Robert seemed to be contented in his country home but I found his room and clothes in poor condition. Room dirty and clothes thrown about and in untidy condition.

The outside appearance of this home is good and inside fair till I reached the third story where Robert roomed and I found no attempt had been made to keep the room in order. I asked the lady to wash Roberts clothes and clean his room which she consented to do.

This is to acknowledge receipt of your favor of December the 4th and to advise you that Robert Little Hawk has arrived here. I thank you for giving me such detailed information regarding the young man and your wishes as to the preparation you desire he shall have in order that he can learn how to handle his property when he is no longer in school.

Our Disciplinarian, Mr. Griffiths, has also read your letter and will know how best to help Robert to make the best possible use of his time with as little danger as may be possible to his health.

In this connection I must report that the check for $100.00 you advised was being transmitted with your letter was not found enclosed when the letter was received here. I hope the check has been located before this and mailed.

Mr. O. H. Lipps,

My Dear Mr. Lipps:

Robert Little Hawk started for Carlisle a few days ago in response to your telegram that you would receive him. I trust that he will arrive there in due time, and this letter is to explain to you something of his home and financial conditions.

Robert is now about nineteen years old and has to his credit here $4553.28. He also has an allotment and is heir to quite extensive real estate interests in addition.

His people are all dead except some distant relatives, the nearest probably is Henry Horse Looking, one of Carlisle's first pupils. Henry and I have taken Robert in hand somewhat and the two of us together have induced him to return. When he came home last summer I feared his physical condition was such as would cause him to go as other members of his family have gone, but at the time of leaving here he was looking quite well.

Mr. O. H. Lipps 2.

In view of his heavy financial interests here and that he is the last of his family, I very much desire that you keep him at Carlisle and give him a good education, particularly such training as will enable him to handle his business affairs in the future. I would extend a word of caution in regard to his health, and that he would not be allowed to take up indoor lines of work. I am transmitting herewith $100.00 of his money which will be for his use during the year and for his return fare next summer in case it is agreed between you that he should come back. In all these matters, I have the hearty co-operation of his uncle who is quite loyal to his old school.

Very respectfully,

Dear Sir:

Replying to your letter of the 22nd instant relative to the $100.00 transferred to you for the account of Robert Little Hawk, would say the amount for Little Hawk's transportation to your school should be deducted from this $100.00 to reimburse you for the money you ~~used~~^{expended} for the ticket from Valentine.

It was my intention to have Little Hawk purchase the ticket with his own funds from Valentine, but through an inadvertency Little Hawk used one of the tickets which you had placed at Valentine for transportation for other pupils.

I trust the mistake will not inconvenience you in any way, and that Robert is getting along very well.

Last summer Robert Little Hawk purchased a saddle horse for $125 and a saddle for about $45. In a letter written by him to one of his friends here he said that he had given the horse to Henry Horse Looking. I have just had a talk with Henry and he says the he is keeping the horse until Robert returns when he will be turned over to Robert again. He says that he does not know where the saddle is, and it is not improbable that Robert has disposed of it. Please interview Robert and find out what he has done with the saddle and advise me.

Dear Sir:-

Will you please get into communication with Mr. Henry Horse Looking, the guardian of Robert Little Hawk, one of our pupils, and find out from him whether it would be advisable to send Robert home at this time.

Robert is in one of our outing homes now but has an idea that he would like to go to his home this month. I have written him urging him to stay where he is until fall. I have also told him that I would write you about his going home and that we would await your decision.

Very truly yours

Superintendent.
