I went to Carlisle at the age of eight with my sister, then a teacher there. She came west the year after and I came with her. I since have attended Albuquerque school which is only 6.5 miles from my home. I am glad I got a good start at Carlisle.

I am at present staying with my sister, helping her about the house work and with her children.

A good many from about my home have gone to Carlisle at different times. Practically all of them are doing well. All are self supporting, and all who have been to school show it.

Out of our family I have three sisters who attended Carlisle and one brother was there. All of them talk good English, wear american clothes and live well.

Yours truly
