

EDWARD W. BIDDLE
CARLISLE, PA.

June 2, 1914.

My dear General Pratt:

Permit me to thank You for a printed copy of the testimony recently taken by a joint Commission in re Carlisle Indian School, a considerable portion of which I have read with much interest, and Mrs B. has also beguiled many spare minutes in its perusal. It is an eye-opener on several points, and of course under the disclosures there presented the Government could properly do nothing else than remove the Supt and the bandmaster - and I presume the coach and a few others will later have to go also.

I suppose that You have noticed in the daily press that Dickinson College has also had trouble with its presiding genius, of which I will talk with You when we meet next time, and give You some of the details. With kindest regards, Faithfully,
E. W. Biddle
