LET US NOT FORGET AS NATION DOES HONOR TO MOTHERHOOD OF AMERICA

Hey! Fellows, 'member when Ma used to make pie for "Skinney" "Red", "Fat" and fix it with Pa when we played hookey!

In many of the churches throughout our country "Mothers Day" will be celebrated May 12th. It is a day especially set apart in reverence and respect for the motherhood of America.

Son, what about your mother? Stop for a moment, permit your memory to drift back over the days and the years of your childhood, your youth.

Son, think about your mother. There is no personality that figures more prominently in the making of a man's life nor any influence more potent in the building of character than that of a good mother.

What the world owes to good mothers, who have sacrificed themselves with all joy that they might live again in their children, no statistician will ever be able to adequately determine.

President Lincoln said "All that I am, I owe to my mother,"

When General Grant was at West Point he wrote to his mother, "Your kind words of admonition are ever present with me. How well do they strengthen me in every good word and work. Should I become a soldier for my country, I look forward with hope to have you spared to share with me any advancement I might gain, and I trust that my future conduct will prove worthy of you, my mother."

When James A. Garfield was inaugurated President of the United States, after taking the oath of office, he turned and kissed mother in the sight of the assembled multitude.

Many good traits made William McKinley dear to the hearts to the American people, but nothing more than the love, honor and respect which he always displayed toward his age mother.

Son, if your mother is still living, forget not her goodness to you.

Think of the days of sickness when through the long weary hours of the night she sat by your bed-side and nursed you back to health and strength.

Think of the days of toil and labor, of anxiety and worry, to feed and clothe and train you, and she did it all willingly and gladly for you. No sacrifice was too great, no self denial so costly, but that her love for you made it a pleasure.

Son, tell her now that you love her. Show her by your life, your words, your deeds that you appreciate her devotion. Write her today, and when you go home on leave, kiss the faded lips, hold in yours the hands that did so many loving deeds for you, and scatter some flowers in her pathway.

Don't wait to put all the flowers on her grave and to engrave nice sentiments on her tombstone.

Do it now!

"HAPPY HOUR" SHOWS WE HAVE SOME TALENT IN THE ROPED ARENA

Wrestling and boxing matches feature our first smoker of the season—More's the merrier!

One of two things is certain.— Either we'll have another Happy Hour which will be better than the last one, or we won't. If we do, well, all hands will be on deck and the Big U will have the pleasure of telling you and your friends about it later. But in case we don't, we want to remark here that this first big event of the year made it clear to us that we have some undeveloped boxing talent aboard, which when whipped into shape, will show up a few of those would-be professionals that we find pictured in the pink sheet.

Let's look 'em over one by each:

Hidden talent was widely exposed in the ring during the happy hour. Experts of known reputation including Rosewinkle of the Pay gang and Carver of the bugle staff have stated unofficially that the seven bouts staged would average up to their best days. They were as follows:—

The beatenest bit of breezy boxing was the first bout. "Smile, On-the-Face" Wolf descendent of the famous chief Rain-In-The-Face of the ~~Cher~~ ~~oke-ees~~ [Jimmy's pronunciation] met with the mailed fist of the mug of Mandero, another chieftain of the first division. Each had a lively punch, and showed a piece of clever agreement by not using it. Their sparring was entertaining at that, but we hope on their next appearance their agreement won't be so friendly.

Then Miller and Josephson of the sixth came on for four rounds, which were not so friendly. Miller's superior weight made him the aggressor and Josephson fought from the ropes most of the time. If anything the smaller man showed the more skill, but this was counterbalanced by Miller's heavy slugging and gave the latter the decision.

The fur flew in a fast fight for four rounds when the next bout was staged. In this event Cooper of the seventh, met with a few heavy salvos fired by Solomon of the same division. However, it is believed if the same bout was staged for the next smoker for two cents or more and let Murphy Stein referee the results would be different.

"Me fittey inybody" chirped a shrill voice from the balcony whereupon Senor Beltran, star mess attendant, challenged any one "No care who" in the 120 pound class. Mercradante, former commander in chief of the water hold, accepted the challenge of the Far Easterner. Flashes of clever snappy work were staged by our young Beltran but Mercradante had the experienced eye, took it smooth and got the decision.

In true Jack Johnson form! Shorty Baily met and conquered Roe. Heavy was the cir style, and their inability to make misses was marked. Neither took more than was given. Bailey felt a few in the second round, but in the third Roe met the deck twice the second time for a count out. It is hinted both fighters came out of the ring with black eyes.

Varnum and Tubeville, both from the fire rooms, made antagonistic demonstration which appealed to the spectators. Not only did the ringside fans enjoy some swift fighting but they also enjoyed an original Hula Hula donated by Varnum during the process of the fight. Tubeville was cool and deliberate but he had a small Rosewinkle down in front on which a few of Varnum's salvos landed to his (Tubeville's) greet displeasure. Varnum won the fight.

Thompson put up a fair demonstration of clever boxing in an exhibition bout with Krum, the blacksmith. The latter was very clever with his mits. If you don't beleive it, ask him. He pulled off a few grandstand stunts, which had they been called for would have shown scientific origin. It is hoped that he does better against the ex-featherweight champion King from the Arizona in our next happy hour.

