DEAR FRIEND:

I enclose invitations to our Commencement Exercises. The same regulations as on former occasions will guide those of you who have our pupils in your homes.

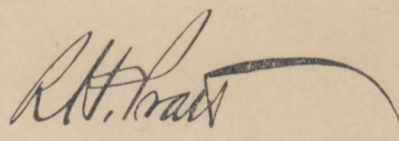

If pupils have not been economical, and if their conduct has not been such as to warrant the privilege of coming, this favor should be denied. If any have been in at Christmas they should not incur the expense of coming again unless for special reasons, which should be explained to me.

We can take care of quite a good many patrons over night, and meals can be had at the Teachers' Club rooms, at 25 cents each.

Please advise me at once of your acceptance; give the name of those who will come with you, and I will send you tickets from your Railroad point to Carlisle and return, at the cost of fare one way.

Name the Railroad Station from which you want tickets. You can pay for them here.

Very truly yours,

Lt. Col. and Supt.
