INDIANS BREAK RECORDS

Bucknell College Falls in Defeat Before the Carlisle Indian Athletes—84 to 20

On Saturday last, in a drizzling rain, before a large crowd of students and visitors who had braved the elements, the Carlisle Indian athletes demonstrated their superiority over a fast aggregation from Bucknell.

The visitors, who were a promising bunch, were ably handled by Coach George W. Hoskins, and after their defeat of Dickinson a short while ago, came out to the field confident of victory. But Carlisle has a coach, too. "Pop" Warner had his men under good control and as event after event was pulled off the value of efficient coaching and strict compliance with instructions was plainly manifested.

The 100 yard dash was a hotly contested race. Twohearts winning by a very small margin to Mt. Pleasant, who came in second, within 4-5 of a second of the record.

In the two-mile run the school record of 10 min. 17 sec., held by Walter Hunt, was broken and 9 seconds cut off by the same Walter. In this race Hunt showed himself to be a "stayer." Starting out with his well-known Pawnee stride he swung around the track as steadily as a pendulum, running away from the Bucknellites, and leaving them a full quarter mile behind at the finish. As he passed the sprinter from Bucknell Walter patted him on the back and encouraged him, but left him a lap behind at the finish. Hunt kept his stride to the end and succeeded in breaking his record. The school record now is 10 min. 8 sec.

In the high jump the record was broken and another inch added by George Thomas, who won first and Thorpe, second. The record held by that of Exendine was superseded by that of Thomas, 5 ft. 9 1/4.

In the pole vault Charles Mitchell won first against Knapp, of Bucknell, second.

Mitchell is a strong, graceful vaulter and was up against a good man in Knapp. After Mitchell had won the event, just by way of diversion he took the pole and in a very graceful manner raised the record, so long held by Jude, to 10 ft. 7 in., a gain of one inch. There it stands.

In the hammer throw Billy was not in good trim. Linehart, of Bucknell was a big athlete and threw the hammer 123 1/2 feet. Billy second. At the State meet Billy threw 136 ft., 8 in., and in the next throw after Linehart won Billy threw it 2 feet beyond Linehart's winning throw.

In the half-mile run Blackstar won easily, with Fred Pappan a close second, after a most credible sprint.

The other events were all exciting and brought forth great applause from the grandstand.

This closes the schedule for track meets for the season and we have two victories to our credit—State and Bucknell, and they are victories about which there is no doubt.

Following is the

Aspirants for Tennis Honors

Some of the bachelors of the Industrial Department are secretly carrying on practice in the handling of the tennis racquet and during the early summer developments may be expected. The tailor and the baker are considering the advisability of issuing a challenge, barring none, to an open game. Should they lose their game they will devote the balance of the season to "Mumble-the-peg."

A FAMILIAR SCENE JUST AT THIS SEASON

RED JACKET

Moses Shongo, Father of Clifford Shongo, a Direct Descendant of the Famous Chief

The Rochester Herald has the following in regard to Moses Shongo, the father of Mr. Clifford Shongo, who for sometime has been with us, devoting his attention to baseball matters. "Cliff" married Miss Dora Reinkin, one of our ex-students, who is now visiting her home in Alaska. Clifford left for Buffalo during the past week, where he will locate.

"Moses Shongo, the Seneca Indian who is employed as interpreter at the murder trial of Harrison Hill in the United States Court, now in progress at the Federal Building, is a most interesting character and a direct descendant of the famous Indian chieftain, Red Jacket. Mr. Shongo speaks six languages of the Iroquois, besides excellent English. He is the custodian of the Buffalo Historical Society and one of the best informed men at the present time of the life of the different tribes of the Six Nations, and is familiar with their old superstitions, myths and legends.

"Hah-geou-gwis (Council Fire Extinguisher) was the father of Red Jacket, Day-uh-yite-tah. Red Jacket, Jr., being the oldest son, was entitled to all the rights, privileges and titles of the father. He had a family of seven children, the youngest, Gaw-waeoh-nechs, (The Flower Girl) being the mother of Hah-non-dia-suh's, grandmother of Moses Shongo; so that this Indian is in the fifth degree removed from the famous Seneca chief.

"Shongo is one of the very few Indians conversant with the old traditions of the red race; of the religious ideas; of the giving of the law; of the teachings of the medicine men and the origin of Ote-goh-eah, or the Indian wampum, said to have originated with the Passamaquaddy Indians.

"There is a legend connected with the origin of the word, and the Indians believe it was first used on a floating island in the middle of a great swamp situated somewhere in the New England States.

"There the messenger from the Creator took one of the older members of the tribe and instructed him in the use and meaning of wampum, which was used as the record of their government.

"In an interview with a Herald reporter yesterday, Mr. Shongo said: "Soon after the sweeping victories of 1779 by General Sullivan against the Indians that broke the Iroquois Confederacy, the Indians were gradually moving toward the head waters of the Alleghany River, for the purpose of going down the river in floats. In making the trip they stopped at the Cornplanter Reservation and a council was held.

"Red Jacket was present, and it was decided that they should go and see the "Great Father," George Washington. Six braves, headed by their redoubtable chief as their spokesman, were selected to make up the delegation.

"Upon arriving at Philadelphia, Red Jacket approached Washington and said: "You our father, have defeated us in sweeping victories over us. Your soldiers have all our lands. The birds are happy and are singing, and are roosting peaceably in the trees. The wild animals all have their burrows in which to hide from the raging storms, but the Indians have no place to rest. We have not even a place to lie down, or a place to bury our dead. We have come to you as children to their father to ask forgiveness, and we will be your friend forever if you will let us stay until our old die."