Gamsey and Riley started the wrestling for the evening. Each showed that the mat was familiar to him some time in the past, but both were handicapped in that provision for their training has been overlooked. Casper and Watts of the black gang also showed a pretty exhibition of brawn and muscle. Gamsey threw Riley in seven minutes but at the end of the allotted nine minutes neither Casper nor Watts had been matted and a draw resulted

HEARD AROUND THE CASEMATES

The Yeoman accepted the challenge of the First Division crossing bats with them last Sunday morning. The ink-slingers come out on top to the tune of 6 to 5. House pitched a splendid game for the yeoman; "Duke" with a little better support might have turned tide in favor of the foc'sle gang. But then you know "Wop", even if the pen is mightier than the sword, you can lick them the "other way".

Cavitt spends a great deal of the time on the "roof" of late. He wants to be sure to be on hand when we pass the mail-buoy. He used to get mail oftener, he says, out yonder in the West where the stage coach runs reg'lar

The Editor announce definitely that they will not run a marti monial column even if the loss of Etienne's subscription is threatened.

P. A. Prewett left the ship yesterday steering for the GREAT OUT SIDE; right rudder, an' come back, Old Shipmate.

On a recent entrance into port, one of our Rookies went ashore and, trying to become real seagoing proceeded to wet his vitals with aromatic spirits of booze. On returning to the ship next morning he carried a half pint in his sock, and a goodly supply in his stomach. Coming aboard, he shook hands with the O. O. D. greeting him, "How are you, Old Top!" The O. O. D. grasping the situation called, "Messenger, jump down, tell the Corporal-of-the-Guard and the Master-at-Arms to come here." This worried the Rookie; he took the O. O. D. confidentially by the arm and whispered in his ear, "I have a heart! an' lay off that rough stuff, don't invite all your friends. I've only got a half a pint."

Our good old friend and shipmate, Mr. Dooflickit, J. O. D. reports: "All deadlights out! Ship is darkened, sir!"

The Fightin' Sixth is living up to her reputation. Black eyes are popular as they are all taking a hand in training their battlers for the next smoker.

I am in receipt of the printed card dated February 3, 1918. After eliminating the scratched out sentences, I see it permits you to tell me that you are quite well, that you received my letter and that you are going to write me at the first opportunity. This last statement delights me. I am wondering, however, whether you overlooked marking this sentence out or whether you do intend to write me, I hope you do because I want to hear from you.

We have had a very hard winter here. The snow has been about three feet deep and we have forgotten what the grass looks like. In spite of this trouble, however, we have managed to have a very happy winter.

Last night the Maverick Club gave a performance in the auditorium. Nick Lassa, Francis Ojibway and John Leroy were prominent performers. You would have laughed yourself sick at their nonsense.

Mr. Bishop Littlewolf,

Naytahwaush, Minnesota.

My dear Sir:

Your son William has returned here from his outing home and at his request it will now be arranged so that he can go to his home. He is entitled to that privilege on account of the termination of his period of enrollment and plans are being made so that he can leave here with other boys from this school who are to start on next Wednesday evening, June the 7th. A ticket for his use to Mahnomen will be provided.

William has done well at his outing home with one exception and as he has improved it is hoped it can be so arranged that his return here can be effected in time for him to resume his studies on the opening day of school in September.

Very truly yours,

HKM.

Remarks and recommendations of superintendent with reference to eligibility and need of Federal aid:

Superintendent.

NOTE.—One of these blanks should be filled out by each pupil at Government boarding schools, preferably with the assistance of the superintendent or some one designated to act as his representative. If the superintendent is of opinion from the information given that the pupil is entitled to enrollment he should so indicate by signing the blank in the proper place and filing in the individual pupil's folder. In the case of pupils concerning whose eligibility or need of Government aid there is some doubt, superintendents should make proper remarks and recommendations in the space indicated and forward the form to the Indian Office for consideration.

J. H. Hinton,
Supt. White Earth Agency,
White Earth, Minn.

Dear Sir:

William Little Wolf, one of our pupils from your reservation, comes to me this morning and asks if it can be arranged for his brother Henry Little Wolf to come to Carlisle. He says Henry is at present attending the White Earth boarding school and he understands that his father has died recently and that Henry has no regular home now. He seemed anxious to have his brother Henry come to Carlisle, and I told him that I would write you and get your advice and recommendation. If you approve of this young man's enrolling at Carlisle, I can make room for him here provided he has money to pay his own transportation to Carlisle. Our transportation fund is about exhausted now and I am not accepting any pupils excepting those who can pay their own way here.

I am enclosing application blank so that in case you approve of this boy's enrollment, you can have him fill out this blank and return it to me for approval.

William is doing so nicely here that I would be

Dear Sir:-

Replying to your letter of the 25th inst relative to a check for $27.11 for William Little Wolf, which was not enclosed in a letter to him stating that it was enclosed, I have to say that the failure to do this was the fault of one of the clerks in my office. The check was forwarded to William yesterday and he should have it now.

My dear Sir:

William Little Wolf of this Station, who was formerly a pupil of your School, has just brought a letter to my office, in which you state that you are enclosing to him a check for $27.11.

Wolf states that there was no check in the letter when he received it and he feared that it was removed by someone. I would suggest that you stop payment on this check at once, as it evidently has gotten into wrong hands.

I have advised Wolf to notify me if he hears anything further of the check.

Very respectfully,
