The Price of a Drink

"Five cents a glass!" Does anyone think
That this is really the price of a drink?
"Five cents a glass," I hear you say;
"Why that isn't very much to pay."
Oh, no, indeed, 'tis a very small sum
You are passing o'er 'twixt finger and thumb
And if that were all that you gave away,
It wouldn't be very much to pay.

The price of a drink? Let him decide
Who has lost his courage and lost his pride,
And lies a groveling heap of c'ay,
Not far removed from beast to-day.
The price of a drink? Let that one tell
Who sleeps to-night in a murderer's cell,
And feels within him the fires of hell,
Honor and virtue, love and truth,
All the glory and pride of youth,
Hopes of manhood, the wreath of fame!
High endeavor, and noble aim—
These are the treasures thrown away,
As the price of a drink from day to day.

"Five cents a glass," How Satan laughed
As o'er the bar the young man quaffed
The beaded liquor; for the demon knew
The terrible work that drink would do.
And before the morning the victim lay
With his life blood swiftly ebbing away.
And that was the price he paid, alas!
For the pleasure of taking a social glass!

The price of a drink? If you want to know
What some are willing to pay for it, go
Through that wretched tenement over there,
With dingy windows and broken stair,
Where foul disease like a vampire crawls
With outstretched wing o'er the mouldy walls,
Where poverty dwells with her hungry brood,
Wild eyed as demons for lack of food;
There shame in a corner crouches low,
There violence deals its cruel blow,
And innocent ones are thus accursed,
To pay the price of another's thirst.

"Five cents a glass!" Oh, if that were all,
The sacrifice would indeed be small,
But the money's worth is the least amount
We pay, and whoever will keep account
Will learn the terrible waste and blight
That follows this ruinous appetite.
"Five cents a glass!" Does anyone think
That this is really the price of a drink?
—Josephine Pollard.

Growing House Plants From Seed

Seeds of the greenhouse type of plant may all be started in flats with window glass over the boxes to prevent too rapid evaporation of the moisture, but care must be taken to secure the right soil. Finely sifted woods earth, mixed with one-third sand loam, has proved a reliable combination in which to germinate the seeds of these plants.

To ensure good drainage put a layer of sharpened sand and bits of broken crockery and charcoal in the bottom of the box. Charcoal and bird sand are invariable accompaniments of all indoor gardening, and I always keep on hand a supply of both.

Buying the regular bird sand provides this necessity in a neat and convenient form, and charcoal is, of course, available in most households. Its use answers the double purpose of drainage, and (as all good housewives know) absorbing impurities.—M. K. Farland, in the September Garden Magazine.

Indian children are greater sticklers for precedent than are British Parliamentarians. As an excuse for doing some questionable act they burst into a chorus; "We al-ways do that!"—sometimes—once—just a lee—tle bit."

To All Students

The ARROW is published in the interest of the student body of the Indian Industrial School at Carlisle and is intended to be the official organ of the school. It is the ambition of those in charge to make it as nearly local as possible, containing from week to week notices of the progress of the boys and girls, both in the industrial and academic departments, letting the outer world know what is going on at the school, and chronicling from time to time the little events which tend to make the life at Carlisle pleasant, agreeable and profitable. There is not a pupil here but has friends or relatives somewhere who are interested in his or her welfare. To those in distant parts of the country who receive our little paper it is gratifying to read of some little incident in which their loved one took part. And it also takes the place of a letter which you have delayed writing. To make the paper what it should be is impossible without your cooperation. You can with very little effort help make the paper more interesting, and at the same time relieve the anxiety of the folks at home who are watching and praying for their boy or girl at Carlisle. How? Just take a few moments now and then and write up an item for the paper. Word it just as you please and hand it in to your teacher. It will be put into readable shape and printed. Any little occurrence, any new inspiration, anything that will act as an incentive to higher works and ideals, will be received and welcomed. Sign your name to the item, not for publication but as a guarantee of good faith. Anonymous communications will be consigned to the waste basket. Avoid all personalities, as nothing will be published that even has a suspicion of venom or ridicule in it. Then come over to the Printing Office and subscribe for the ARROW to be sent to your home folks or some friend in your home town. Thus the paper will be a weekly visitor to cheer the old folks at home, and at the same time you have assisted yourself and your school paper.

