the difference between them and their Caucasian brothers. True it is that not all of them were ready to accept the protection of our Government, but once accepted they have generally come to know the significance of the change that has been wrought, until now many of the descendants of the aborigines are among our most honored citizens.

I congratulate you upon the splendid showing you have made in several exhibit palaces. Here on these grounds are ample evidences of progress. Let the good work continue. It can not be too thorough. The educated masses of an otherwise savage people rise up to bless you.

The people of this country owe you a debt of gratitude for your sacrifices that these wards of the Government may be trained into the best of citizens. It is my pleasure, therefore, to welcome you to our State and to this, its chief city.

Hon. David R. Francis, President Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

I desire at this time to pay tribute to the devotion of the educators of the Indian. I well remember how I was impressed with the interest which those educators manifested in their duties, and with the fact that they were not working solely for the compensation given them by the Government. My experience and observation, and information from every source, are to the effect that when a right feeling, proper-thinking American man or woman is placed in this place of responsibility—and it is a position of great responsibility to be called upon to teach an untutored race—there is evinced, beyond the compensation received, a deep-rooted interest in the welfare and in the elevation of the Indian which is well becoming to our Anglo-Saxon nation. I am, therefore, very glad, on behalf of the exposition company, to extend to you greetings this morning.

The man or the woman, whoever he or she may be, who fails to take advantage of the opportunities here presented on inspection to human view within the small area of two square miles, will not be true to his duties to himself, and will never cease to regret it.

Dr. Howard J. Rogers, Chief of Department of Education and Director of Congresses, Louisiana Purchase Exposition

On behalf of the department of congresses, I take great pleasure in welcoming you to the exposition.

It is especially appropriate that on the banks of the great river which bears an Indian name, flowing through scenes which are of historic interest to the descendants of both races, and whose waters for so many years marked the boundary between the advancing customs, manners and civilization of the invading races and the customs, tribal laws, and manners of the original holders of the soil, there should be installed at this great exposition of peace the first working exhibit of Indian schools and Indian instruction.

It is particularly fitting that in this great exposition of processes there should be maintained a working exhibit of the Indian schools which shall demonstrate the methods and processes in use for the training of Indian children in those arts and crafts which help them to become useful members of society.

Dr. Calvin M. Woodward, Director of Manual Training School, Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.

I congratulate you upon the progress you have made in two years. I have watched the growth of Indian education, and I have seen with satisfaction how you have been leading on successfully a race to a higher standard of civilization. It is a great work; it is a noble work; and I am well aware that many of you are devoting yourselves to that work in a sort of missionary spirit, and I honor you for your devotion, enthusiasm and patience; because I know this work requires infinite patience as well as infinite devotion.

Dr. F. Louis Soldan, Superintendent of Instruction, Public Schools, St. Louis, Mo.

Within the sphere of Indian education—within the sphere of Indian interest—this is historic ground.

I wish to welcome you on behalf of the 80,000 children of this city. They appreciate and feel what is being done for the Indian; they feel an interest in the labors of the teachers. I welcome you on behalf of our citizens, who feel that a national pledge has been given to this race, which you in your schools are nobly redeeming. I welcome you on behalf of the board of educators and invite you to visit some of the school houses that will keep their doors open for our welcome visitors. In fact, the doors of every school house in the city will open if you try to see what the board of education in St. Louis is doing for the white children. The doors of the school house are open now; the hearts of our citizens have been and are open to you at all times.

Miss Amelia C. Fruchte, Normal and High School, St. Louis, Mo.

To me the most interesting of the exhibits is the Indian exhibit. I believe if Pestalozzi were here his heart would throb for joy. I spent a number of delightful hours in the Indian building. I studied there the habitat of the race, and on the one side I saw at work the old Indians engrossed in the manufacture of their native wares, and on the other side the young Indians acquiring the art of controlling themselves and fitting themselves for the responsibilities of citizenship.

On behalf of the women teachers of St. Louis I welcome Miss Reel and all her friends and coworkers to the exposition, where we all together shall learn that I presume we all conceive to be the great lesson of life.

Most Rev. John J. Glennon, Archbishop of St. Louis.

