Samuel Freemont, now at sea aboard the U. S. S. Vermont, writes us for the renewal of his ARROW and Red Man. He greatly enjoys both publications, signing himself "Constant Reader." We appreciate his interest and reciprocate with many good wishes for his continued success.

1910

Samuel Freemont, who left Carlisle for a sailor's life on the ocean waves, has been transferred from the U. S. Torpedo Station at Newport, R. I., where he was formerly stationed, and is now on the U. S. S. New Jersey. This is one of the vessels sent to represent the U. S. Navy at the recent Hudson-Fulton celebration in New York. Samuel was aboard the New Jersey during the celebration time and says he had many pleasant experiences while his ship was lying in New York waters.

WASHINGTON 2

JAN 22 1914

Mr. Moses Friedman,
Supt., Carlisle School.

Sir:

The Office is in receipt of your letter of December 23, 1913 enclosing a request from John C. Fremont and Annie F. Kemp, his sister, for payment to them as heirs to the estate of Samuel Fremont, deceased, the sum of $3.00 now to his credit on your books.

As the Office is without authority to turn over these funds until the heirship question is formally decided, and as the preliminaries must be undertaken by the Superintendent under whose jurisdiction the two Indians are, it is suggested that you transfer to him the amount of money now on your books to the credit of Samuel Fremont, deceased, with the request that he take the necessary steps to determine the heirs to the estate.

You will find enclosed two carbons of this letter; one for your files and the other for their Superintendent, and the two letters from the heirs of Samuel Fremont, deceased.

Respectfully,

Assistant Commissioner.

January 26th, 1914.
