That hereafter no Indian child shall be sent from any Indian reservation to a school beyond the State or Territory in which said reservation is situated without the voluntary consent of the father or mother of such child if either of them are living, and if neither of them are living without the voluntary consent of the next of kin of such child. Such consent shall be made before the agent of the reservation, and he shall send to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs his certificate that such consent has been voluntarily given before such child shall be removed from such reservation. And it shall be unlawful for any Indian agent or other employee of the Government to induce, or seek to induce, by withholding rations or by other improper means, the parents or next of kin of any Indian to consent to the removal of any Indian child beyond the limits of any reservation. Mr. Richard Watson,

Newtown, Pa.

My dear Dick:

I am in receipt of your letter of January 20, 1918 in which you tell me of what you did on Christmas day and your reason for spending the night away from home.

I am quite sure that you realize that you gained nothing but trouble by drinking liquor. This is always true. Liquor is the greatest trouble bringer that I know of. It has done a tremendous lot of harm to the Indians and as I want you to grow up into a good man, I want you to learn to leave liquor alone. I am glad that you have written me and told me all about it because I know that temptation comes to all of us but we must learn to be strong so that we can overcome it. Your last Christmas should be a lesson to you and show you how foolish it is to drink and this lesson should make you so strong that you will not give up again when temptation is around. My boy, I want you to become a good man, a credit to yourself and to your Father and Mother and to Carlisle and you can't do that if you don't leave liquor alone.

Goodbye my boy, I wish you all sorts of good luck and I am sure that my next report about you will be fine.

Sincerely yours,

UNCLE WHO?

When you're confined to quarters
 And you are layin' in your tent,
 And you've got a canteen headache,
 And your last two bits is spent,
 And you're homesick for your mother,
 And nobody gives a damn,
 Then you're working for your Uncle,
 Uncle who,—why Uncle Sam.

When you wake up in the mornings
 And the flies buzz in your tent,
 And you sort of start to wonder,
 How your wife will pay the rent,
 And the doctor has your number
 So you can't pull any sham,
 Then you're working for your Uncle,
 Uncle who,—why Uncle Sam.

When they slam you in the guard house
 'Cause you wouldn't shovel dirt,
 And your heart is sort of aching,
 And your feet are tired and hurt,
 And you're waiting for court martial
 Feelin' glum as any clam,
 Then you're working for your Uncle,
 Uncle who,—why Uncle Sam.

For you can't fool round your Uncle,
 He's a sort of ornery gent.
 Where you used to make a dollar,
 Now he pays you 'bout a cent.
 Just obey each little order
 And don't growl about the chow,
 For you're down here on the border
 And you're in the army now.

Dear Sir:-

Your letter enclosing a draft of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) to be placed to the credit of Richardson Watson, was received several days ago. This amount has been placed in bank for him and will be given to him from time to time as he requests it.

I have asked the Director of Mechanic Arts regarding the work Richardson is doing here. He tells me that Richardson is taking the prevocational work which requires that he spend 10 weeks each in the different shops. He worked in the Mason Shop the first period and is now working in the Shoe Shop. This is only half days, the other half day he goes to school. He is getting along all right so far.

Dear Mr. Francis:

Responsive to your letter of the 5th instant, the Field Clerk at Ardmore, Oklahoma, reports unfavorably on the request of Richardson Watson to spend the vacation at home. He states that the mother, a widow, is strongly opposed to her children attending school and that if Richardson is permitted to come home she will in all probability prevent his return to school next fall.

Pursuant to the report of the Field Clerk it is recommended that Richardson remain at Carlisle.

Dear Richardson:-

I have your letter saying that you want to go home or return to the school but you give no reason for wanting these things. You do not seem to understand that when you signed to go under the cutting this fall, you obligated yourself to remain until the end of the fall cutting which would be next spring. Now unless there is better cause for a change, you would better abide by your agreement and remain with Mr. Stapler until spring.

I received your November report from Mr. Stapler and am glad to have it so good. You want to continue doing well and learn all you can in school this winter.

Dear Sir:-

I have your letter saying that the guardian of Richardson Watson has had a letter from him in which he tells him that he is away from the school now and located at Newtown, Pennsylvania.

This is true but he is still under our jurisdiction. Early last month he expressed a desire to try the winter in one of our outing homes and so he was placed with Mr. Horace Stapler a farmer living near Newtown. As far as we know he is getting along all right. He will attend school all day and work out of school hours for his board and care.

I enclose a copy of our Rules and Regulations concerning the Outing so that you may know exactly under what conditions Richardson has been placed out.

I assume that he surely is not out of school but perhaps is down there doing some work that has been assigned by the school, however, the guardian is very anxious to find out about this matter and asked that I write you to determine just what the situation is.

I would be very glad to have an early reply stating the whereabouts of this boy and if he is yet in school.

Dear Richardson:-

I received your letters asking to be returned to the school and referred one of them to Mr. Stapler. You said in this letter that the reason you did not want to remain out was because you did not get enough to eat and were losing flesh.

I am sorry to learn through Mr. Stapler that you did not tell me the truth about this. He tells me that you eat heartily and that you are gaining in weight. I am disappointed because we thought you were a good and honorable boy, above telling falsehoods and untruths. I hope you will never do this again.

Mr. Stapler reports that you left his home Christmas eve and did not return to him until Christmas night. You know it is against the rules for you to do this. You know what punishment would be given you here if you absented yourself from the quarters for a whole night and day. Where were you? I want you to write me about this.

I hope I will not need to put anything more against your record while you are under the outing.

Dear Sir. -

In reply to this letter I do not believe Richardson Watson's reason for returning to Carlisle is true.

There is plenty on my table and of good quality and he eats heartily and is gaining in flesh.

He does not want to go to school, and as he has not enough warm underwear and proper foot wear for such cold weather. I think he should have a pair of felt boots and an overcoat.

Richardson Watson's work is satisfactory to me.

I can see no ^{good} reason for his wanting to return to Carlisle.
