Exhibition to-night.

We will whistle, next time.

Harry Iron Claw has gone home.

Teachers' Club dining hall was kalsomined, Tuesday.

The Girls' Quarters look fresher since the late coat of paint.

There is much of truth in the article next the poem on first page.

Robert Mathews and Eustace spent Saturday in Harrisburg sight-seeing.

The girls are grateful for the beautifully bound volume of Youth's Companion for their reading room—a present from ten of the teachers.

Will all hands remember that it is exceedingly annoying to the office clerks for people who pass in and out on business or pleasure to slam the doors?

The first edition of the HELPER this week was "kicked off" in the old fashioned way by foot power, the boiler having to take a vacation for repairs.

What a despicable spirit for a person not to do her work as well at the end of the month when she knows the details are to be changed, as at the beginning.

That is the way to go riding. Plume your horses and go off in style. It was the band this time who took the large coach. They went Saturday to Boiling Springs and Holly, and had a fine time.

Miss Seabrook returned from Princeton, N. J., on Monday, with Johnson Spencer, whom she had been nursing through a serious siege of sickness following close upon the measles. Johnson is getting well rapidly, in fact growing fat.

Who was a happy man on Saturday? William Petoskey, of course, when his wife arrived straight from their Michigan home. Mrs. Petoskey will live at the near farm to assist Mrs. Bennett, while William will board there but continue his work in the printing office, and go to school.

All who wish to hear one of the greatest colored orators of the age, Prof. J. C. Price, D. D., at Bosler Hall Monday evening next, on the subject of "The Future of the Negro Race," can purchase tickets of Mr. George Foulk. Quite a number of the employees have already purchased tickets.

In the place of our boiler which is out for repairs, nothing but empty air rests upon the exposed grates, but the engineer is so in the habit of being on the safe side, that when he left the office for a moment, he called out, "Some body watch my engine," which brought down the house, and the engineer that morning was Robert Big Bear.

The Pawnees took tea at the Teachers' Club on Wednesday evening, and were guests of Misses Ely and Burgess. All that are left of these faithful hangers on are Stacy Matlack, Robert Mathews, Mark Evarts, Phebe Howell and Rose Howell. Three others are in the country. The tea was given in honor of Miss Phebe Howell, who returns to-morrow to her duties at the Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia. Phebe and Lydia Flint were guests of Miss Luckenbach, the evening before.

Have you seen Mrs. Dixon's splendid tuberoses, now in bloom?

Spyna says the hospital bell is not cracked. Then it must be sick.

The Musicales at Metzger, this week, was attended by several of our ladies.

We omitted to credit the little poem "May Time" of last week, to the Child's Hour.

The poem on the first page will be appreciated by those who know the Mexican burro and his habits.

Pete Ocotea and Victor Tozoski have enlisted as tailors in the Army, and started to Omaha, Nebr., to report to General Brooks.

Miss Cook, R. Bourassa, Flo. Miller and Martha Napawat had a pleasant day together on the battle-field of Gettysburg, Saturday.

The pleasant reception given by Miss Schaeffner at her town home last Saturday evening was greatly enjoyed by all who called.

The Seniors and Juniors have been playing interesting games of ball this week attracting the attention of the girls as well as the teachers who turned out in large numbers.

The farm work is rushing, now, and the new barn progressing. Just think, it will be the largest farm barn in this part of the country—120 feet by 75.

Messrs. Goodyear and McConkey went to the race one evening this week, but it was a mill race and they brought a nice taste of fish home for breakfast.

On Sunday Charlie Dagenett paid an enjoyable visit at the Hilton's two miles in the country. He came back laden with dogwood blossoms and lilacs, for friends.

Miss McAdam and Miss Bratton, with Captain as escort, took a fly around on horse back one evening this week. It being quite an innovation, the parade was covered with spectators to watch them mount.

The Green Club with Norman Cassadore as Captain played with a club known as the Secrets, Martin D. Archiquette, Captain, on Tuesday, and made some excellent hits and runs. The score stood at close of game, 12 to 10 in favor of the Secrets.

John Bull, of Ft. Belknap Agency, who has been a patient sufferer for a long time was quietly laid away in our little cemetery last Thursday afternoon. When a loved school-mate is called to his long home we mourn for the departed, yet the occasion brings a useful lesson.

The King's Daughters Circle known as the "Sunshine Scatterers" entertained a corresponding number of the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday afternoon at a five o'clock tea in Miss Fisher's room. From the pleasure manifested by the guests we think the girls fully deserve the name they have adopted.

Our last Sunday evening service was conducted by Nellie Robertson and Rosa Bourassa. This service and the mid-week prayer meeting may properly be said to belong to the students, as they frequently conduct the service and always take part. Whatever our students may become or wherever they may go, this part of their life at school will never be forgotten.
