally kind, thotful, and considerate of the boys and girls, while at the same time he kept up his work in splendid shape. Was about 22 years old. He was buried in the Mennonite Cemetary near the school, the school children attending enmasse.

Very respectfully,

R. E. Cherrick

Day School Teacher.

William returned from Carlisle about two years ago.