When Silo Corn Should Be Cut

It is of primary importance to know at what stage corn should be cut to secure the best results says Farming. It is also necessary that a careful study be made as to how rapidly nutriment is stored up in the corn plant and when the maximum amount is reached. When corn is fully tasseled it contains but eight-tenths of a ton of dry matter per acre or one-fifth what it contains when fully ripe. When in milk it contains nearly three times as much dry matter as when fully tasseled. Only seventeen days were occupied in passing from the milk to the glazing stage, yet in this time there was an increase in the dry matter of 1.3 tons per acre. This shows the great advantage of letting the corn stand until the kernels are glazed. After this period the increase in dry matter is but slight.

An Indian driver had a dress suit case under his wagon seat. A "tenderfoot" might suppose that contained the driver's good clothes. But no, something better than that—corn for his horse!

PROVERB

Be always in time; too late is a "crime." Promptness is the soul of business.

The Standards

The Standard Literary Society held its first regular meeting last Friday evening in the Standard Hall. The meeting was somewhat short and informal but peculiarly interesting to all present.

The Society president, William Jackson called the house to order, and opened the first session of the season by having the society sing the stirring society song, "Hail Standards En Avant." This was conducted by Archie Dundas and was sung with the spirit and vim of olden times.

Excepting the appointment of a nominating committee, there was no important business to be transacted at that time consequently the President turned the session into an experience meeting in which each individual member was given the opportunity of recounting his summer experience.

Mr. Henry Law, being the first gentlemen called upon to tell about himself, gave a very detailed account of his duties on the poultry farm. He told many curious incidents in connection with his chickens and their keepers, telling how he enjoyed his work among them and how much he had learned in his occupation, ending however with the startling assertion that "he had a very pleasant time last summer because there was lots of times that he didn't know what to do with himself." Archie Libby then rose and flung the gentle retort, that many farmer boys content to let the time fly by while they idly broke clods with the toes of their boots, and hoped that none of the Carlisle boys derived their pleasure from some similar occupation.

Immediately following the remarks of these two gentlemen were those of Messrs. Jackson, Billy, Winnie, Eagleman, Silk, and others which were fully as interesting and novel as the first two.

The hour of adjournment came too soon to satisfy the coterie of speakers who had been holding the floor from time to time.

Although a large attendance honored the first meeting of the Standards, still several seats remain vacant in the hall. Let it be the aim of every old member to fill these vacant seats with new members who are strangers to the work. The honor of the society should be upheld by every member on its rolls.

The Society looks forward to a successful and progressive year and looks to every individual member to help make it so.

AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

Carlisle once more places the Red and Gold at the Head of the Procession.

On Wednesday last the Carlisle Indian Football Team opened the season of 1906 with the first important game of football under the new rules played in the United States, having as its opponent the team from Villa Nova College, a team that has been most carefully coached and one that is considered above the average and to whom the knowing ones look for results.

The game opened at 3 o'clock sharp with a kick off by Villa Nova and from that moment to the finish of the last half there was a series of scrimmages, tackles, punts, forward passes and open plays that made the heart of the rooters leap with joy. The Villa Novas are a team that are not to be overlooked in this season's events. They are a strong, husky body of men, with an average weight far exceeding the Indians and were indeed a "tough proposition" for the first game.

But Carlisle never fails in her duty. The Indians played foot-ball and played it to win. They generally do. Capt Exendine "got busy" at once and marshalled his men in a masterly manner and while in some of the forward passes the Villa Novas displayed a superior handling of the ball, yet at no time was there any doubt as to the result of the game. The first half ended in Indians 6, Villa Nova 0, made by a touchdown scored by Little Boy from which Mt. Pleasant kicked a goal.

Representatives were present from various colleges and football teams, all with an eye on the Indians, taking notes here and there, and figuring out in their own minds how their team would come out in a line up with our team.

The general opinion of the football authorities present as to the new rules was that the game is brought much closer to Basket ball game and the only good feature is that it permits a closer observation of details for the spectators.

