Five wagons were shipped Saturday to points in the west.

The farmers will be in to-morrow, and we hope all with good records.

Capt. Pratt arrived yesterday from the west. He remains but a short time.

The wagon-makers are at work on a new coach for the use of the school.

Wish there would be a general debating society for all hands this winter.

Mrs. Jennings stopped on her way south to spend a short time with her sister, Mrs. Pratt.

Why is it that more scraps accumulate on the girls' play-ground than all of the rest of the parade?

Mr. Mason Pratt is engaged in superintending the laying of a street car railway at Washington, D. C.

The new building is a constant object lesson to our pupils who watch the work with a great deal of interest.

Lida Standing renewed her subscription to the HELPER. We wish all of our little friends would renew as promptly.

Miss Marion Pratt returned home on Tuesday morning after having had a pleasant visit among friends at and near Jamestown, N. Y.

Sophia Metoxen sends us a nice letter, telling of the pleasant times she and Amelia Haswell have had during the summer at their farm home.

Let us not forget the seven things which Dr. Rittenhouse asked us to study to repeat on next Sunday. They are found in, II. Pet. 1 chap. 5, 6, 7, ver.

Boys, boys, on the girls' play-ground again? Have you not enough territory of your own without trespassing on the rights of others? Do you want the whole earth?

Another club from Celicia Wheelock this week. Celicia is a real business woman. She says she intends to send more names. The Man-on-the-band-stand is proud of all such business girls and boys.

After the skilful training in singing, our scholars received from Mrs. Campbell last year, it is fair to suppose that they will do even better this year, though we sometimes thought the singing could not be better.

Several of the boys have come to the wearing of glasses.

Roger Dudzarda, Apache, died on Sunday of hemorrhage from the lungs.

Maggie Jordan is away for a ten day's visit among friends at Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

Mr. George Foulk has gone off for a few days' rest. Faithful George deserves it.

Doesn't the boy who has charge of the ringing of the school bell know how to tell time?

There are 12,000 children of school age in Phila., who cannot be accommodated in the public schools.

William Springer will exhibit his splendid harness at the Cumberland County Fair, which will be soon.

Mr. Foulke's black dog went to market without a muzzle on and the dog-catchers caught him and put him in the pound.

Study hour should be two hours at least, every student capable of reading in the Third Reader should study two hours out of school.

Look out for "snits and kenep" some day for dinner. Miss Noble has been talking about it. The Man-on-the-band-stand heard her.

Mr. Jordan went to Wilkesbarre to attend a meeting of the G. U. O. of O. F., to which he belongs. He was elected chairman of the order by a large majority.

Study hour began on Monday evening, the first half-hour given to study, the second, to singing. The Seniors, attend singing school on Monday, the Juniors on Tuesday and the Fresh's on Wednesday evening.

The printers were favored last week with treats. First came peaches, then cantaloupes, and the feasting was ended by a grand treat of watermelon from Dennison Wheelock. The boys smacked their lips and said "Thankee."

WANTED—AT THE PRINTING OFFICE, several copies of INDIAN HELPER, Vol. 3, No. 48, dated July 13. If any of our employes or pupils have the above and do not wish to keep them, please send them to us.—[Ed.]

The Reading Room at the Large Boys' Quarters is again in excellent shape. Things were at loose ends for a while during vacation. They now have a file of 124 publications, of which the boys have free use in the room. There are twelve dailies and the rest are popular weeklies and monthlies, such as, Frank Leslie's, Harper's Weekly, Harper's Young People, St. Nicholas, etc.
