

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION,

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 15, 1879

Dear Captain.

I am much gratified to hear, by your letter of the 9th, that you have succeeded in getting your School established at Carlisle, & that it meets your expectations; as I was satisfied that this would be the case. I hope one of these days to revisit Carlisle & to see your work.

I will take much pleasure in keeping the Dickinson Scholarship for your boy.

Sickemeter is, I believe, doing quite well. I have not seen him since my return.

Sincerely Yours,

W. B. Brewster

Captain R. H. Pratt, U. S. A.

Carlisle.
