AUTUMN

All along the gray old wall,
Down 'mid meadow grasses
Where the swallow circles low
As he homeward passes;
Peeping up where orchard boughs
Low with fruit are bending:
By the path the cattle take
When they are homeward wending;
Nodding by the pasture bars,
High, rough rocks entwining,—
Are the aster's autumn stars,
With God's great love shining.
—Selected.

THE WORLD IS BETTER

O H the earth is full of sinning
And of trouble and of woe,
But the devil makes an inning
Every time you say it's so;
And the way to set him scowling,
And to put him back a pace,
Is to stop this stupid growling
And to look things in the face.

If you glance at history's pages,
In all lands and eras known
You will find the vanished ages
Far more wicked than our own.
As you scan each word and letter,
You will realize it more,
That the world today is better
Than it ever was before.

There is much that needs amending
In the present time, no doubt.
There is right that needs defending,
There is wrong needs crushing out,
And we hear the groans and curses
Of the poor who starve and die,
While the men with swollen purses
In the place of hearts, go by.

But in spite of all the trouble
That obscures the sun today
Just remember it was double
In the ages passed away.
And these wrongs shall all be righted
God shall dominate the land;
For the darkness is now lighted
By the torch in Science's hand.

Forth from little notes in chaos,
We have come to what we are,
And no evil force can stay us,
We shall mount from star to star;
We shall break away each fetter
That has bound us heretofore,
And the world today is better
Than it ever was before.

—ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

A Collect for the Girls

The unfortunate Mary Stuart, the queen of centuries, left the following collect, which should be read and reread by every one in the Girl's Department.

"Keep us, O God, from pettiness; let us be large in thought, in word, in deed.

"Let us be done with fault-finding and leave off self-seeking.

"May we put away all pretense and meet each other face to face—without self-pity and without prejudice.

"May we be never hasty in judgment and always generous.

"Let us take time for all things; make us to grow calm, serene, gentle.

"Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straightforward, and unafraid.

"Grant that we may realize it is the little things that create differences; that in the big things of life we are as one.

"And may we strive to touch and to know the great, common woman's heart of us all, and, O Lord, let us not forget to be kind!"

THINGS OF INTEREST

To some drear, silent heart a kindly word
May mean the music of a singing bird.
To troubled mind a smile, however slight,
May mean the vision of a rainbow bright.
To some starved soul a hand clasp—aye, just one
May mean the warmth and glory of the sun!
—Edward Wilbur Mason.

What the Newcomers Think

"I've been to school several places but I like Carlisle best"—Geo. White.

"I came here from South Dakota last Saturday. Instead of being homesick I am very happy"—Charles Whitedeer.

"I came to Carlisle because I want to learn something and to make a man of myself. I enjoy it here and never did get lonesome."—Herbert Fridav.

"I have just entered Carlisle School August 24th, 1906. I felt kind of lonesome at the first, but after friends of mine came back from the country who were here before, they did all they could to make things pleasant for me, now I am getting along very nicely here at Carlisle.

I work in the Printing Office, and I am learning to set type. I know I will succeed if I take interest in it. I am also glad that I came to this school, because I shall learn a good trade.

The most wonderful progress of Carlisle Indian School is shown in that boys can learn a trade, and Carlisle has sent out many good men who are able to make their own living.

Carlisle is a place where a boy or girl can get a good education."—Jas. R. Paisano

THE SOCIABLE

The sociable held last Saturday evening in the Gymnasium was a refreshing sight and one to impress itself upon the mind of those who had not the pleasure of before seeing the students out for an evening's enjoyment and social intercourse.

These little social affairs are looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure by the students and the intermingling of the sexes can have but one result: that of uplifting and enlarging the ideas of the boys and girls alike. It makes the boys more manly. It makes the girls more womanly. Who is there that dare say that association with the gentler sex does not soften a man's nature and makes him better? The evening was spent most enjoyably by the young people tripping the light fantastic in the dreamy waltz, the fascinating two-step, or the more sedate Lancers. After the music had retired an hour was spent in promenading, conversing, and here and there a "cooing pair" could be discovered, planning out impossible futures,—building pretty air castles—all to be so rudely interrupted by the bugler sounding "taps."

The Superiority of the Mule

The mule is less nervous than the horse therefore loses less energy in useless fretting. In fact, one of the chief characteristics of the mule is his ability to take care of himself under all circumstances says Farming. Much of the apparent shirking which is charged against the mule is an in-born tendency to husband his strength and make every effort count. The result of this instinctive care on the part of the mule is that he is able to turn out more work than would be possible for a horse of the same weight under the same conditions. The mule instinctively avoids holes, sharp obstacles, barbed wire fences and various other forms of danger which are not so successfully avoided by horses. It is a matter of a common observation that in instances where mules run away they seldom injure themselves to any serious extent. In mining mules are quite superior to horses for the reason that they seem to understand the requirements and dangers of the work more clearly than horses. The mule is considerable of a philosopher.