I am delighted to see you to-day. As a friend of Indian education I greet you, and because of the consecration that I am sure is in your work you deserve a double greeting. Speaking of the consecration to your work, I do believe that it would not be unfair for me to say also that I greet you as a representative of a church that has given many of its sons and daughters to the consecration and uplifting of the Indian race, and almost feel that I form here a kind of bond between the past and the present—the past that is represented by those mission schools of the West—and I can almost fancy to-day I hear again the voice of some Gabriel or the monks of Santa Barbara summoning their little flocks together, that they may teach them the truths of knowledge and also those undying truths on which are based the consecration of the missionary board. Some of these missionaries are still living, and I am glad to know that you and they are working together for them in one band of unity in your work.

In his endeavors to go onward and upward we can greet the Indian as a brother, under a common flag, in a common nationality, under the standard of the Blessed Savior, under the standard of the Almighty, the common Father of us all.

RESPONSES.

Dr. W. G. McGee, Chief of Department of Anthropology Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

It is a particular pleasure for me to accept on behalf of the Congress of Indian Educators, and on behalf of the department of anthropology as well, the greetings which have been so kindly extended this morning.

The policy of the present administration is that the Indian shall be educated to work, live, and act as a reputable, moral citizen, and thus become a self-supporting, useful member of society.—Commissioner Jones.

A friend in Bustleton writes: "A few years ago there was a 'wedding' at your school, the contracting parties being The Red Man and The Indian Helper, which I thought was an improvement, as the one was rather large and the other too small, 'The Redman and Helper' being a good size. Is the Arrow a child of that marriage? If advertising gives the Indian needed lessons in printing, I will for their sakes try and put up with it, but I cannot say I like that part of the paper. The Indians used to be skilful with the bow. I hope they are yet, and that each Arrow sent from the bow of your printing press, reaching the heart of Ignorance, Indolence, and Race Prejudice will destroy these evils.

ment that in dealing with the red race we Caucasians are dealing with an inferior type of mankind. Let it be understood that this type of mankind indigenous to the Western Hemisphere is indeed noble; is indeed so noble and worthy that the law of intellectual interchange may benefit us who come in contact with them, just as they profit by contact with us. * * * It is true that the object, or one of the main objects, is to make citizens, just as it is the object of education among ourselves.

Dr. John T. Doyle, Secretary U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Civil-service examinations for appointments in the Indian service are made as practical as possible, but these in themselves are not sufficient to secure efficient employees. In addition, there is the probational test in the actual dealing with the Indian, in protecting his interests and guiding his development. This probation is the most important of the tests of fitness, as it is intended to test the possession of the requisite tact, character and capacity in the actual performance of duty.

Hon. Levi Chubbuck, Special Inspector, Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C.

Admitting that the speaking of English is a means to an end, along what line should Indian children be led in the acquirement and exercise of the accomplishment as being the surest to reach the desired result, namely, self-support? Along the industrial line will be the most general answer, or, to put it more correctly, along the line of physical rather than mental activities. Hence it is that under the policy of the Indian Office our Indian schools are largely of an industrial character, and instruction in shop, farm, and house work is supposed to have a prominent place in the educational scheme.

S. M. McCowan, Superintendent Chilocco Agricultural School, Chilocco, Okla.

It gives me peculiar pride and pleasure to have this opportunity of responding to the many cordial greetings which have been extended to us this morning. I especially appreciate the many kind words of praise of our Indian Exhibit and Model School. These are primarily intended to illustrate the great progress which is being made in educating and uplifting the Indian.

Results are beginning to show. We are beginning to reap the harvest of years of sowing. We can now see for ourselves what Commissioner Morgan saw years ago—that Indian nature is but human nature bound in red.

Efficiency in the Indian Service,—Dr. John T. Doyle, Secretary, U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

The character of Indian education depends upon the character of the teaching force, and it is therefore fundamental that those appointed shall be capable and of good character. The method of their selection should be designed to this end. To obtain suitable employees, particularly at remote places where the surroundings are not attractive, is very difficult, but vital. Then, too, the qualifications required are unusually varied.

