Dear Sir:

I was a student at the Carlisle Indian School last year, and was declared ineligible last spring so I had to leave.
I wrote to Mr. Friedman last week to see if there was any possible way of my getting back and he advised me to write to Washington. Now I'm a poor boy working my way in this world. I was attending Conway at Carlisle and would like to get to college very much, but I haven't got the means, I had all I could do, to pay my fees there which was $80 a year I'm out here just now working, I am originally from New York, my mother is dead and my father drinks I can't depend on him very much

Carl

I would be perfectly willing to pay the government but as I said I have nothing to pay with, it is even hard for me to get $80 in one summer, sincerely hoping that you will help me in every possible way, I claim to be a full Blood Mochawk Indian but they put me down as three quarters at the Indian School, hoping you will give this letter a very serious consideration. I remain, yours sincerely,

Angus Spicer.

P.S. Please Answer to Saremore, North Dakota.
