Such consent shall be made before the agent of the reservation, and he shall send to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs his certificate that such consent has been voluntarily given before such child shall be removed from such reservation. And it shall be unlawful for any Indian agent or other employee of the Government to induce, or seek to induce, by withholding rations or by other improper means, the parents or next of kin of any Indian to consent to the removal of any Indian child beyond the limits of any reservation. Provided, that hereafter no Indian child shall be taken from any school in any State or Territory to a school in any other State against its will or without the written consent of its parents. (29 Stats., p. 348.)

The rules provide that—

A pupil who has been regularly enrolled in a nonreservation school must not be taken to any other nonreservation school without the consent of both Superintendents and the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and Superintendents will be held to strict accountability for such pupils taken to their schools.

An Indian boy or girl 18 years old and over may, without the consent of parents or others, personally sign the application form on its being changed to suit the case.

My dear Madam:

I have just received your letter reporting that your son has gone to work on a railroad dinning car. While the work he is doing is entirely honorable, I do not believe there is much of a future to it, or that Jefferson can afford to devote very much of his time to work of that nature.

It is to be regretted that he did not make better use of his time at Carlisle, but I assure you that I am just as anxious to have him succeed as if he had continued with his studies here.

Very truly yours,

COOKS ON M. & S. P. PASSENGER

J. L. Duncan, Carlisle Sophomore and Football Player, Puts in Vacation as Second Chef on Diner.

OWNS VALUABLE FARM LAND IN SOUTH DAKOTA

Intends to Till Soil When He Finishes Course at Big Government School—Has Emergency Occupation.

TACOMA, Wednesday, July 2.—If railroad dining car menu cards bore the names of the chefs, with brief biographies here is what would appear on the bills of fare of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul's transcontinental train, the Olympian, which left for the East yesterday:

"Second chef—J. L. Duncan, Sioux Indian; sophomore in Carlisle School, substitute tackle on last season's varsity football team, college friend of the famous Jim Thorpe; home address, Thunderhawk, S. D.; property interests, 160 acres of finest farming land in South Dakota; future life work, farming; emergency occupation, sign painter; cuts fine figure on ballroom floor, nifty dresser, interesting conversationalist; more than six feet tall and of wiry, athletic physique."

A lot more could be added. Duncan is the first and only Sioux ever to preside at the range of a railroad dining car. He is now completing his first round trip in the dining car kitchen, and, as he likes the work, will stick to the job during the summer vacation. In the fall he will return to Carlisle, where he is slated for varsity tackle next football season.

To Cook During Summer.

Duncan left Carlisle at the end of the college year a fortnight ago. Like many other college boys, he puts in his vacation earning money to help tide him through the period of study and football. The husky young Sioux reached Chicago and looked around to see what he could lay his hand to. He bumped into the job of third cook, or dishwasher on the Olympian and grabbed it. This was a week ago. The second day out from Chicago he was promoted to second chef—not second cook. The second chef really cooks and therefore is entitled to the more dignified title.

Duncan earned the promotion by giving strict attention to business. It was the first time he ever had toyed with the culinary art to any extent, but he made good from the jump-off. According to the chief chef, the big Sioux has the making of a culinary artist.

"It's a great experience," said the Sioux before the train pulled out yesterday. "I wanted to see the country, and, believe me, I am seeing it in wholesale tracts from the dining car window. I'll stay with the job to September 1, then back to Carlisle."

Dear Sir

I rec'd your letter and will say my son
Jefferson has arrived ^{home} all right and we want him home, we just sent him to school
so he could find out how it was to be a
young stranger and thought he would appreciate home better

if he would not learn
any thing at school
there is no use keeping him there, he can get plenty work here & better wages, he has a good home and can work for himself
we are not running
down your school
and think it a good place
if they take an interest there, but if they wont learn, there is no use
to keep them there.

I am sorry he made
you all that trouble
he is past 18. years old and I think it