In view of the peculiar conditions existing in the Indian service, persons selected for all positions, with the possible exception of physicians, should have teaching ability, as the purpose of their employment is essentially that of instruction. The examinations are designed, therefore, to test the knowledge of the competitor and to determine as far as possible his ability to impart instruction to others. They are made as practical as possible, and are modified from time to time as experience requires.

Previous experience is given consideration in some of these examinations, and in the non-educational examinations it constitutes 60 per cent, while the elements of age and physical condition constitute the remaining 40 per cent.

The addresses on "What's in a Name," by Miss Emily S. Cook, Office of Indian Affairs, Washington, and "Indian Names" by Miss Alice C. Fletcher, Ex-President of the Anthropological Society, Washington, are reserved for next issue.

" 24, Open.
Oct. 1, Gettysburg College, here.
" 5, Susquehanna University, here.
" 8, Bucknell at Williamsport.
" 15, Albright College, here.
" 22, Harvard, at Cambridge.
" 29, University of Va. at Norfolk.
Nov. 5, Ursinus, here.
" 12, University of Penna., at Phila.
" 19, 2nd team at Selin's Grove.
" 24, Ohio S. University at Columbus.

The work is progressing rapidly, the squad apparently knowing the rudiments of the game thoroughly, and all that is required now is more wind on the part of the candidates and more speed. Speed, however, will come with a little more practice and training.

Prospects look brighter than ever now, since the arrival of Capt. Sheldon and tackle Bowen. Both are heavier and faster and will add greatly to the strength of the team.

Sheldon is being tried out at full back. He ought to make a whirlwind in that position. He knows the game from top to bottom and ought to be able to direct affairs in a masterly way.

Bowen, the big tackle, is back at his old position, and will cover that part of the ground in his old time form. He has the making of one of the best tackles in the country, and he should have the upper hand of every man he faces this Fall.

Little Old Man, a new man, has won the admiration of the coaches and all the rest of the candidates by his enthusiastic and energetic work. He seems to have what you might term "foot-ball instinct" and applies everything he learns to his work. He will make a valuable man. And it would be well if some of the other candidates would follow his example.

Tomahawk is another man that is proving of great value by his adaptability to play any position in the line or in the back field. He is faster than last year and takes an interest in the team.

Doxtator, Libby, and Jackson are also doing well. White, the big sub-guard of last year, seems to have just gotten the idea how the game should be played; he is playing regularly in the first line up and ought to be able to hold that position. He has been a sub for three years or more, but is out for business this fall.

Charles Roy and Paul LaRocque have just arrived from Minnesota. They have joined the squad and give promise of becoming valuable players.

The first game occurs next Saturday. Then we will see of what stuff the boys are made. The old men will be given the first choice and then the most promising of new material will be given a chance to show their metal. The score ought to be large.

A noted football authority has this to say about the importance of kicking and the handling of kicks:

So certain is it that kicking again will be relied upon to reach the "striking distance" territory that the coaches to a man are scouring their squads for sure handlers of punts. There have been no Butterworths and no Brewers for many a day, and the fumbling so prevalent in recent years has thoroughly frightened the coaches. With more time in which to drill the men in this department of the game the coaches are determined to make a better showing in the handling of kicks.

The new rules require little or no change in the various styles of defence, and no radical changes need be expected along this line.

To sum up, straight football, with almost microscopic attention to detail, coupled with speed and sure handedness, should be the keynote of the season's work.—[New York Herald.

General News Items about Indians.

It is reported that nine thousand Choctaw deeds have been sent to the attorneys of the Choctaw nation to be sent to those who are in possession of their allotments.

Agent Michelet, Chiefs Mesha-ke-geshig and Mah-ing-ance, interpreter John Carl and several other Indians started for the St. Louis Exposition today. The chiefs and other Indians will take part in the Indian exhibit at the government school at the Exposition.—[The Tomahawk. White Earth, Minn.

→ Mr. John Foster, who has been spending the summer in New York State, returned to the school a few days since, to visit his mother and sister, before leaving for Chicago. Yesterday he departed for the Windy City to enter an excellent school there, where he will take the initial steps toward an electrical course which he has chosen for his special occupation, after finishing school. Mr. Foster is a young man with lofty and laudable ambition to succeed in life, and from the spirit manifested on leaving here, his friends expect nothing but success, even though many rough places may tend to discourage. Mrs. Foster is an estimable teacher with us, and Miss Eva the daughter is attending Dickinson College preparatory.