The second half while very exciting at times did not change the score and the game was called closing the first game of the season and starting Carlisle's list of games won for 1906.

The line-up was as follows:

Carlisle.	Positions	Villa Nova
Gardner (Simpson)	left end	Daniels
Houser (Bowen)	left tackle	Rock
Dillon (Little Old Man)	left guard	Richards
Hunt (Schuehuk)	center	Buckley
Larocque	right guard	Moore
Lubo (Dubois)	right tackle	Barr
Exendine (Capt.)	right end	Walsh
A. Libby (Charles)	quarter-back	Kane
Mt. Pleasant	left half back	Slavin
J. Libby (Hendricks)	right half back	McGinn
Little Boy (Winnie)	full back (O'Conner)	McGeehan

Halves 20 and 15 minutes. Officials—Referee, Dr. Harvey Smith, University of Pennsylvania, Umpire, Dr. Dunbar, Phoenixville. Linesmen, Roderick, Princeton.

The game was witnessed by the largest crowd ever assembled on Indian Field at a foot-ball game and the numerous automobiles and carriages were a conspicuous feature of the attendance.

The grand stand was filled to overflowing and the entire East side of the track was filled with interested and enthusiastic spectators.

The singing of the Carlisle songs to popular airs and the war cries and yells of the students were enjoyed by the entire multitude present.

The Villa Nova team are a gentlemanly lot of young men, all of whom are imbued with the true sporting spirit and both teams played a good, square, clean, honest game. It should not be at all discouraging to the visiting team that they met defeat. They have but to remember (and it might be well for all the teams to remember) that when they line up with the Indians they are "up against the real thing."

The game scheduled for tomorrow with Albright will give the Indians a chance to try a few little tricks of the game that the Villa Novas showed them on Wednesday and it will be expected of the team, as is customary, that a score be rolled up in our favor that will be a "thing of beauty and a joy forever."

AFTERMATH

It wasn't so easy, was it? Shove them around again, Carlisle. It was certainly a shame to spoil those nice blue and white sweaters.

Our famous quarter-back, Archie Libby, remarks that he is about to study astronomy and see if he can locate some of the new stars he saw during a recent "tangle up" of his.

Great credit is due the athletic committee for the manner in which the crowd was handled. Not a hitch anywhere.

The hustling Director of the Bureau of Publicity, Mr. Hugh Miller, is to be congratulated on the grand attendance at the game. Untiring effort and continuous hustle found its reward.

Mr. Venne, the manager, took every precaution for the comfort of the patrons and at the close of the game had five trolley cars waiting to convey the crowd back to town.

Now, boys you've started the ball rolling, keep it up. There is not a team in Pennsylvania that can scare you and if you will follow the instructions of Coaches Pierce and Hudson you will grill to a finish any team that steps on the gridiron against you.

Athletic Notes

- ➔ The painters are making up a football shop team this fall.
- ➔ The Junior Varsity boys are practicing hard for the 28th of September.
- ➔ The small boys have Eastern and Western football teams and play every night.
- ➔ The blacksmiths football team have elected Lewis Rannels their captain this fall.
- ➔ The shop foot-ball teams are now being organized and some good work is expected from them.
- ➔ The Junior Varsity team has had a few line ups and find that they are developing in hanging together.
- ➔ Jonas Jackson who is organizing a printers' team expects to have the best football team of the shops this fall.
- ➔ Coach Bemus Pierce has cut out morning practice for his football squad and instead the rules are studied and discussed. Knowledge of the new rules is one essential to a football player and to the spectators also.
- ➔ Jack Jackson writes to a friend, saying he likes his country home very much and wishes to be remembered to his many friends here.
- ➔ The Junior Varsity expect to have more games this fall than they had last year. The boys are working hard so as to be in good trim for the first game.

Society Notes:

The Invincibles held a very enjoyable meeting last Friday night, when the following program was rendered:—

Duet, Trombone and Cornet, Arthur Mandan and Charles M. Huber; Declamation, William White; Essay, Fritz Hendricks; Extemporaneous speeches, Louis Island and Albert M. Screamer; Vocal Solo, Albert Screamer; Oration, Louis Island.

