INDORSEMENTS.

The laws relating to the transfer of Indian children from reservations and schools are as follows:

That hereafter no Indian child shall be sent from any Indian reservation to a school beyond the State or Territory in which said reservation is situated without the voluntary consent of the father or mother of such child if either of them are living, and if neither of them are living without the voluntary consent of the next of kin of such child. Such consent shall be made before the agent of the reservation, and he shall send to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs his certificate that such consent has been voluntarily given before such child shall be removed from such reservation. And it shall be unlawful for any Indian agent or other employee of the Government to induce, or seek to induce, by withholding rations or by other improper means, the parents or next of kin of any Indian to consent to the removal of any Indian child beyond the limits of any reservation. (28 Stats., p. 906.)

Provided, That hereafter no Indian child shall be taken from any school in any State or Territory to a school in any other State against its will or without the written consent of its parents. (29 Stats., p. 348.)

The rules provide that—

A pupil who has been regularly enrolled in a nonreservation school must not be taken to any other nonreservation school without the consent of both Superintendents and the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and superintendents will be held to strict accountability for such pupils taken to their schools.

An Indian boy or girl 18 years old and over may, without the consent of parents or others, personally sign the application form on its being changed to suit the case; but in all cases where the parents are living they should first be consulted.

However, you will know what amount she should be allowed to expend while she is in school and whatever action you take I will explain to the girl.

My dear Mr. Lipps:

Replying to your letter of the 13th, concerning the family of Alice Schuyler, you may say to her that her mother was in the office last week, and appears to be as well as usual. The mother, Mrs. Hill, writes with difficulty, and writes only when she feels that she must do so. She has a large family, and doubtless has but little money for postage. You can assure Alice, however, that her mother is well.

Dear Sir:

I inclose a letter from Alice Schuyler, complaining of certain things. It is of course undesirable for her to come home unless she should prove thoroughly intractable.

Her mother was insane for a time, and she has one sister and a brother now in the asylum, and it would not be surprising if Alice should prove to be mentally unbalanced.

Very sincerely yours,

J. C. Hart.

Dear Sir:

Some time ago Alice Schuyler came to me with a request that I send to you for $35.00 of her money in your hands. She wanted $25.00 of this amount to pay for a suit which she had ordered.

As we considered a suit costing $25.00 was entirely beyond her means I did not write you at that time for the money, knowing that you would not approve of her having this amount to spend for what she wanted.

Will you please let me know how much money she has in your hands. If you approve of her having a small amount for some clothing which she wishes to purchase before going home, you can send a check made payable to me as superintendent.

Very truly yours,

D:R

Superintendent.
