INDORSEMENTS.

The laws relating to the transfer of Indian children from reservations and schools are as follows:

That hereafter no Indian child shall be sent from any Indian reservation to a school beyond the State or Territory in which said reservation is situated without the voluntary consent of the father or mother of such child if either of them are living, and if neither of them are living without the voluntary consent of the next of kin of such child. Such consent shall be made before the agent of the reservation, and he shall send to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs his certificate that such consent has been voluntarily given before such child shall be removed from such reservation. And it shall be unlawful for any Indian agent or other employee of the Government to induce, or seek to induce, by withholding rations or by other improper means, the parents or next of kin of any Indian to consent to the removal of any Indian child beyond the limits of any reservation. (28 Stats., p. 906.)

Provided, That hereafter no Indian child shall be taken from any school in any State or Territory to a school in any other State against its will or without the written consent of its parents. (29 Stats., p. 348.)

The rules provide that—

A pupil who has been regularly enrolled in a nonreservation school must not be taken to any other nonreservation school without the consent of both Superintendents and the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and Superintendents will be held to strict accountability for such pupils taken to their schools.

An Indian boy or girl 18 years old and over may, without the consent of parents or others, personally sign the application form on its being changed to suit the case.

This form is to be used only in transfers from reservations or Indian schools to nonreservation schools.

February 10, 1904.

Mr. Wallace Denny,

Dear friend,

I thought I would write you a short letter, and tell you that I'm still remember of Dear Old Carlisle, and still have some ideas what taught me during my schooling. I would like to thank the school for my learning what Carlisle has taught me.

Some times when I come to think all what I left in my school work, and my trade, I feel so sorry. I believe now reservation school are far better than those Day school in the reservations.

I'm here at the Bismarck Indian School as a farmer or as an employe. We have only a small number of pupils,
all the school^{hold} ^{ing}, some of them, who ^{have} ₁ never went to school
before, are just as good as those who went before. This school has been running little over
two years, glad to say; the school
has made quite lot of improvement.
she has raised, stock of her own
and other things besides the above mentioned. As far as I know
all the Carlisters are living
on their farms, have good homes, and good standing among the best. "Stick to it" is the main motto among the Carlister.
The cold weather don't bother
us a tall, we have deep

snow on the ground, only the places where the roads are, are somewhat hard nice to drive, but very hard driving in other places, due snow.

Well, I will come to an end for this time. I hope the ^{school,} will continue in the very best. I have no doubt you people are well, and full of spirit in your work and in your athletic work.

I remain
Your friend,
Alexander H. Sager.

The Arrow!

Dear friend!

The Arrow is so dear to me
yet, especially ^{when} it reaches way
up here in Dakota, I ~~trust~~ ^{hope}
our mother school will gain
and turned more pupils
out into the world. I have met some of our school
mates very active in farming, and also those who are in service. Some Old Carlisle's are looking forward for the farming
season to come. May I ask
to have this item in paper.
I remain A. W. Sage.

Remarks:

*I was in the service for
two years and made good as farmer
and now at home.*

Alex Sage, an ex-student who went home some time ago, is getting along nicely on a farm near Bismarck, North Dakota. He reports that they are having severe weather out there.

Alexander Sage, ex-student, is now farming his allotment in South Dakota, and getting along finely. 68
1911

In a letter to one of the teachers, Alexander W. Sage, of Bismarck, N. Dakota, says, "I believe the Susan Society debated a good question: Resolved; That the Carlisle student should learn the science of farming. Some farming has been done out here but they need good farmers, so I believe all the students should have some experience in farming." 168

168 A Narrow Escape

Vitalene Jeannott sent last week the Bismarck Tribune containing an account of an exciting experience. Miss Mattie Johnson and Miss Jeannotte are both ex-pupils of Haskell.

The Tribune says in part: "Marooned on a sand bar in the river a short distance below the Indian school, a party of picnickers from the Indian School and Engineer and Mrs. Howe, were saved from drowning last night by Alexander Sage, one of the Indians at the institution who went out in a skiff and rescued them.

The party, consisting of Misses Sholtz, Johnson, Jeanotte, Laderotte, Catherine O'Conner, Messrs. Nichols, Daley, Ray Davis and Engineer and Mrs. Howe, went down to old Fort Abraham Lincoln in a large gasoline launch yesterday morning to spend the day and started back in order to reach the landing before dark. The boat grounded on a sand bar and all efforts made to dislodge it were fruitless. The river is very high at the present time and is full of large trees and timbers that have been washed from the bank, making boating dangerous.

The main channel of the stream is changing near the scene of the accident and washing away the bar upon which the party was caught. It was evident that in an hour at most one side of the bar would be washed away and the boat would keel over in a fifteen foot current. The members of the party became frightened and their cries for assistance were heard at the school by Mrs. Davis, who telephoned to town for help. Mr. Sage started for the river, accompanied by a Mr. Johnson whom he found, and attempted to row out to the party in a small skiff. It was a very hazardous undertaking, considering the condition of the river, and it was only after a long struggle that they succeeded in reaching the launch."
