Department of the Interior,
INDIAN SCHOOL SERVICE,

Carlisle, Pa., May 24th, 1898.

Hon. W.N. Hailman,
Supt. Indian Schools,
Washington, D.C.

Sir:

Replying to your letter of the 23rd inst. marked "Supt. 23141, 1898," in reference to Wm. H. Carefell, I respectfully state that Carefell entered this school in Nov., 1890, and was discharged in June, 1896, having reached the 10th grade.

While here as a student, his character was good, and he did all he could; but was crippled in his usefulness by having only one arm. He did ~~his~~ duty as Librarian, Mail Carrier, and such work as he was capable of.

I would not consider him capable of full duty in the position he seeks, owing to his physical disability; but think he would do all that he possibly could. I am not, however, fully posted on his course of life since leaving Carlisle.

Respectfully,

R.H. Cross