Debate: Resolved: That Lincoln was a greater benefactor to his country than Washington. Affirmative, Charles Huber and William White. Negative, Louis Island and Arthur Mandan.

The affirmative won the decision.

Academic

→ The singing and drawing classes began their work this week.

→ Olga Reinken who recently entered the Normal as a pupil teacher enjoys her work.

→ The Freshmen are studying about the Civil War in history and find it very interesting.

→ The Freshmen Class were very sorry to see Henry Thomas go home. They lost a very good member of their class.

→ We are informed that Alice Attaquin a member of the Freshmen class who went to the country, likes her new home very much.

→ Now that the cool wave has come, the school is down to hard work in every department. Study hour will begin soon.

→ All pupils will write home letters on Monday and Tuesday. The home folks are always glad to hear from their boys and girls. Write them a good letter.

→ Mr. Canfield is teaching in No. 6 while Mr. Henderson is away on business for the school. We are always glad to have Mr. Canfield back at school.

→ A letter was received from Pheobe J. Leonard a member of the Junior class, who went to the country for the winter, stating she has a fine country home, but had not yet started to school.

→ Some of the normal pupils could hardly keep their minds on their lessons when the music room was first put in use on Monday. They would like to have sung with the other classes.

→ "Reliance," is the motto of the class 1910. The colors for the class are steel gray and garnet. The class also adopted red carnation for the class flower. This flower is to be worn by the members of the class 1910 on all special occasions.

→ The supplementary reading books have been moved out of the dark book room into the old library room. Miss Anne Minthorn has labeled the shelves and put them in good order. These books add greatly to our interest in nature study, history and geography and Indian biography.

Large Boys Quarters (From THE ARROW Special)

Croquet and tennis hold a large number of interesting players and spectators in all leisure hours although football is "in the air".

Which society will get the most desirable membership this year will depend on the energy of the members. Be sure you do your best for your society.

There is new interest taken in work of the print shop. Let the good work continue and our present enthusiasm wear well.

This winter the boys on the second and third floor of the Large Boys Quarters will have conveniences not before afforded. Each floor will be supplied with faucets and sinks in middle hall. Up to this time the 300 boys have had to use the two sinks and two faucets both outside the building.

The troops will be permanently organized this week, and with many new uniforms, the officers with new shoulder straps, we hope to make such an appearance at the Fair and the Harrisburg Dedication that all the favorable comments which have been earned in years gone by will be again deserved.

The work connected with drilling and equipping nearly 300 men, many of whom have never carried a gun or worn a uniform, is something more than the "man on the street" knows. But when the Carlisle boys get out to show off their accomplishment the onlookers are never disappointed.

If you are a new boy at Carlisle and you can play football, lacrosse, if you have played in a band, if you can sing well, run fast, jump high, or take command of a squad for military work, don't stand back waiting to be asked—go to the foot-ball coach, band master, disciplinarian, principal, or some one else and let them know what you can do best. Don't wait to be coaxed for fear you may be forgotten when the the rush of fellows comes who are anxious for a chance to try.

LOCAL MISCELLANY

Personal Points and Pungent Paragraphs Pertaining to the School in General

→ We all go to the fair on Friday.

→ Minnie White and Mary Cooke came Tuesday morning.

→ The band will start its rehearsals after the parade at Harrisburg, October 4.

→ The large boys have been drilling nearly every night after supper during last week.

→ The winter is near at hand and the leaves of trees are turning into red and gold.

→ The boys are thinking of making a good showing in Harrisburg, on the fourth of October.

→ Nancy Hasholy and Josephine Good Iron were among the first to patronize the new studio.

→ The matrons and the clothes girls are very busy these days getting the winter clothing ready for use.

→ The girls presented a fine appearance last Sunday when they wore their new fall uniforms for the first time.

→ Miss Adelia Jenesse is getting along very nicely in Philadelphia. She spent her vacation at Asbury Park.

→ While the Major was out riding Tuesday morning the school photographer took a fine picture of him and Comanche.

→ Miss Jemima Doctor returned from her home in New York last Saturday morning and her many friends were glad to see her back again.

→ Mr. Kensler and his helpers have been kept very busy for the last few days in storing away winter supplies which are being sent to him in large quantities just now.

