I worked all one fall one winter and two summers at such labor. since leaving school in the fall of 1909

(Over)

8. What other positions have you held since leaving Carlisle?

None.

9. Tell me anything else of interest connected with your life:

Since coming home in the fall of 1909. I have always been at work. I can not recall any one time, when I sat around the agency in idleness everything has been all work for the benifit of myself. I never was away from home, squandering money or time But that I were working and earning money. Following Below are figures as shown from my book that, is shows my earnings and expenditures Beginning Sept. 14 - 1910 to May 31 - 1911. The cost of food stuffs is beyond belief. while that of clothing. (not stylish) we consider quite reasonable. During the nine months Sept. 14, 1910 to May 31-1911 we spent the total sum of $340.16 for food alone. You would think By the figures that we spread some awful Kingly tables, But that not so. Every table contained none else but plain, well cooked substantial food. $167.65 was spent for a few household furnishings and clothing, concidering the fact that three of us have to be clothed we congratulate ourselves on pulling through the nine months nicely. $55.66 was received in annuities. The following is the way I spent my hard earnings. $307.83 House hold, food, clothing.

37.50 twenty five cords stove wood.

10.75 Garden plowed seeds, tools

25.00 On hand in case of accident etc.

Total earnings for the last nine months Including money spent and the annuities rec'd $381.08 I think that is doing good condsidering the scarcity of labor and small wages. The world wants skilled and experienced workmen now a day the only way to attain that point is to keep at one thing and master it thoroughly. It is better to be Jack of one trade and master it thoroughly than to be Jack of all trades and master of none. We credit the man who fails the Jack of all trades - because he didn't know more about one thing in a trade than he did of another. We find and see as many of them now a days. Instead of mastering one Trade they tried to master all, consequently they were masters of none.
