Sir:

The information has come to this Office informally that Jerome K. Caddotte, a pupil of your school, is here in the city of Washington, probably having deserted from your school. Also that Henry Ankle, a pupil of Carlisle, was with Caddotte here. Our informant, however, says that it is thought that Henry has left this city for George Ford's place in Trenton, N. J.

This information is sent you to aid you in the apprehension of these boys if it is true that they have deserted.

Respectfully,

(Signed) R. G. Valentine.

Matthew Ankle tells me that Jerome K. Caddotte, said to be a deserter from Carlisle School, is here in Washington, loafing around the streets. Henry Ankle, also a deserter from Carlisle, was in Washington with Caddotte but it is understood that he has left for George Ford's place in Trenton, New Jersey.

Please take the necessary steps to notify the school authorities.
