

THE PLANTING OF A TREE

Wouldst thou upbuild a house where sweet wild lives are nested,
Glad with the sound of song, quick with the flash of wings,
Where the soft boods may rock, warm housed and un molested,
Deep in the leafy nooks, through all the changeeful springs?
Or wouldst thou rear an arch of noblest grace and splendour,
Lifted in air and light, shaped by the sun and storm,
Moved by the wandering wind, swayed by each influence tender,
Yet by the hand of life molded to steadfast form?
Wouldst thou make day more fair, and night more rich and holy,
Winter more keenly bright, and summer's self more dear
Grant the sweet earth a gift, deep-rooted, ripening slowly,
Add to the sum of joys that bless the rounded year?
Go, then, and plant a tree, lovely in sun and shadow,
Circious in every kind—maple and oak and pine,
Peace of the forest glade, wealth of the fruitful meadow,
Blissings of dew and shade, hereafter shall be thine!
For though thou never see the joy thy hand hath granted,
Those who shall follow thee thy generous boon may share,
Thou shalt be Nature's child who her best fruit hath planted,
And ease of many a spring shall find thy gift more fair.—St. Nickolas.

NEVER BE ABOVE YOUR BUSINESS

Frank, said the head clerk to a young man in a large carpet establishment, take this roll of carpet over to Mr. Craft's and see whether the pattern will suit. You may just as well take a rule, and measure the room while you are there.

All right, replied Frank, putting on his coat and hat. But when he noticed the roll—a sample one containing about five yards,—he exclaimed, "You surely don't expect me to carry that big roll, do you?"

It's only a sample and Mr. Craft is in a hurry for it, replied the clerk.

But what are the boys here for? I think you might send one of them over with it. If there is anything I detest it's carting bundles around town.

The proprietor, who happened to overhear part of the conversation, told the clerk, privately, to let the young man go and take his measurements, and to send the carpet after him. Frank had arrived at the house and was busy at his work when a man came to the door with a roll of carpet under his arm and was shown into the room where he was. Looking up, Frank was surprised to recognize his employer with the roll of carpet under his arm.

Here is the carpet, young man. I hope I have not kept you waiting for it. If you have any other orders, I'll take them now, he said, as he sat down the roll. The young man was so astonished, he hardly knew what to say, and stood staring at his employer, who left the house with a polite bow.

Well, did you get the carpet this afternoon? asked the clerk, laying his hand on the young man's shoulder, when the latter returned.

Yes, said Frank, looking up from his desk, but do you know I cannot understand why Mr. Green brought it around. I was never more surprised in my life.

Well, Mr. Green told me to ask you to step into his office when you returned.

My boy, said his employer, as he entered the office, I overheard your conversation this afternoon, and what I did was for your own benefit. A man should never be above his business,—that is to proud to give personal attention to the smallest details. He should be prepared to perform any duty that comes legitimately, and to obey orders from those in authority. You should consider no part of a business too unimportant for you to give it attention. Fetch and carry for yourself rather than miss a single point or risk the loss of a customer. Never be above your business. Glen Mills Daily.

AN ESSAY ON GIRLS.

In justice to our boys we wish to say that the following did not originate among them, but is taken from the Industrial School Echo:

"Girls are the sisters of boys and has longhair wares dresses and powder. The first girl was called Christmas Eve, though I never could see why. Most every family has one girl and some of 'em that is in hard luck has two or three. We have a girl in our house who is my sister. Girls can grow older and get younger. My sister has been twenty-five for three years, and some day we may be twins. Girls play pianner and talk about each other. Fat Girls want to be thin and thin girls want to be fat and all of 'em want to marry doods. Why the Lord made girls nobody nos, but I think it were to go to church and eat ice cream. They is three kinds of girls, brunet girls, blond girls, and them that have money. Girls is afraid of mice and bugs, which makes it fun to put them down their backs." —The Advance.

COMMON ERRORS CORRECTED.

LAY and lie. Carefully distinguish between lay, to place, and lie, to be in a recumbent position, to lie down; lay has laid in the imperfect and the perfect participle, and lie has lain in the imperfect and lain for its perfect participle; lay means to do something, and lie means to rest.

