CARLISLE GUARD DIES AFTER OPERATION

Louis Godfrey, Chippewa, Is Victim of Footballism.

[Special Reported Herald and Journal.]

CARLISLE, Pa., Dec. 5.—Football indirectly claimed a victim here this afternoon in the unexpected death of Louis Godfrey, popular six-foot right guard on this year's Carlisle Indian football eleven, from embolism, immediately following an operation on an infected knee.

He was one of the most popular Indian players, a Chippewa, with residence at Cloquet, Minn., and injured his knee early in the season. Dr. Harvey Smith, a state capital surgeon, was called to Carlisle today to operate. A blood clot resulting from the operation caused death.

He was 20 years old and this was his first season of football. He and his brother Frank flanked the Indian centres this year, and both, though inexperienced, played well. He intended to become a baker, and would have been graduated in three years.

INDIAN, HURT IN PENN GAME, NOT SERIOUS

CARLISLE, Pa., Nov. 27—The Carlisle Indian foot ball team came out of the Penn game in good shape physically. Louis Godfrey was banged around the head and had several contusions which are not expected to result seriously. Casey Jones, who was reported as being badly injured in the Pennsylvania game and suffering from concussion of the brain and sprained ligaments, returned to Carlisle with the Indian aggregation and walked from the train to the school hospital, where he is being cared for now.

He will be out in a few days. A strained ligament is the only thing giving the youthful centre any trouble. The Redskins speak in highest terms of their opponents of Saturday and are none the worse off for the contest.

Mrs. Susan Godfrey,

209 Third St., Cloquet, Minn.

My dear Madam:

When your two sons were seen at this office today about the complaint in your letter of June 14th that they have not written to you for over a month Louis stated that he wrote you several days ago. He also claimed that he has been writing to you every week.

Frank did not have very much to say for himself except that he had to be taken out of school before the end of the year because he would not do his work and it was believed advisable not to bother with him at all in school. For that reason his reports for the last months of the school year could not be submitted to you.

Trusting that you will continue to keep in close touch with us about your sons and that a more favorable report can be made soon regarding Louis's work, I am,

Very respectfully,

HJM.

The Honorable
Commissioner of Indian Affairs,
Washington, D. C.

Sir:

I have just telegraphed you as follows:

"Louis Godfrey died at Carlisle
Hospital 12:30 yesterday afternoon."

The delay in sending this information was due to the fact that I was absent in Philadelphia under Office instructions and did not return until late last night.

Louis Godfrey was a member of the Carlisle foot ball team and has taken part in most of the games during the season. He played in the Carlisle-Penn game on November 24th, and in the second quarter of the first half he was tackled by an opponent. His nose was fractured and his knee was sprained. I am advised that he continued in the game until its conclusion. He then returned to Carlisle with the rest of the team.

On Sunday morning he walked up to the Hospital to see the Doctor who gave him medical attention and suggested that he stay in the Hospital and rest his leg. Louis felt that his injuries were small and insisted on leaving the Hospital. The Doctor permitted this thinking he was going to the quarters, instead of which Louis walked to town to buy a paper and walked back to the school, a distance of two miles. In the afternoon his leg pained him very severely. He was then assisted to the Hospital and put in bed and given every attention. His knee swelled very rapidly and the pain increased. Efforts were made to control the pain and swelling but without results, and on Friday, November 30th, Dr. Menger held a consultation with Dr. Shepler, a physician of Carlisle. It was then determined that his trouble was Synovitis complicated with inflammation of the veins, or Phlebitis.

In view of the Phlebitis it was deemed inadvisable to give the knee active treatment at that time. The pain not being relieved and the swelling becoming greater, on Monday morning, December 3d, Dr. Harvey Smith, a specialist of Harrisburg, was called in and he determined on an immediate operation. This took place Tuesday morning at 7:00 a. m., and it was deemed advisable by reason of the difficult operation to have it performed at the Hospital in Carlisle. Louis rallied from the operation, came out from under the ether and appeared to be relieved of all pain and improving, until about 12:30 yesterday when he suddenly became cyanosed and died immediately thereafter.

His death is certified to by the physicians as due to the Embolism of the brain, or as I understand it in the language of the layman, a clot from the inflamed veins in the leg broke loose and went to the brain and killed him.

I am advised by the physician that the injury of this student with its results was not due necessarily to the violence of the game, but was of a character which might arise under any circumstances from a trivial injury or bump to the knee.

Louis was a Roman Catholic and the Priest of the Church was with him at the time of his death. Mass was held at the school this morning and services will probably be held at the Catholic Church this afternoon and the body shipped to Cloquet, Minn.

for burial. I propose to send his brother
Frank with the body.

Sincerely yours,

Superintendent.

Dear Madam:-

Your son Louis, who was injured in the Pennsylvania-Indian football game, is suffering from inflammation of the left knee joint and veins of the leg, due to a severe sprain. He was also injured about the head, receiving a fracture of the nose.

His condition at present is not critical but is so serious that we feel you should be advised of it.

Louis is in good spirits, has a good appetite and is getting along very well. Naturally he has a good constitution and as he has always taken good care of himself, there is every reason to believe that he will recover from his injuries before long.

I will keep you informed of his condition.

Dear Madam:--

This is to inform you that the condition of Louis' leg became so serious that it was necessary to remove him to the Carlisle Hospital for an operation, last evening. Dr. Harvey Smith, the best surgeon in Harrisburg was called and he with the help of two other physicians performed the necessary operation this morning. The knee and leg were drained. His present condition is satisfactory and he is getting along as well as can be expected and we hope for the best if there are no further complications.

The Carlisle Hospital where he is now, is a new and up to date hospital and we are doing all that is possible to save the knee joint. He is getting the very best of care. I will write you again.

Dr. Edward F. Menger,

Carlisle, Pa.

Dear Doctor,

In response to your request I submit the following statement for Mr. Francis's records.

My first examination of Louis Godfrey was made about 5 P.M. Dec. 3rd. At that time his left leg, from the foot to the hip joint, was swollen to twice its natural size. There was pain, tenderness, and fever. I got a history of an attack of tonsillitis Nov. 21-23, from which he had apparently recovered. His left knee was slightly injured in the Penn game, Nov. 24, not severely enough to cause his removal from the game or to require any attention afterward. Monday, Nov. 26, he developed an acute pain in left knee associated with chill and fever. Tuesday and Wednesday the pain was severe, swelling appeared and there was delirium with the fever. My diagnosis at time of first examination was Acute Metastatic Arthritis, of the left knee and a general infection of the leg secondary to his tonsillar infection. Advised aspiration of knee joint and drainage of leg. He was removed to the Carlisle Hospital that night. Early Tuesday morning Dec. 4th, under ether anesthesia, pus was aspirated from the knee joint. Multiple incisions were made at various points of thigh and leg and large quantities of pus drained from many pockets. Cultures of this pus were made, from which no reports have yet been received. He recovered from the ether promptly and his condition was good until 1:30 P. M. He was then seized with an acute pain in region of heart, became cyanosed, and went into shock. He died at 2 P.M. Dec. 5th. Direct cause of death was probably an embolism which got into the circulation from the infected leg.

I do not think this death should be charged directly to foot-ball. The direct cause was an infection in his tonsils. From this focus the infection entered the circulation and localised at the point of trauma received No. 24th. From the clinical history the infection was an unusually virulent type and met with slight resistance. The embolism which caused his death was one of the unavoidable complications which sometimes occurs in surgery of this type.

Very truly yours,

(S) Harvey F. Smith.