Miscellaneous Items.

→ Hashorns sent us a fine list of subscriptions from Maine.

→ Little Oldman seems to be a new man on the football team.

→ Daniel Eagle, 1904, has entered a business college in Trenton, N. J.

→ Miss Charlotte Cutter of Washington, D. C. is visiting her sister, our Senior teacher.

→ Rollo Jackson, trombone player, has returned from New York, and entered his class—Sophomore.

→ Belle Jones went this week to Indian Territory, and she has many friends at Carlisle who will miss her.

→ Send us the names of intelligent Indians who can read, and we will send them sample copies of THE ARROW.

→ We have received notes from the Pacific Coast Indian Institute which the ARROW will take up in some future issue.

→ There were other calls for an Enigma. We hope to be able to keep up the supply of "brain botherations" from this on.

→ Mr. and Mrs. Allen spent Tuesday afternoon and evening with Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins at their cosy home in Steelton.

→ Ida Mitchell has gone to her home at the Omaha Agency, Nebraska, and all her friends are sorry to have her go back.

→ Quite a number of students on farms are working like fun for the ARROW. We thank them and hope they will continue.

→ The girls now attending the Bloomsburg Normal are Edith Bartlett, Susie Rayos, Caroline Helms, Agnes White, Jennie Desrosier, Angela Rivera, and Maria Santaella.

→ Miss Lottie Harris has returned from Cherokee, N. C., and brought with her a number of bright little folks to enter our school as pupils.

→ We do not remember when the flowers in the various beds on the grounds have shown such luxuriant growth, and so many beautiful colors.

→ Wouldn't the average news boy jump at the chance of making five cents on every subscription he could secure with the hope of winning the Five dollars.

→ Christmas is approaching all too fast, and we shall need every five-dollar bill we can get. Canvass for the ARROW! That's a good way to earn Christmas money.

→ Mr. Nori, clerk in Mr. Beitzel's office, is spending his vacation in and around the school. There are not many more desirable places to spend a vacation, than right here.

→ THE ARROW thanks the Lancaster New Era, for a three quarter column editorial notice of our paper, full of pleasant comments on the newsy sheet and the work and purposes of the school.

→ Five Dollars to the one who secures the most subscribers before the first of October. If the solicitor should not get the prize, the commission, 5 cents on each name is worth working for.

→ 251 subscriptions have come in thus far for September, and the month only half gone. Send us names and addresses for Sample Copies to be sent to friends whom you wish to interest.

→ Pleasant greetings from Supt. Oscar M. Waddel, Randlett, Utah, wishing us success for "your old paper under a new name," and a quarter for a year's subscription, has been gratefully received.

→ In printing our old plates we hope to refresh the memories of our old readers and interest our 700 new subscribers, which have come in since THE ARROW began. New plates are being arranged for.

→ Since the picture of the Administration Building, (printed this week) was taken, Arbor Day trees have grown, and the same building as photographed two weeks ago by Artist Hertzler, presents a much more home-like appearance.

→ The daughter, of Capt. and Mrs. Mercer, Mrs. Gosman, has gone to join her husband, Lt. Gosman at Camp G. H. Thomas, Lytle, Ga., and took with her a beautiful Scotch Collie, purchased since the death of the Collie with a remarkable pedigree, which she brought with her from Europe. Three small Collies were purchased at the same time, the remaining two finding a welcome home with our Superintendent and wife.

→ "Pawnee Bill" with his great show has taken the town to-day, and is quite well patronized by the school.

→ Miss Gertie Randell and Jane Ferry of Philadelphia, have been guests of the Bennett's at the near farm for a few days.

→ It is better to LEARN the words of the bleacher songs. We sing with more spirit when we don't have to look at the paper.

→ Let us be lively at the game on Saturday and start with the proper College spirit! Be a unit in our yelling and singing. Follow the leader!

→ Vicente Figueroa writes from Porto Rico saying "I am again at my dear home and I like it very much, but I will leave this month for the States. I'd rather work on the farms of Pennsylvania than those at home."

