My dear Miss Williams:

In reply to your letter of April 24, 1919, you are advised that there are no Indian Schools in Connecticut. The Carlisle Indian School was turned over to the War Department September 1, 1918, to be used as a hospital and an educational institution for the re-education of disabled soldiers, and is known as U.S. Army General Hospital No. 31.

Very truly yours,

Assistant Commissioner.

Mr. Cato Sells,

Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Washington.

Sir -

I have tried in various ways to secure information concerning Carlisle Indian School but have failed in all my attempts.

Having read that you were commissioner of Indian affairs I thought perhaps you would be able to give me some information.

I would also like to know if there are any Indian schools in Connecticut.

Being partly of Indian descent myself naturally I am very much interested. I remain,

Yours respectfully
Miss Minnie With
