Robert O. Long, of Sapulpa, Okla., an ex-student, writes:

“You cannot realize how grateful I am to you for your kindness. Such letters are worth more than money.
They give one a new lease on life and give him the courage to stand along in line with the best. One realizes that he is not alone in this great life of toil.”

Dear Sir & Friend

Your letter of last month dated 19th received, but was mislaid and for that reason, I was unable to answer.

You can not realize how grate full I am to you for your kindness.

Words can not express my sincere thanks,

Such little's are worth more than money, it gives one a new lease on life it gives him the courage to stand alony in line with, the best of them

One realizes that he is not alone in this great life of toil

Once more, thanking you for kindness and wishing you all that is good in life. I remain

Sincerely yours
A. H. Long.