→ We learned through a letter that John Walkington who went home account of his health, is improving and wishes to be remembered to his friends at Carlisle.

→ Miss Lucy Nauwegesic, reports the cold weather they are having at her home in Michigan. She says it is not like the weather we have at Carlisle in the month of September.

→ In a recent letter from John H. Miller, '02, written at Rapid City, Mich., he states "I am getting along finely on my farm. I have nearly all my fall work done. Remember me to all Carlislers."

→ Victor Johnson, who spent his vacation at home in the state of Washington last summer was seen passing through Philadelphia a few days ago on his way to Dartmouth College, where he intends to study for the next four years.

→ A letter from Ollie Chisholm, who is living at Oak Lane says, "Miss Austin is so nice to me, but I do get so very lonesome." Ollie also spoke of the nice home which Mary Bailey has and said she and Mary expected to start to school on Monday.

→ Anna Minthorn who is here on a visit brought with her several jars of delicious fruit from Oregon. Those who were invited enjoyed the preserves very much for they showed careful work on the part of Anna. She has been a western "farmeress" since she graduated.

→ Mr. Geo. Lydick from Chippewa, Minn., came in last Saturday evening bringing with him the following party: Frank and Charles Laquin, James Hunter, Adeline Boutang, Cora McDonald, Margery Flemming, Ruth Lydick and also Henry Lydick, who spent the summer at home and waited to return with his father.

→ Nancy DeLorimiere returned Tuesday from her home at Hogansburg, New York, bringing with her Anges Tarbell and Mary Garlow. She brings good reports of our returned students there. Michael Solomon and Nettie Cole were married in July and are living near Hogansburg where Michael is farming. Christie Cooke is helping her mother at the dress making trade.

→ Charlotte Cooke Bigtree has a bright little baby whom she will one day send to Carlisle.

→ Maggie Hill came in on Tuesday.

→ Mary Ladouceur went to the country last Monday.

→ Bessie and Fannie Charley have returned looking well.

→ Several new students arrived from the "Gopher State" last Saturday afternoon.

→ Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Williams from New York are here visiting some of our students.

→ Everyone agreed that the girls excelled the boys in practicing foot-ball songs and yells Tuesday.

→ Miss Anna Minthorn has arrived from Oregon, looking very well and happy. Anna graduated in 1906.

→ Olive Chisolm, who recently went to Oak Lane, Philadelphia, writes that she likes her country home.

→ The box of fruit that was received by Clarence Woodbury from California was enjoyed by a number of girls.

→ Miss Claudie Marie writes to a friend saying she likes her country home very well. This is her first time out into the country since she came.

→ Jesse Palmer, a former student whose home is at Fort Totten, N. Dak., writes to Mr. Thompson that he has left for Arizona because of poor health.

→ James Thorpe who went to the country for the winter writes that he got a very good place and likes it. We wish him best success through the winter.

→ Frances Laroque has gone to her home in North Dakota on account of ill health. All her friends were sorry to see her leave, and hope she will recover soon.

→ Miss Goodyear has returned to duty in the sewing room. She has been away on account of sickness of a relative. Mrs. Loninger, who substituted in her place has gone home.

→ Shela Guthrie returned last Saturday evening. She has been spending her summer at home in the town of Guthrie, named after her grandfather, and appears to have had a very enjoyable vacation.

→ Freeman Johnson made a very eloquent address last Friday before the Standard Literary Society, in which he told of his experiences while at Long Branch.

→ Mrs. Foster took the girls out walking Sunday and they all reported as having a good time. The girls were all dressed in their winter uniforms and looked very nice.

→ Miss Ella Petoskey, Class of '04, is preparing to enter Northwestern University, at Benton Harbor College, in Michigan. We are all in hopes that she will succeed in her attempt.

→ Mr. Charles Dillon has returned to his winter residence in the Bachelor's Quarters where he expects to remain during the football season. All the inmates of the Bachelor flat are pleased to see him back again.

→ Dora Cooke says, in her letter, that she is enjoying her studies in the commercial branch of the Haskell Institute. She speaks also about several other Carlisle ex-students doing well. We miss Dora greatly but wish her success.