PROVERB

The great art of learning is to digest a little at a time.

Enlightenment

It is amusing to hear the remarks of the visitors who occasionally wander through the different work shops, and more than surprising to see the absolute ignorance of many of them as to the condition and intelligence of their red brothers.

Some of them come here expecting to see a big red blanket and a bunch of feathers—others look for a tomahawk and Winchester—but when they pass through and meet the boys and girls face to face, talk with them, see the work they have done and are doing, they go away perhaps a little disappointed in not finding a "Wild West" show, but every one of them express surprise at the discipline, intelligence, neatness, and general good appearance of the students and the wonderful work the school is doing for the Red Man's children.

Carlisle Indian School has turned out hundreds of self-supporting and self-respecting mechanics and artisans in past years and all of them can be truthfully stamped "Made at Carlisle, Government guarantee." From crude material to finished product is but a few steps, and a visit to the school will convince anyone that those steps are being taken.

Major W. A. Mercer,
Supt. U. S. Indian School,
Carlisle, Penna.

DEAR MAJOR:—Over five years of training at the United States Indian Industrial School, has taught me the value of the white man's way. I am glad I was sent to Carlisle for training. As to the trade, I am following (Printer) I got a fair start at Carlisle, but nevertheless I have found that outside of a small print-shop, there are many things the young printer must know at the end of four or five years of apprenticeship. Since I came here last January I have learned unnumberable things, that I am surprised at the many different styles of work that are done by the printer. The trade is wonderful to me. I owe my thanks to the instructor at Carlisle, and as I told you once before, that I am treated well here. I wish other Carlisle Indian "typos" success. I still keep up my studies, and shall continue on. Hoping you are well, and wishing to be remembered to my friends at Carlisle—especially the "Junior-Varsity." I am.

Yours Respectfully,
ADDISON E. JOHNSTON

Athletic Notes

➔ Harry Archambault, has joined the Junior Varsity foot-ball team.

➔ Fritz Hendricks the third base-man of our school team, has been elected captain for the coming season of 1907.

➔ We are pleased to note a general awakening of interest in athletics as is evident by the boys in their efforts to secure position on the base-ball and foot-ball teams.

➔ The base-ball team composed of our band members played two games at Port Royal, although they played ball, they were easily cut down by their antagonist.

➔ The base ball team of the band boys met defeat at Port Royal by the Port Royal Athletic Club nine. After a hotly contested game the score stood 3 to 1 in favor of the Port Royal nine the first day, and the second day shut out the school team by 14 to 0. Boys, this won't do. Get together.

➔ The rowing machines, ordinarily used in the gymnasium, have been transferred to the athletic field and are being used by the football boys to develop the arms, shoulders and chest.

➔ Alfred Dubois, tackle, has returned to Carlisle and will be a very valuable man to the team. He has just recovered from an attack of hay fever and looks a little thin but he thinks it won't take long to get back to his usual weight.

➔ The opening football game of the season, will be played here next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Villa Nova College. This will be the first College game played under the new football rules and will, undoubtedly, prove very interesting. A large crowd from Carlisle and the surrounding towns is looked for.

➔ The football bucking strap made in our harness shop is proving to be a very valuable piece of apparatus in teaching the players the essential of line bucking. It is valuable in training the men to start quickly, how to run fast and low, the correct form and position to take in bucking, how to look for an opening and how to take it, how to buck hard and low and to keep strong on their feet. The backs can practice how to receive the ball and carry it without fumbling while the linemen use it in developing leg power.

➔ While the 'Varsity is training hard in preparation for its first regular game, the Junior organization of the Small Boy's Quarters, is no less poignant in determination to win by stubborn and persistent practice. The cool headed Captain Cooley has now carefully arranged a line up with which he is confident of giving the town team on the Fair Ground a "hard tussle" next week. The line up is as follows:

INDIANS WILL HAVE FAST AND LIGHT TEAM

(Special Despatch to "The Press.")

Carlisle, Pa., Sept. 13.—Fleetness of foot and comparatively moderate weight will characterize the Carlisle Indian School football team for the coming football season. Many of the redskins who will chase the elusive pigskin this year were track or field athletes during the Spring months, and in a larger measure the heavy-weights have been eliminated from the Carlisle game this year. At the present time the Indians are in wonderfully good physical shape and most of last year's lightweights have put on from 10 to 20 pounds.

