I have your letter of January thirteenth, and found the application which you submitted for the enrollment of your daughter. This has been filed, and we shall take very good care of her and endeavor to give her the best education which Carlisle affords.

I was pleased to have you as a guest at Carlisle for a few days, as in this way you could look more closely into its work and various activities, and gain a better insight into the spirit of both the student-body and the faculty. Whenever you are in this part of the country, stop over, we shall be very glad to see you.

My dear Sir:

well I have noted the definite information you so kindly conveyed to me in your favor of September the 11th, and I am now in a position to know better whether the young people who have applied to you for transfer to Carlisle should be accepted. Very respectfully,

In regard to the request that has been made by the mother of the Raiche girls, I will state that I should like to co-operate with you to carry out her desires, but, under the law, transportation cannot be furnished for the younger girl until she has reached the age of fourteen.

The Cecelia Harto you have also recommended for enrolment here was a student at Carlisle from January the 12th to June the 3rd of 1913. It seems that shortly after her arrival here she complained to her grandfather, Mr. Antoine Denomie, that she did not get enough sugar for her coffee and not as much butter as she was accustomed to have at her home. In view of the fact that Cecelia may not get exactly

These people haven't any funds at their disposal with which to pay the younger girl's carfare to Carlisle and the mother was pretty anxious that I should write you and ascertain as to whether or not arrangements could not be made for both the girls to go and that transportation be placed at their disposal.

Dear Sir:

Referring to your letter of the 3d instant concerning the transfer to Carlisle of four Odanah girls, the mother of the Raiche girls spoke to me today about the question of Margaret's ineligibility because of her age.

These two girls are exceptionally bright and clever Indians, and have finished a very satisfactory course in the Sisters' School at Odanah.

The mother is very anxious that they both go to Carlisle and she of course wants the younger girl to go with the older one, notwithstanding the fact that she is two months under age.

These people haven't any funds at their disposal with which to pay the younger girl's carfare to Carlisle and the mother was pretty anxious that I should write you and ascertain as to whether or not arrangements could not be made for both the girls to go and that transportation be placed at their disposal.

and that as far as I can ascertain they would make desirable pupils.

Sister Macaria Murphy I believe has given you their names as being eligible for transfer and in view of their record in the Catholic School at Odanah I can, without any hesitancy, recommend them as desirable pupils for Carlisle.

Will you not kindly advise me as to accepting the younger Raiche girl so I can let the mother know what she can expect in the matter?

I will report later upon the matter of the Starr and Bemessay boys who have also filed applications for admittance to your school.

I am not so sure about the desirability of the latter young man as his reputation in the past has been far from being above reproach.

Respectfully,