→ Last Thursday on the 20th of September there arrived from Peoria, Oklahoma, to be enrolled as students of the school, Bessie and Fannie Charlia, and Jemima Doctor. Bessie and Jemima are former students who have been gladly welcomed back to Carlisle by their many friends.

→ Eli Peazzoni, Grover Long and Isaac Gould, were delegates to the Seventh District Y. M. C. A. Convention held at Harrisburg Friday, Saturday and Sunday. They heard Fred B. Smith, "America's greatest speaker for Men," Sunday afternoon he spoke to over two thousand men.

→ The trolley car now has its terminal further down the road opposite the new Art Studio. This is something to remember, because when you look for the car it is not there, but in this like everything else, you should look a little further ahead. It may be there.

→ Miss Sarah Pierie, who has been for eight years a faithful employee at Carlisle, working in the hospital almost all of that time, has gone to Ignacia, Col., where she has been transferred. She is a graduate of Chemawa, and was later a pupil of Carlisle when she afterwards took the position in Miss Barr's department, where many a sick pupil has learned to appreciate her efficiency as a thoughtful nurse. Her friends regret her departure.

Industrial

→ Lydia P. Faber and Emma Fisher are working in the laundry this week.

→ The school photographer, and his boys have been busy for the last few days taking views of our school grounds and its buildings.

→ Mr. Weber and his boys are busy installing radiator coils in the new addition to the dining hall where they have also installed a new sink.

→ Josephine Mark, who has been working in the dining room for some time, says that she enjoys her work very much and is doing her work splendidly. Josephine has been acting as head boss.

→ Jonas Homer and Nicholas Creevden are kept quite busy fulfilling their duties as assistant photographers under Mr. Hensel. They spent a great part of last Monday morning taking new views of the school grounds.

The Printers' Team

Mr. Jonas Jackson of the printing office detail has been working early and late for the formation of a football team, and has at last succeeded, with the assistance of the tailors, in getting together a team, which after being coached by Archie Libby, "our quarterback," will line up against any of the shop teams looking for football honors. The captain of the team is James Paisano and they expect to be in the heat of the fray are many moons. The line-up follows:

The Harrisburg Trip.

From the various papers throughout the State it is learned that a great deal of interest is manifested in the proposed attendance of the Carlisle Indian Cadets at the Dedicatory Ceremony at Harrisburg next Thursday, and it is sincerely hoped that the boys will all make an effort to sustain the fair name of Carlisle in every respect. The Carlisle students will be accompanied by their band and full complement of officers and will present a fine appearance. Let it be the particular effort of every student to be at his best on this occasion. Put your best foot forward and let it be evident that the Indian is not to be outdone in anything by his white brother.

→ Last Sunday the girls took a walk to the cave and all enjoyed it.

→ We are glad to say Miss Josephine Smith has turned out to be quite a good seamstress.

→ Quite a number of visitors were out to hear our concert last week. It was greatly enjoyed by all.

→ The boys and girls are going to attend the Cumberland County Fair this afternoon. The boys in full uniform before going to the fair grounds, where they will give a dress parade and execute Butts' Manual, will march around in Carlisle.

The Sociable

The regular weekly sociable of the "co-eds" last Saturday evening was largely attended by both student and teachers who, one and all, seemed to enjoy themselves to the uttermost. The band was in good trim and discoursed sweet music for the dancers and pleasure reigned supreme. The new school year is now well under way and the sociable has taken its place as one of the functions of the week looked forward to by the entire student body.

The Normal Room.

- ➔ A peep in the Normal Room any afternoon will find the little ones busy in free hand cutting and clay modeling.
- ➔ The children have shown a great interest in modeling. Last week they modeled the sphere all did very well. This week they are to model the apple.
- ➔ The E Class turned out some fine apples. Mary Star and Christie Ramsome had the most perfect apples.
- ➔ The normal room has almost a hundred small boys and girls on roll.

Safe Arrivals at Home

Mesa Grande, Cal.
Sept. 5, 1906.

DEAR MAJOR:
I arrived here safe after a long and tiresome journey. Have been on the road nine days. I found the place very much changed since I left it over nine years ago.