→ From the way things are working it will take but a few names to win the Five dollars offered to the one sending or handing us the most subscriptions by the end of this month. EVERYBODY try! Twenty names may win.

→ Printer F. G. met with such an accident to his mouth as to cause him to literally "hold his jaw" without any saucy boy telling him to do so. He is again on duty, and the mouth is performing its wonted service.

→ Miss Louise Rogers, class 1902, Carlisle, who graduated this year from the Bloomsburg Normal, is teaching a school of Anglo-Saxon children at Grand Rapids, Minn. Miss Rogers is a sister to Coach Rogers and left-end Jude.

→ Anna Goodlall, who lives at Barnitz in the family whose barn was destroyed by a terrible cyclone this summer, says the new barn is being raised, and they had 175 to dinner recently. Annie helps the good cause along by sending us five names.

→ To the Editor of the Arrow: Begin both subscriptions with the issue of the 25th containing that excellent likeness of Capt. Mercer. All at these agencies were very fond of him and sincerely regretted his leaving us.—[L. W. C., Ouray Indian Agency, Utah.

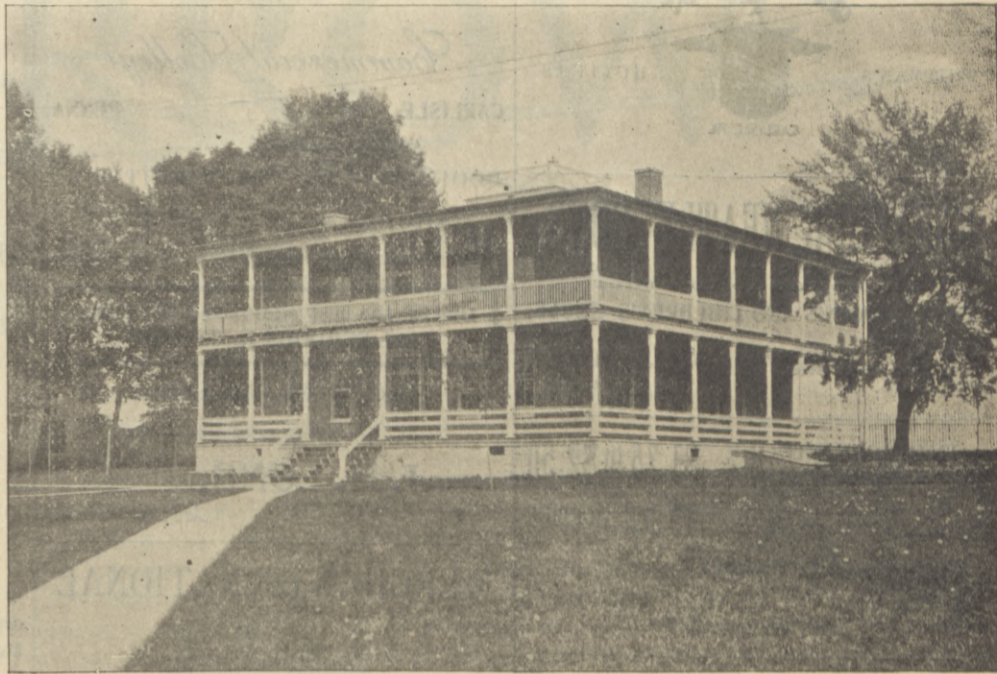

→ Miss Livia Martinez, one of our Porto Rican girls, who attended Metzger College and who was to graduate in 1905, had to leave for her home. She will stay at New York for a brief period before leaving and intends to return to New York to continue her studies. We wish her well in all that she undertakes.

→ Miss Flora Golsh, of Washington, D. C. is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Allen. Miss Golsh has lived for years among the Indians of California. She speaks four or five languages fluently, and finds many ways through her linguistic knowledge to be very useful and helpful in the City of Magnificent Distances.

→ Mr. Lau and Mr. Carns have done some very neat work in their shops in framing pictures for the school rooms. We all appreciate it. The teachers deserve great credit for making the rooms so attractive. Most of the pictures which make our school rooms so home-like are furnished by the teachers themselves.

