SONG OF THE FLAG.

Here's a song for the flag, that shall give us
 The freedom and worship we prize;
 'Tis an emblem to us sent from heaven,
 With stars and with hue of the skies;
 Its blue and white are adorning
 The skies when the days are most bright,
 Its red is the blush of the morning,
 Its stars are the lamps of the night.

CHORUS

That flag shall lead to glory
 Our soldiers, true and brave,
 It waves above the Land we love,
 And shall forever wave—
 It tells our heroes' story.
 It tells of liberty.

Yes, it shall wave forever
 The banner of the free—
 Sing! Sing of the flag,
 Sing! Sing to the flag.

O, a nation whose king has arrayed it
 In pomp, with the monarch can fall,
 But our land is what we now have made it.
 The nation belongs to us all;
 Our flag! may glory attend it,
 In battle its triumphs increase;
 In war may we ever defend it,
 And love it forever in peace.

CHORUS

That flag shall lead to glory,
 Our soldiers, true and brave;
 It waves above the Land we love,
 And shall forever wave;
 It tells the heroes' story
 Who died for liberty;
 Yes, it shall wave forever
 The banner of the free.
 Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah!