Respectfully
WM. SCHOLDER.

Ketchikan, Alaska.
Sept. 2, 1906.

DEAR MAJOR:
I arrived home safely and my people are glad to see me back again. But I will never forget Carlisle.

Yours truly,
SARAH JOHNNY.

Woodman Spare that Tree

One by one the giant shade trees that have stood faithful guard over the school grounds for many years past, are slowly dying from old age and being felled as dangerous sentinels near the much frequented walks about the buildings. The last of these to fall was the one standing at the corner of the dining room porch. Sunbeams now warm the air its shadows were wont to cool. Notwithstanding the loss of these old time relics of "Young Carlisle," the grounds seem to grow more beautiful each succeeding year. New buildings now fill the space of once vacant lots, new flower gardens break the monotony of once unbroken lawns, and healthy products of Arbor Day labor rise proudly to fill the places of their failing fathers.

An Indian wanted a photograph of his child and asked the teacher whether she had "one of those machines to draw pictures."

The Photographic Studio

It will be welcome news to both student and teacher to learn that the new photographic studio is now fully equipped and in active operation. Mr. Hensel who is in charge is an experienced and accomplished artist, whose work is well known and who is putting forth every effort to turn out the best class of work obtainable. The prices charged are far less than the price for cheap work and yet the work itself can not be duplicated anywhere at any price. Call and talk it over with Mr. Hensel and then see yourself as others see you.

OVERFLOW ITEMS

Crowded out last week in consequence of lack of space

- ➔ Zoa Hardin is the assistant matron at small boys quarters.
- ➔ Mary Cooke came in with new students from New York last week.
- ➔ A barking dog seldom bites, but his bark is liable to cause a lot of trouble.
- ➔ Shala Guthry who is visiting her sister in California wishes to be remembered to all her Carlisle friends.
- ➔ Miss Stella Blythe says that she enjoys her work as a housekeeper very well in Canaan Four Corners, N. Y.
- ➔ Miss Blanche Lay, Class '06, writes that she enjoys home life. Blanche wishes to be remembered to her Carlisle friends.
- ➔ Fred Nelson Blue came in from Catauba, South Carolina, last week to be enrolled as a regular member of the school.
- ➔ Myrtle Ingram, who went home last spring, is chief-cook in a boarding-house at Weaversville, Calif., at seventy-five dollars a month.
- ➔ Mary Yates came in on account of health and is now in the hospital. All her friends are glad to see her, but regret her illness.
- ➔ Mr. William B. Jackson, an ex-student says in a letter to a friend, that he is getting along finely which of course we are glad to hear.
- ➔ Thos. Walton who went home last summer on account of his health, is now well and works in his father's store at Sitka, Alaska.
- ➔ Mary Runnels, who went to her home in Washington, is planning for a busy winter as she expects to go into the dressmaking business soon.
- ➔ Lucinda Welch and Elizabeth Sequayah, after spending a pleasant summer in North Carolina, have recently returned to the East and will work in Delaware county, Pa.

Few of the boys went to town Saturday morning to see the class rush between the Sophomore and Freshmen classes of Dickinson College. Sophomores won, first half by 5 feet; second half by 9 feet.

We all had an enjoyable time at Port Royal last week. The band boys were taken to different private homes on Thursday night and every one thought he had the best place in town.

The two Foster brothers, William and John, arrived on the school grounds last week. They have been away from Carlisle for over two years and were pleased to see the "old place again." William has been working in a round-house in Philadelphia for sometime where he has reached the position of machinist with good recommendation. John has also left school and is working in a railroad office learning the trade of telegraphy. Mr. Eckert of Somerton, who employs these two Alaskan boys has given favorable reports of their willingness to work and commendable conduct. Carlisle has a special interest in those of its sons who thus launch out alone to solve the problem of success by plucky works.

Sunday School Notes

Teachers and pupils are glad to meet again in Sunday School.

On September 16 there were 157 girls and 15 teachers in attendance.

On September 9 there were 161 girls and 40 boys.

Miss McDowell is the Superintendent of the Sunday School.

The services are made as interesting and instructive as possible and the interest and enthusiasm is on the increase.
