Miss Annie Coodalook,
1760 Post St.,
San Francisco, Cal.

My dear Friend:

I have your letter of October eighth, and am very glad to hear of your continued progress, and desire for further education. I know that you are getting along nicely from the optimistic tone of your letter. Your address on the Arrow list will be changed in accordance with your wish.

With best wishes, I am,

Very sincerely your friend,

MF:SR

Superintendent.

Barrow, Alaska,
Jan. 25, 1908.

I thought I would drop a few lines to you to-night. I have started my letters now so they will be ready when mail goes next month. Our first winter mail went first of November and it came January 15th; next one will go in February and the second winter mail comes in April and third will be in summer. I suppose when you get this letter it will be in good old summer time at Carlisle. You be sitting on the grass. I can see Carlisle and see them marching. We are having our coldest days and it has been 56 below zero. The sun came back this week from its vacation. It left us November 15 and came back January 22nd—we were so glad to see it—it was dark always, but we burnt lamps all the day for a while, and now we don't.

In summer we never use lamps, and we can read and write all the night if we want to. I wish you could see the Aurora,—all different colors you could see just like you were shaking a ribbon and sometimes it makes noise. The children are afraid of it. We have beautiful moon lights. The ground is covered with snow and ocean is all frozen now and ice mountains away off. We are having cold days now. It has been 56 below zero and we don't feel the cold at all. Our fur clothes keep us warm. We only wear them when we go outside.

The natives had dance this month and it is all over now. They dance all the night; they had big dance for three days. They invited other people from other places near here.

I have found the things changed, and the language is coming back to me; so I can talk and understand little now.

I was very glad when I got here from our long trip. We reached here August 15. The people knew me and they all say, "My, you have grown and fat."

We have very nice school and the children are very bright and most of them talk English.

I have the better ones in school. Sometimes I have about 36 in all and I have them in four classes. I like them very much.

Well, I must close this letter. Much love to you and glad to hear from you any time.

I'm your far-north friend.

Good-by.

ANNIE GOODLOOK.

(This letter arrived here in July.)

Annie Goodlook, an ex-student now living at Riverside, California, writes that she is enjoying the California climate. She always likes to get the ARROW on time, because it seems just like a letter from a friend.

Carlisle Indian School.

Dear friends.

I would just love to attend the Commencement week with you all, I know I would enjoy my staying at Carlisle and to see old school mates,

But I'm sorry to say I will not be there. But my thoughts are always toward dear old Carlisle which had start my way out.

And I wish every student would to their best and get all they can what is Carlisle doing for them.

I often wish I had done my best in every thing I did when I was there. But I'm trying my best now and I thank the school it had started me right. And I know every one who has been to Carlisle will think about the good it has done for them.

Wish every one a success who are going out from school to make their living and those who remain.

Faithfully yours,

Annie Goodalook.
