A girl in this home if she manages ~~well~~ may have considerable time to herself as it is a small family and I should judge is a well-regulated one.

Genevieve has been inefficient because she does not put her mind upon her work. She has a very hasty temper which needs controlling. Mrs. Parrin wants a girl for the winter. Genevieve wishes to return to Carlisle for the winter.

Visit made Nov. 25, 1912.

She began school early but up until time of my visit had been in attendance only 35 days and those very irregular. She could do no studying at night. After going into detail with her patron, herself, and her teachers to avoid night work which had to be done in order to keep up with her class I gave her permission to go into sixth grade but made the statement to her teachers and patron that as the 35 days had been so irregular, she would have to have 100 days of regular school work beginning with her work in 6th grade.

Experience

Any general statement or wishes of patron or pupils, together with Agent's estimate of place, people, and pupil:

New patron, Pleasant home.

She says J. is not satisfactory. For the first week she did fairly well. She objected to entering school, but has attended regularly since she started. She is impertinent in manner rather than in words. She has had her trunk packed for a week, trying to find an opportunity to run away. She is so discontented and of such little help, she does not care to keep her and would like to be relieved of her as soon as possible. J. has no complaint of her home. She is kindly treated. She does not like the school. The grade is too hard for her and she is not willing to go to the 6th grade as there is nothing but small children in that grade.
