Your letter of the thirtieth is at hand and I must say that it certainly was a great surprise and also an equally great pleasure to receive it.

It was very nice of Congress man Murray to call your attention to such a thing as he did, and I wish to take an advantage of it by asking that you might consider of my going to Carlisle the coming year.

This year winds up my pleasant also profitable five years at The Murray State School and upon the advice of my father, Holmes Colbert, and my present teachers I have decided to try to go to Carlisle the coming year.

The reason that Carlisle is my present place that I wish to go is that there one can study and learn the eastern methods and ways.

You should see the nice work the Indian boys and girls are doing here at this school, if you and other men could see what the results of such schools are, there would be a great many more.

Would you be as kind to let me hear from you at your most convenient time?

Yours truly,
Overton Colbert.
