

Philadelphia
322 S. 21st. Street.

January 17th. 1902.

My dear Lt. Col. R. H. Pratt.

The invitation to the 23rd.
Anniversary of the Indian Industrial School, is most welcome, though I shall have to decline accepting.
It is delightful to see your promotion; whether, in recognition of the arduous labors you have fought in behalf of the Indians' welfare, I know not - but sure I am, your Friends, who appreciate your untiring efforts, would have you even higher on the U. S. Army rolls. May I ask for a recent Annual Report of the Carlisle School, as I have not seen one, since the Eighteenth Report?

In one of my walks last summer, at Liberty Point, Maine, I strolled on to the Old Fort, where a Sergeant courteously pointed out the many points of interest.
He belonged, I think to the 10th. Cavalry, and esteemed you highly.

Wishing for you a successful Anniversary,
I am
Cordially Yours Mary F. Brown.