→ On Tuesday evening the Band was out for the first time since the boys from the country returned. They were dressed in their red-coat uniform of the organization, and presented a very creditable appearance. From the music rendered we have great hopes for excellence in a very few weeks. The Company marched to Capt. Mercer's residence, where they received kindly greetings. They played a few selections and then counter-marched to quarters.

→ Miss Erickson, from Philadelphia writes hearty "thanks for the little sharp shooter," referring to the ARROW. She wishes the ARROW to convey to all her friends, her heartfelt thanks for the kindness shown her. "Fifteen hundred miles will soon be between us," she continues, "but neither distance nor time could ever blot out the memory of those (perhaps my last) weeks spent on the school grounds. With true Scandinavian faithfulness I cling to all who have been my true friends there." Miss Erickson will spend a week in Brooklyn, then sail for Porto Rico,

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING.

Capt. Mercer's office is at the lower left hand or N. W. Corner; Mr. Allen's office, South West Corner; back of him is Mr. Miller's office, then the South East Corner, Miss Ely and her corps of workers—Miss Nellie Robertson and Miss Swallow. Opposite on N. E. Corner is Mr. Beitzel's office, Mr. Nori Assistant.

Second floor, N. W. Corner, the room vacated by Miss Peter; opposite, S. W. Corner, Misses Ely and Burgess; S. E. Corner, Miss Robertson; N. E. Corner, Miss Cutter, Joseph Ezhuna III.

In the columns of the New York American, we get this sad news, and have no reason to doubt the truth of the statements, as Joseph was never a rugged boy here, although generally well:

Joseph Ezhuna, an apache, son of Chief Victorio, who, with Geronimo, led the uprising of the braves on the San Carlos Reservation in New Mexico in the early eighties, entered Bellevue as a patient last night, probably a victim of tuberculosis. He is twenty-five years old and has been for some time an artist's model in this city. Ezhuna has been living at No. 110 East Fifty-fourth street. Accompanying him to the hospital was his friend from boyhood, Vincent Natalish. Both were classmates at Carlisle.

The subject of above item graduated here in 1903, and was a faithful student and worker all through his school life at Carlisle. He went to New York to "strike out" for himself, as did his friend Vincent Natalish, who graduated here in 1899. Vincent has been for a long time in the employ of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, and in his own words at the close of a recent letter says he is "getting along O. K." Vincent married a Caucasian girl and has established himself a home in the Metropolis. The friends of Joseph extend a hand of sympathy and sincerely wish for him a speedy recovery.

→ Mr. Henry C. Norman of Atlantic City, brother of our lamented co-worker, Mr. Phil. Norman, was a visitor this morning.

→ Miss Kate S. Holmes, of Chicago, a long-time friend of Miss Stewart, is the latter's guest for a few days. The friends planned to go abroad together this summer, but circumstances forced Miss Holmes to sail on a different liner, and they did not meet till they reached Paris on the return trip. They then discovered that it had been their misfortune to have been in two prominent European cities at the same time, without knowing it.

→ Mr. and Mrs. Sherry have been transferred to Devil's Lake Agency, North Dakota, where they will jointly manage a day school. All at Carlisle wish them great success at their new work, in the very heart of the Indian country, and with the children of nature, first hand. The people are the Sioux, and Mr. and Mrs. Sherry are anticipating that the change of work will be pleasant.

→ George Balenti, class 1904, who has been spending the summer in Oklahoma, returned this week with his brother. He says he had a good time at home but is glad to get back. He will take a post-graduate course at Drexel Institute, this winter, while his brother will enter our school as a student. George is looking well, and is very hopeful of success at Drexel. He is quite a genius with fine tools, and we look for him to make something of a mark although he is without the full use of one of his hands.

Seniors and Juniors give a Reception.

Last Saturday night, the Seniors and Juniors paid a fine compliment to Assistant-Superintendent and Mrs. Allen, who are about to leave us, by giving a reception in their honor. The gymnasium, was prettily decorated in bunting and Chinese lanterns, and the guests were dressed in light evening attire, adding gaiety to the scene.