He lays the book on the table—action.

The book lies on the table—rest.

He laid the book on the table—action.

The book lay on the table—rest.

He has laid the book on the table—action.

The book has lain on the table—rest.

The ship lies at anchor—rest.

Sin lies at the door—rest.

The duke lay in state—rest.

We lie in bed, on the sofa, on the ground.

Keep constantly in mind that lay means to do something and that lie merely implies rest.

The wicked have laid a snare for me.

"And dashest him against the earth—there let him lay;" should be lie.

sit, set are much abused words. It is said that the brilliant Irish lawyer, Curran, once carelessly observed in court, "and action lays," and the judge corrected him by remarking, "Lies, Mr. Curran; hens lay;" but subsequently, the judge ordering a counselor to "set down," Curran retaliated, "Sit down, your honor; hens set." The retort was characterized by more wit than truth. Hens do not set; they sit. It is not unusual to here persons say, "The coat sets well;" The wind sets fair." Sits is the proper word. The preterit of sit is often incorrectly used for that of set; for example, "He sat off for Boston."

Religious Notes

➔ Miss McDowell led a very interesting meeting in the Y.M.C.A. hall last Sunday evening.

➔ Mr. Canfield led the small boys' meeting. Lapolio Cheago, the girls' meeting.

➔ Instead of the classes going to their respective school-rooms to study the Sunday school lessons last Sunday morning, Easter exercises were held in the Auditorium. Miss McDowell our Sunday School Superintendent conducted the exercises.

➔ Topic for Sunday—The Lord's Day: How to keep it holy. Luke 6:8-10; 4:20:8-11; Rev. 1:9-18.

➔ Several of our orchestra boys assisted at the Easter services in St. John's Episcopal Church.

Academic Notes

➔ The juniors are writing essays on poultry raising.

➔ The seniors are enjoying experiments in plant life.

➔ Quite a number of the little normalites are in the hospital with the mumps.

➔ Miss Newcomer, teacher of No. 12, has been called home because of the illness of her father.

➔ Miss Cutter was in charge of the academic department while Miss Bowersox was home last week.

➔ The seniors are studying electricity, and are going down to the Electric Light Plant some time this week to study the dynamo.

➔ "Everyone is glad to see Miss Bowersox's smiling face again after an absence of a week but which seemed to some like a month."

➔ The normal pupils made Easter baskets for themselves, and Miss Hawk filled them with candy. All enjoyed the treat very much.

➔ These nice sunny days do not always help the pupil who is sometimes lazy but they give him an opportunity to use and strengthen his will power.

➔ Several of the upper classes have been given small plots of ground in the large garden near the school and each room has already started its own garden. Which class will have the best garden?

➔ Schools No. 11 and No. 12—beg your pardon, freshmen and sophomores—are now consolidated. Mr. Walter has charge of both rooms in the absence of Miss Newcomer. No. 12 pupils go to school in the forenoon and No. 11 in the afternoon.

Industrial Notes.

➔ Mr. Harry Lamason is the instructor in the new industry, masonry. Bricklaying, plastering, and cement work will be taught in this department. The boys that have joined the new department are taking hold in a very gratifying way, and have already laid most of the foundation for the photographic studio.

➔ Kaki trousers are being made by the tailors for the band.

➔ Mr. Leaman is to be congratulated on the fine floral display in the Auditorium on Easter Sunday.

➔ Mr. Gardner and his detail are very busy excavating for the studio.

➔ The dairy cottage is looking fine in its new coat of paint. The painters are going over the interior also.

➔ The steamfitters have been doing extra work this week hauling coal from the coal house to the boiler house.

➔ Walter Hunt, who has taken up the farming business says he likes his duties very much, as it gives him an opportunity to be out in the open air.

Miscellaneous Items

➔ How hard it rained Saturday night!

➔ There were plenty of eggs for every one on Easter.

➔ There is a bed of fine violets in bloom near the Hospital.

