Such consent shall be made before the agent of the reservation, and he shall send to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs his certificate that such consent has been voluntarily given before such child shall be removed from such reservation. And it shall be unlawful for any Indian agent or other employee of the Government to induce, or seek to induce, by withholding rations or by other improper means, the parents or next of kin of any Indian to consent to the removal of any Indian child beyond the limits of any reservation. (28 Stats., p. 906.)

An Indian boy or girl 18 years old and over may, without the consent of parents or others, personally sign the application form on its being changed to suit the case.

My dear Mr. Types:

I have received your letter of recent date, in which you convey the sad information that your daughter Celestine died last August. The news came as a surprise and I extend you my heartfelt sympathy in your bereavement. I am sure her other friends here at school join me in such expressions of regret and sympathy.

Very sincerely yours,

My dear Miss Gaither.

This evening I have the opportunity of writing you a note. Now first of all we are well here at my country home and it snowed rather hard this morning so the snow is very deep and we didn't have any school so I stayed home all day. I guess you already know that they are planning for me to come in this spring. Now, Miss Gaither, I just hate to go back and leave the folks and I have such a splendid home and I don't care to go back for I want to stay here this summer and learn how to cook and all kinds of things along that line. I am getting along just fine on my studies and my work too.

I stand as high as any one in my class and I never get into trouble in school either. I might as well stay than to go back and eat the same gravy. While here I get good things to eat. I often wonder why it is that my father wants me to go in, but I never can see any reason, unless some one is influencing him. Will you please attend to this matter for me?

I think I have written longer than I expected to. I will stop.

With much love to you.

Sincerely Celestine Taylor.

C/o Geo. S. Fox.

March. 4. 1909.

Mrs. Mollie B. Gault.

The news of the death last August, at her home in Spalding, Idaho, of Celestine Types, was a shock to her former teachers, since upon her leaving the school they entertained great hopes of her entire recovery. Celestine was a good girl, beloved by her friends, of whom she had a large number, and who will remember her sweet disposition and gentle Christian soul.
