Any general statement or wishes of patron or pupils, together with Agent's estimate of place, people, and pupil:

Enoch Wilson affords a good home for the boys and is a good manager. He wishes to keep both his boys but little Mitchell says his time is out in June and he wishes to go home.

He is young and don't know what he wants. He said he had a notion to stay five years longer and learn a trade.

From what I am able to know about his own home, he is better where he is, than any place he can possibly get.

Mr. Wilson will pay him from five to six dollars this summer and that is good for him.

He ^{Mitchell} is undecided and will write the management soon.

Dear friend:-

I have your letter saying that you are sorry that you have misbehaved and that you will try to be a better boy if you are allowed to stay with Mr. Wilson. I am very glad to have this letter from you and glad to know that Mr. Wilson is willing to keep you and give you another chance to do better.

You were a good boy while you were at the school, I learn, and I have been surprised to know that you were not behaving. You have a good home with every comfort, a good room, good food; the people are kind to you and try to make you happy. You should do all you can to repay them for their kindness to you. I hope now to get only good reports about you for the remainder of the time you are with Mr. Wilson.

Very truly yours,

Superintendent.
