Miss Grace Burnett,

C/o Mallett's, Murdo, Sth. Dak.

My dear Miss Grace:

I thank you for the kind New Year wishes you conveyed to me under recent date. Let me hope in reply that you too will enjoy the year and what it will bring to you.

It is to be regretted that you could not return to Carlisle to complete the course in our Academic Department, but it is hoped that you will not give up your efforts to add to the knowledge and experience you gained while you were with us.

I have made inquiry at our Print Shop about your subscription to the Arrow. It seems that several copies of it were returned unclaimed and that your name was then taken from the list. I am now requesting that your name be again added to the list and your address given as above.

Very sincerely yours,

Superintendent.

Mr. M. Friedman.
Carlisle, Pa.

Dear Mr. Friedman:

I wish you a very happy New year.

This would have been my year
the year I might have graduated but now I am only an ex student and it is all my own fault.

I wanted, very much, to return to Carlisle, this fall but I could not, as there was lots of work to be done on our ranche and "hired men" are scarce just about that time, so I had to help.

I was not relieved until Dec. 15,
and by that time it was too late to return.

I am now helping with the house work and find lots of time for pleasures, such as horse-back riding, skating and sleighing.

Our first snow fell one day in September, and our second storm was the 3rd of January, something like Pennsylvania don't you think?

As far as I know all the ex-students of Carlisle, (Rosebuds) are ^{doing} well.

I get lonesome for Carlisle every time I read the Arrow, but I can't do without the little paper.

Sincerely Yours
Grace Barnett

Any general statement or wishes of patron or pupils, together with Agent's estimate of place, people, and pupil:

Handsome home - suburban place - near Philadelphia - one of best patrons - motherly, kind, woman, excellent house-keeper, Miss Grace is not satisfactory; she is inexperienced and indifferent to her work; does not try, is very much disappointed in her and does not care to keep her. Because of her restlessness to return to home, girl has neglected her work.

Girl says father has recently placed money at Carlisle to buy her a ticket for her return home.
