Mr Friedman,

Supp.

Dear School father,

Though I have been silent for a long time, yet my mind is always back to good old Carlisle.

The Arrow comes to our home every week; my wife and I are always watching for the welcome visitor. As we are both Carlisle students.

My wife was Lulu Coates.

I wanted to go to your Commencement, but could not go, and hope that next time I can go.

I am not a wealthy man,
but have a fine home
of my own, with apple orchard ~~and~~, pears, and cherries, and everything is in bloom now, and it is certainly pleasant, and all that I own has been made since I graduated Carlisle.

I shall never forget our Class motto was "Leading not following." The things that I have learned at Carlisle
could not be bought from me for large sum of money.

I am also glad the experience I had when I had charge a Company of small boys. As I have four children three girls and one boy; Hermon, Grace, Geraldine and Goldie.

I am glad to see so many doing well.

Wishing you a great success in your effort, both in educating the Indians, and convincing the public that ~~it~~ is there is use in educating the Indians.

Sincerely yours,

Edgar H. Rickard

Dear School Father:-

With great regret, I must say that opportunity did not permit me to be there. I had arranged that I should be at your Commencement, when you sent me the invitation.

But just about that time I was appointed by my tribe to go to Washington D. C. to settle a deal for the Tuscaroras, and for that reason could not be

inspires me to hear some one encourage another in the line of improving the human kind.

Education if put into use is the greatest thing that one can have, and is only one thing that can not be taken away by another as other honors are sometimes taken away by another.

Wishing you many success in your effort to enlighten my race of people.

Yours, Class '01.

TUSCARORAS O U S I OLD LEADERS

Chief Grant Mount Pleasant Ends Long Reign—W. J.
Johnson His Successor.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., April 15.—A complete overthrow of the old regime was accomplished at the annual election of the Tuscarora nation, on the Indian reservation, last week.

Chief Grant Mount Pleasant, who has been president of the council of chiefs and in charge of the nation for a number of years, was defeated by William J. Johnson. George D. Rickard defeated Isaac Patterson for vice-president. E. H. Rickard defeated William Mount Pleasant for secretary.

Jefferson J. Chew was elected treasurer in the place of the new president, who formerly held the office and George Williams was elected collector in place of Chew who was advanced to treasurer. Frederick Pickard, Alvin Printup and J. Chew were named as wood inspectors for the year. Jerry Thompson was elected janitor of the council house.
