Gen. R. H. Pratt,

Carlisle Pa.

Dear Sir:

I have just learned of your resignation as Sup't of the Indian School and of your treatment by the President.

Allow me to express my sincerest sympathy. It makes a man's blood boil to hear such things. A man's work for others must be unselfish and while human nature remains what it is, will probably always be unappreciated. I hope that you will feel a little more hopeful when you consider the good you have done and the honor in which you are held by all true friends of the Indians.

Yours very truly,

R. W. D. Bryan