The make-up of the Carlisle Indian School's Athletic Committee this year includes this year's football captain, Albert Exendine; the baseball captain, track captain and Sicensi Nori, president; Frank Hudson, treasurer, and Alfred M. Venne, athletic manager. These men are all Indians and have matured judgment in athletic matters.

Many of last year's footballists have returned to Carlisle within the last two weeks, and it is not thought that it will be hard to fill the place of even such phenomenal footballists as Lloyd Nephew, Arthur Sheldon, Frank Jude, Charles Roy and Charles Guyon, who will be among the missing this year. New material is coming in rapidly, and among others the famous Eskimo center, Nikifer Schouchuk, has returned to complete his industrial course.

The Carlisle Indian football management has decided to have its eleven directly coached by full-blooded redskins of intelligence. This was done largely because the Indian will work harder for an Indian coach than for the average college expert trainer. Coach Glenn S. Warner is undoubtedly the only white man who has ever been able to hold fast the attention of the redskinned footballist and teach him better things.

- The upper grades enjoy visiting their garden and most always bring home something they have raised, Frances Ghan-graw, a member of the Senior Class, seems to be the only one who could raise red peppers, and she enjoys eating them too.
- Clarence Woodbury, recieved a delicious box of preserved peaches, oranges, and pears from California Wednesday. Clarence's many friends anxiously awaited for him to open the box, and all reported a delectable feast of "Goodies."
- The hearts of many Carlisle employes and pupils were made sad last week by the news of the death of little Gertrude, the bright little seven-year-old daughter of Supt. and Mrs. H. B. Peairs of Haskell. Our heartfelt love and sympathy goes out to the afflicted family in their bereavement.
- Miss Yarnall's mother, who spent the summer here, left last Saturday for Indiana where she will spend some time with relatives. Later she will go to El Paso, New Mexico, where she will make her future home. Mrs. Yarnall made many warm friends during her stay here and we were sorry to see her go.
- Henry Thomas left the school last Monday evening bound for his home in Owahee, Nev. He intends to continue his studies this winter after spending a short visit with his friends and relatives, and will, as he expresses it, "of course come back to Carlisle again I suppose." Henry's cheerful frankness will be greatly missed by his co-members of the band and his schoolmates.
- Mrs. Brennan, whos husband is Agent Brennan of Pine Ridge Reservation, arrived on the eighth of September last, bringing with her James Crow, Charles WhiteDeer, Frank Calico, and Lucy Crow. She was the guest of Major and Mrs. Mercer, and appeared much pleased with Carlisle as she saw it during her short stay here. Being desirous of visiting her own home in Ohio as soon as possible she left on the following day. We hope she may stay longer the next time she comes.
- Three of the pupils which Mrs. Brennan brought here were taken from the Day school of Clarence Three Stars, one of the first pupils to enter the Carlisle Indian School. Clarence is doing very well in his work and deserves praise for his strong perseverance.

Lessons from the Cavalry Drill Regulations, U. S. Army

FORMATION OF THE TROOP.

564. The troop is formed in single rank and is divided into platoons, according to its strength; the division is so made that the platoons may be of nearly equal strength. Habitually the platoons should consist of not less than three nor more than six sets of fours.

When the rank is composed of less than 24 troopers, the division into platoons may be omitted.

In whatever direction the troop faces, the platoons are designated from the right when in line, and from the head when in column, first platoon, second platoon, and so on.

565. When the platoon is composed of four or more sets of fours, it is divided into two squads of equal or nearly equal strength, the division falling between sets of fours. A noncommissioned officer is assigned as the leader of each squad and placed as No. 1 of its right four. Noncommissioned officers and experienced privates are assigned as No. 1 of the other fours.

The squads, while in the rank with the troop, are designated as right squad, first platoon; left squad, first platoon, etc.; when in extended order or detached, each squad may be designated by the name of the noncommissioned officer in command for the time being; e. g.; Sergeant (or Corporal) —'s squad.

566. The captain shall require the troop to be formed so that men of the same squad, as provided in par. 267, A. R., shall be in consecutive order; this arrangement in squads may be made according to size, so that when the troop is formed, the tallest men are in the center and the shortest on the flanks.

POSTS OF OFFICERS, NONCOMMISSIONED OFFICERS, AND TRUMPETERS IN LINE.

567. The captain is eight yards in front of the center of the troop (par. 13).

The chiefs of platoons are two yards in front of the center of their platoons.

The first lieutenant commands the first platoon; the second lieutenant commands the platoon on the left of the troop.

