My dear Mr. Johnson:

There is inclosed herewith copy of a letter received from Mrs. Annie Satterlee of Oneil, Arkansas, written in answer to Office letter of April 3 in which Mrs. Satterlee was requested to advise what preparations she had made to pay the funeral expenses of her son, Isaac Longshore, who committed suicide last June at Carlisle.

According to the records of this office, Isaac Longshore has never withdrawn his pro rata share of tribal trust funds. However, as application therefor was not approved by the Secretary of the Interior before the death of said Isaac Longshore, it can not <sup>now</sup> be withdrawn. Please advise if he has any funds to his credit at your agency from which his funeral expenses could be paid.

Very truly yours,

Assistant Commissioner.

Kind Sir

in reply to the letter we received a few days ago in regards the burial expenses of my son, Isaac Longshore. when we received the telegram of his death. it stated he died at Wright Penn. we afterwards learned he died at Carlisle. we wrote Mr Leiffs at Chillico. in regards the matter also of me a drawing of Isaac's trust funds he said he thought the Department should be entitled to pay the bill, and also I could draw his money. as I Isaac should of been 21 the 3rd of July. <sup>18</sup> he died on Aug 24. <sup>18</sup> I wrote the Department about the matter but never heard from it. in as much as we had a total failure here last year, Could not the Department pay his burial expenses out of his trust funds. I have heard that such has been done. and shouldent I be entitled to draw out the balance of his money. I sure hope that such is so. Yours Very truly Annie Satterlee

March 17, 1919

Commissioner of Indian Affairs
Washington, D.C.

Sir:

There is enclosed a communication from H. R. Ewing, Undertaker of Carlisle Pa. regarding the payment of the funeral expenses of Isaac Longshore an Indian boy addressed to Mr Paul and forwarded without comment to me.

The case is as follows Isaac Longshore a former Carlisle student visited Carlisle in June 1918. He loitered around the town for several days and came out to the school where I personally noticed him and was informed of his history and the fact that he had been expelled from the school. As he merely loitered about the plant and conducted himself in an orderly manner nothing was said to him. The next morning after his visit to the school when I noticed him I was called up by phone and advised that Longshore had shot himself, and was about to die as a result. I immediately went to the <sup>Calgary</sup> hospital where the lad had been taken but before I arrived he died. I awaited the arrival of the Coroner who deemed no inquest necessary and the body by my order was turned over to Mr Ewing. We immediately advised the Indian Office and the relatives of the lad. His step father advised me, by wire as I remember it, not to send the boy's body home but to bury him at Carlisle and he would meet the expenses. In view of these instructions and the fact that this Indian boy had to be buried I arranged for a decent funeral in the school grave yard with Mr Ewing.

I explained to Mr Ewing the situation as to his payment for this funeral and assured him that I would assist him

AMERICAN RED CROSS

U. S. NAVAL HOSPITAL
CHELSEA, MASSACHUSETTS

first by trying to get payment from the Indian father of the boy as per his agreement or in the event he didn't meet the expense I would put the claim up for payment under the Appropriation Relief and Distress 1918 as the boy didn't have ~~a cent~~ but a few cents, just a penny or two, which the Crown took possession of on his person.

Within a week or so I left for the Army. Apparently the father in law of John Longshore never met the bill. Possibly no effort was made to collect from him. The Carlisle files should show the correspondence regarding this case. Mr. Tenny handled it. The claim is a just one. Some one had to care for this Indian boy who was crossed because a white woman had deserted him as I remember. His relatives told ~~me~~ <sup>me</sup> to bury him and I instructed Mr. Ewing to do it.

As after proper effort the bill can't be collected from Longshore further in low the question of ~~payment~~ payment by the government should be considered and if after careful consideration this can't be done I will be glad to know it so that I can settle any question of my personal responsibility with Mr Ewing.

Very truly yours
John Brown

June 28, 1918.

My dear Mrs. Satterle:-

This morning I attended the funeral of your son Isaac and although I do not know you, I feel that perhaps you would like it if some mother would write you the particulars of your boy's death.

Isaac came to the Indian School Sunday morning from New Jersey where he said he had been working. He came to see Mr. Denny and talked with him for several minutes. You may not know that Mr. Denny has charge of the Small Boys' Building where Isaac used to stay when he was a pupil here. He talked very strangely, Mr. Denny said. He talked religion and about the war and what Billy Sunday said and quoted from the Bible. He was very nervous and told Mr. Denny that he had trouble where he was working but he did not tell him any particulars. Mr. Denny told him to walk about the school grounds and that he would see him later after we had had our breakfast. He was on the school grounds all day. Mr. Denny told him he would better find lodgings some where for the night so it seems Isaac went to town to stay Sunday night.

Early Monday morning he was at the school office and talked with one of the clerks. He was still talking about the war. He went away before the superintendent and the other clerks including myself, came to the office. At about 9:30 A.M. some one phoned out to Mr. Denny and that an Indian boy had shot himself on the streets of the town. Mr. Denny was in town then and was told at once what had been done so he got in an automobile and went directly to the hospital where they had taken Isaac and got there the same time the ambulance did. He saw him taken in and was there when he died. He lived just about ten minutes after he was taken to the hospital but he was unconscious all that time.

Several people saw him do the dreadful act. He spoke to a little girl standing on the street and said "Goodbye little girl" and waved his hand goodbye to some people passing in a machine. Mr. Francis, the superintendent and Mr. Duran, the large boys' disciplinarian went to the hospital as soon as they could get a rig and gave all directions as to what should be done with the body. He instructed me to wire you and Mr. Johnson, which I did at once.

The funeral was to have been held yesterday but Mr. Francis had a letter from the father, C.M. Longshore, asking particulars and he did not like to bury the boy until he was sure that the father did not want the body. The father wired late last evening that we should comply with your instructions so we buried the body this morning, in the little school grave where we have laid many of the boys and girls whom have died far away from their parents.

There were only a few of us at the funeral, all of the Indian employees at the school, one of the teachers, who knew his sister at Haskell, the six pall-bearers and Mr. Francis. The services were conducted by the Presbyterian minister in one of the rooms of the undertaking establishments. He read the service and then offered a beautiful prayer. When the service was over, he was brought out to the school grounds.

Isaac looked as if he were asleep. The place where he had shot himself in the temple was hidden by his hair, which you know was always beautiful. His face was in repose and he looked natural except that I missed the light in his eyes. You know he had beautiful eyes too and I was not accustomed to seeing him with his eyes closed. He had on a very nice-looking suit of clothes. His casket was beautiful. It was white all over, covered with a white brocaded velvet and lined inside with white silk. The knobs were nickel plated, they looked almost like silver. I know Mrs. Satterle, that you would have been pleased with the way the undertaker took care of him. The school furnished the flowers so everything was done as I know you would liked to have had it done.

I have a little son five years old. I am sorry for you, dear mother, but you understand from the first part of my letter that Issac was not himself. There was something wrong but we did not find out what that was. Perhaps after all, he might have done harm to some one else than he would have had to suffer consequences which might be worse than what befell him. We feel quite sure that he did not commit this act when he knew what he was doing. My early training was that we should not take life but under conditions such as your boy had, I believe the Maker of us all would forgive him. I know he will.

Mr. Denny and I extend to you our sincerest sympathy.

Sincerely yours

July 4, 1918

Supt. Sac & Fox Indian School,