There was music by the band, dancing was indulged in, games were played, and a general happy time was enjoyed during the early evening.

Soon after 9 o'clock, all were invited up stairs to the handsomely trimmed Y. M. C. A. Hall, and partook of dainty refreshments served by sprightly young misses, who darted here and there among the small tables, as they carried the pretty China, laden with good things to eat.

Mr. Thompson acted as master of ceremonies, and at the proper time called upon the guest of honor, Mr. Allen, who responded in a brief but very fitting address teeming with feeling and heartfelt interest for the welfare of the Indian youth in general and the Carlisle student in particular.

He alluded to the evening, three years ago, on a like occasion when he and Mrs. Allen were ushered into the Carlisle family. His heart was with Carlisle then, but it is more so now, speaking reverently of the founder of the school and its principles.

Many were affected by the sadness of the parting word, and when he closed with grateful thanks on behalf of himself and Mrs. Allen for this evidence of good will, it was plainly seen that the last few moments were not moments of joy. The occasion will long be remembered, inspired as it was by the students, who hold so warm a place in the affections of our co-worker, soon to leave us for a larger and wider field of usefulness.

MISS PETER GOES TO WASHINGTON.

Miss Peter, for some years a stenographer in the office of Gen. R. H. Pratt at the Indian school, and later in the office of Captain Mercer, has been transferred to the Indian office at Washington, and she has gone to assume her duties. Miss Peter is succeeded in Capt. Mercer's office by Miss Helen Krise, of Carlisle.—[Evening Sentinel.

In the departure of Miss Peter, the school loses a most efficient member of the clerical force, and a delightful social companion. Everybody is her friend, and she a friend to everybody.

She takes a place in the Educational Division of the Indian office. That she will succeed goes without saying, for the character of faithfulness, skill and indomitable "stick" she manifests in her work never goes begging for recognition. Where true worth counts, and we have every reason to believe it counts in Washington, Miss Peter will reach promotions rapidly and deservedly.

Out In The Fields.

*THE little cares that fretted me,
I lost them yesterday
Among the fields above the sea,
Among the winds at play;
Among the lowing of the herds,
The rustling of the trees,
Among the singing of the birds,
The humming of the bees.
The foolish fears of what may happen—
I cast them all away
Among the clover-scented grass,
Among the new-mown hay;
Among the husking of the corn
Where drowsy poppies nod,
Where ill thoughts die and good are born,
Out in the fields with God.
—E. B. Browning.*

Ex-Quarter Back.

This news goes to the Los Angeles Examiner over the Special Leased Wire,
the Longest in the World, from Chicago,
and we are able to substantiate the information:

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Johnson, the Carlisle
Indian and quarter-back and the man whom Walter Camp chose last fall as the All-American quarter-back, has finally assured Coach McCormack that he will enter the dental department of Northwestern University and play football this fall. It was thought that he would enter Harvard this fall and the Carlisle Indians were anxious that he should return there.

Johnson, it appears, is anxious to begin preparing himself for his life work—the practice of dentistry. He thought it expedient to enter Northwestern University at once and begin studying directly for his future. If he went to Harvard he would take a four years' academic course and if he returned to the Carlisle Indians it would be postponing the beginning of his dental work.

He intends to practice dentistry in Chicago or Evanston, so he thought it better to locate in Chicago, which is his home.

Treat Him White.

It may surprise a lot of people to learn that many of the best hospital nurses in the country are Indian girls, that some very successful men in commercial life, in the higher professions and in skilled trades are full-blooded Indians. The Carlisle school is effecting wonderful transformations.

We have been late in discovering that George Washington was right when he contended that the only way to make a good citizen of an Indian was to educate him, not as an Indian, but as a white man—that the only way to make him white in his disposition and habits is to treat him
white.—[Jackson (Miss) Press.]

A Strange Find.

Charles Gibson, the Creek philosopher, who lives near Eufaula, tells of a find, out of the ordinary, while plowing in his field a few days ago.

A rifle was uncovered by the plow, and upon examination and further digging a large number of old firearms were unearthed.

They are all in a good state of preservation and are of Spanish make, some of them being blunderbusses, some pistols, and a couple of swords.—[Pawhuska Capital.]