The first sergeant is two yards in rear of the second four from the right; the second sergeant is two yards in rear of the second four from the left. They are called respectively the right and left principal guides; in addition to their duties as principal guides, they perform the duties of file closers.

When the troop is divided into more than two platoons, the center platoons, in the absence of officers, are commanded by sergeants in order of rank. A noncommissioned officer, preferably a sergeant, carries the guidon (see par. 1001), and is posted on the right of the troop; he is not counted in the rank.

568. Absent officers and noncommissioned officers are generally replaced by the next in rank or grade. In emergency, the captain may assign noncommissioned officers as he may deem necessary.

When the trumpeters are not united, one trumpeter accompanies the captain and is one yard to the left and one yard to the rear of the captain's horse; the other trumpeter is in the line of file closers, in rear of the third four.

On the march, when required to play, the trumpeters march at the head of the column.

569. Noncommissioned officers commanding troops or platoons have the same armament as the men of their troops; they do not execute the exercises in the manual. In rendering honors, they execute the present saber and advance carbine. Dismounted, they execute only the order and parade rest; in rendering honors, the present, when marching, the right shoulder.

TO FORM THE TROOP.

570. At the sounding of the assembly (par. 1130), the first sergeant takes his position in front of where the center of the troop is to form, and facing it, commands: FALL IN.

The guidon places himself facing to the front where the right of the troop is to rest, and at such a point that the center of the troop will be six yards from and opposite the first sergeant; the men fall in on the left of the guidon; the other sergeants assist in the formation and take their posts.

The first sergeant brings the troop to the right shoulder, he himself taking that position, and calls the roll; each man as his name is called answers "Here," and comes to the order. The first sergeant marches the troop to the stables, causes the men to saddle, bridle, and prepare to lead out.

571. The senior noncommissioned officer of each squad (par. 566) may be required to call the roll of his squad; each chief of squad takes post two yards in front of his squad, calls the roll, and faces to the front. When all have faced to the front, the first sergeant commands: REPORT. The chiefs of squads, commencing on the right, report the results to the first sergeant; each, as soon as he has reported, takes his post in line.

572. The first sergeant commands: LEAD OUT. The troopers lead out; the guidon, habitually mounted, takes post where the right of the rank is to rest, and faces in the direction in which it is to face; the troopers form on the left of the guidon at stand to horse, in single rank and with intervals of 18 inches between horses; noncommissioned officers, as far as practicable, take their places at once, or take post in rear of and near their places in line.

The first sergeant, mounted, commands: CALL OFF. The troopers count consecutive numbers from right, to left commencing on the right of the rank. The first sergeant then divides the troop into platoons and squads, causes the noncommissioned officers to take their posts, and commands: 1. Platoons, 2. COUNT FOURS. If there be but one trooper in the left four of a platoon, he is ordered into the line of file closers, or assigned to an incomplete four in another platoon; if the left four consists of two or three troopers, it may act as if complete; or that number may be assigned to incomplete fours in other platoons or may be ordered into the line of file closers.

The first sergeant, six yards in front of the center of the troop, turns about so as to face toward the captain, salutes with the right hand, reports the result of the roll call, and then without command takes his post habitually at the trot or canter.

The chiefs of platoons, mounted, as soon as the first sergeant reports, take post 10 yards in front of and facing their platoons.

The captain, mounted, takes post 12 yards in front of and facing the center of the troop; he returns the salute of the first sergeant, and commands: 1. PREPARE TO MOUNT, 2. MOUNT, 3. Form, 4. RANK.

At the command rank, the chiefs of platoons move forward, turn to the left about and take their posts.

573. In turning about, when moving to and from their posts, officers mounted habitually turn to the left about (par. 320).

574. If the formal roll call is to be omitted, the troop may be assembled in column of fours; the first sergeant indicates the direction the column is to face; he may post the guidon for this purpose; the first sergeant commands: 1. In column of fours, 2. FALL IN.

The men form in column of fours, the leading four abreast of the guidon and between him and the first sergeant.

575. In case of alarm or surprise, to horse is sounded. The men then saddle, pack, bridle, and mount with the utmost celerity and repair to the place of assembly, which is always previously designated.

TO FORM THE TROOP FOR DISMOUNTED SERVICE.

576. The men fall in, the roll is called, the troop is formed and turned over, and the officers, noncommissioned officers, and guidon take posts as at mounted formations, except that, when armed with the carbine, the first sergeant salutes with the carbine salute and takes his post at quick time; the sergeants, who, in mounted formations have places in the rank, take post as file closers between the first and second sergeants, and both trumpeters take post in the line of file closers, between the principal guides.

Whenever a troop falls in without arms, the men form as when under arms.