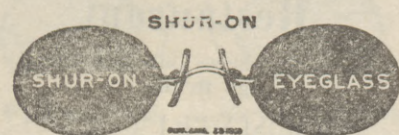

➔ Judson Cabey did some fine work coloring Easter eggs.

➔ The school social last Saturday was a very enjoyable affair.

➔ Eugene Geffe has joined the band. He is a good clarinet player.

➔ Word has been received from Wilbur Prawo, class 1906, of his safe arrival at his home.

➔ The band held a very enjoyable social last evening. Light refreshments were served.

➔ Irene Bearsghost who has been in the country for the winter has returned to the school.

➔ William Scholder, class 1906, has gone to the country to work on a farm for the summer.

➔ Mrs. McCrea a former teacher here, was a visitor this week. Her many friends were glad to see her.

➔ Last Wednesday evening at supper Dora Labelle found a gold ring in her plate. Who lost it in the gravy?

➔ Robert O. Long writes from his home in Indian Territory that he is getting along very nicely. He is working on his farm.

➔ W. C. Jones who recently went to his home at Santee Neb., writes that "it is most too lonesome" there.

➔ Major and Mrs. Mercer returned yesterday. The band gave a fine concert at four o'clock in their honor.

➔ Frank L. Johnson, who went to the country in the first party, says he likes his place, and is enjoying his work very much.

➔ The band has received the overture "Tankured" which is on the program for the band contest at Chambersburg in the near future.

➔ We understand that John H. Londroche, class '03, has been appointed disciplinarian at Morris Indian School, Morris Minn.

➔ The first outdoor concert by the band was given on the band stand at 6:15 Wednesday evening. The band played well and the concert was greatly enjoyed.

➔ Elias Charles is getting along very nicely with his work as printer in Philadelphia. We understand he has already been given "A RAISE."

➔ Miss May P. Wheelock writes to a friend that she has a very nice home and no doubt will enjoy her summer outing in Mt. Holly, N. J.

➔ A letter was received from John R. Feather, stating he is enjoying himself at home, and wishes to be remembered to all his friends. John expects to return soon.

➔ Melissa Cornelious a member of the Sophomore class, who went out to Mrs. Edge's on account of ill health says she likes the place very much and hopes to get better soon.

➔ Easter morning the kitchen boys and girls were kept busy looking for candy eggs marked with their names, which had been hidden by Miss James. Much fun was had finding the eggs.

➔ The Invincible, Standard and Susan Longstreth Literary Societies held interesting meetings Friday night.

➔ Our Babcock cylinder press has been repaired and The Arrow will appear next week with its usual four pages.

➔ The Y. M. C. A. is to have a baseball team this season and a good team is expected. Grover Long has been elected by the Y. M. C. A. as captain.

➔ We lost to Mercersburg last Monday by the score 11 to 6. Mercersburg played a good, consistent game, while our boys played very poorly. It was an off-day for our boys.

➔ Scott Porter, after a visit to his home, has returned and has joined the baseball squad.

➔ We lost to Villanova on our grounds Tuesday in one of the most interesting games of the season by the score 6 to 4. The result of the game was in doubt to the last moment. Roy pitched a good game.

➔ Our baseball team started on their southern trip last Wednesday morning. In the afternoon they played George Washington University at Washington, D. C., and won by the score 3 to 2.

➔ The second game of our Southern trip was lost yesterday to University of Virginia by the score of 11 to 3. We play the same team again today when we hope for better results. The Virginia team is one of the strongest teams in the South.

➔ The track and field candidates are showing up well. Captain Mt. Pleasant gives promise of breaking records.

TO WORK IS HONORABLE.

THERE has existed and still exists to some extent a false sentiment that labor is degrading or belittling. The contrary is true. An ideal condition of society can come only when every member of it recognizes that he is bound to exercise whatever skill or strength or faculty he possesses to its full capacity, not selfishly or for the sake of gain merely, but for his own happiness and development and for the benefit of all. And there should be no restriction on any one, either legal or social or through association in regard to his labor or its fruits. If by patient application or natural endowment a man possesses more skill than his fellow, or if he chooses to be more industrious, he is entitled to the full benefit of it.—Cincinnati Enquirer