"It was at this time that Washington said he would forgive the Indians and promised that we will be brothers." One of treasures of the Buffalo Historical Society is a medal presented to Red Jacket at that time, together with the pipe of peace smoked by the Great White Father and the Indians."

To Canadian Subscribers

In consequence of the action of the Canadian postal authorities, requiring a one-cent stamp on each periodical entering Canada, from and after this date the subscription price of THE ARROW will be 75 cents per year, to all subscribers in the Dominion. With a subscription price of 25 cents per year and 50 cents postage to pay, we can see our finish—hence this decision. If you live in Canada and want THE ARROW let us hear from you.

Musical Entertainment

On Tuesday the Juniors held a musical entertainment in the auditorium. The meeting was called to order by Robert Davenport the president of the class. It being the last meeting of the year, the Juniors followed their motto "Onward" and made this one the grandest and most successful one of any the Juniors ever participated in.

The Seniors were present and this was a kind of a surprise to them for they did not know they were going to visit the Junior's until reaching the schoolroom.

Programs were nicely printed with the figures of '09, on them and distributed to the audience by Raymond Hitchcock. First on the program was a selection by the orchestra (Junior boys) which was well rendered. John White gave a vocal solo, with Mr. C. M. Stauffer as accompanist. This was a classical selection and John handled it without difficulty and received great applause. Florence Hunter and Elsie Schenandore rendered piano solos which were greatly received. Charles Mitchell demonstrated his ability as a clarinetist by giving a clarinet solo. Ralph Waterman being in town hurried back at his utmost speed to fill out his part of the program, which he did by a trombone solo. Cecelia Baronovitch also demonstrated herself as a vocalist by rendering a solo which received an encore in response to great applause. Cecelia has a melodious, gentle, little voice, which once heard could never be forgotten. A quartette made up of Elmira Jerome, Martha Day and Cecelia Baronovitch, with Florence Hunter as pianist filled every one's heart with ecstasy. Miss Wood made a few remarks regarding the evening and adjournment followed.—X-RAY.

From Albert Simpson

FORT DEFIANCE, ARIZ., May 24, 1907.

DEAR MAJOR:—We, Arizonians are enjoying the warm, spring breezes. The spring is late here and the farmers are just planting their early vegetables. The sweet melodies of the spring birds in the beautiful colored canyons of Arizona seem to make us more happy after being in all kinds of weather. When Robert and I got here we were having the sand-storms and snow-storms. But now, the flowing of the streams, singing of the birds, straw-hats, the sunshine, and the nice cool strolls in Arizona's canyons tell us the tale for the summer. I found Fort Defiance a nice place. It is situated in one of the canyons on a plateau formed like a stadium. On the west of it a small canyon leads up to a monument to Kit Carson. It is a rock formed like a monument. Coming back to the Fort we find an old house still standing dating back to 1848. This is where Kit Carson used to have his stopping place during his career. Two hundred feet east of this house we find another old house which used to be Gen. Sherman's headquarters. It is now used as a school hospital.

Last Friday Commissioner F. E. Leupp arrived here after visiting Grand Junction, Colorado. He stayed with us one day and the day following he left for St. Michael, a few miles from here. But taking so much interest in the beautiful canyons he missed the road and took the wrong road. He was then lost for two days. The first night he had experience in sleeping among the sagebrush of Arizona. Next evening we heard that he had discovered the road to St. Michael, and he is now on his way to the dome of the Capitol.

Dr. Harrison, the agent, went in Mr. Robert Friday's baker shop and cut a slice of bread for the Commissioner. The Commissioner ate it with a smile and then remarked to Dr. Harrison saying, "I could not get a better baker than him."

I was waiting for Commissioner to come in to the blacksmith shop, but he did not have time to do so. We were very busy on that day when he was here.

Mr. Stewart the head blacksmith and I are very busy for the spring work. Most of the work we do is horse-shoeing, breaking off the interfering, stumbling, striking, and making Navajo's design brands.

Navajos make their own designs. They make a drawing of the brand so we can have little trouble in forging an iron into a shape of a brand. These designs can be easily seen on the Navajo blankets. I have made a good many of them and when Mr. Stewart looked at them he would say, "Oh! Mr. Simpson, these are daisies." Anything I have already made seems to bring the daisies into his mind. Another work we do is setting wagon tires and we set them so when striking with a hammer on the rim of the wheel it will sound like a G chord on a piano.

The employees of Fort Defiance are very nice people. It is to us a joy and happiness to live among the good people.

I like the work here but I rather work still harder than I am doing now. We sometimes do carpenter work and during my spare hours I usually work on house furniture and carpenter work. I am often asked where I learned to be a cabinet-maker and carpenter and I usually tell them I never did try to learn these two trades, but by observation of the cabinet and carpenter work I managed to make a song of music. But I am sorry to say that the climate does not agree with my weak eyes, and I am thinking of making a change in the fall. If it is necessary for me to see Carlisle once more I will try to get a few Navajos to go on the warpath against Pennsy(U.P.).

There are good many boys who want to go to Carlisle. Navajos are very faithful workers, a smart, energetic set of young fellows but lack of education keeps them under the blanket. May the Almighty lead them up to the gate of civilization.

Robert and I are getting well acquainted with the place and on Sundays we usually attend the early service at the Episcopal Hospital.

There are 12,000 Navajos on this reservation so you can imagine what we are doing here day after day.

A surprise comes to me after being here two months that I have already gained ten pounds by the use of good food and sleep.

I wish to say that without the "ARROW" I feel very lonesome.

I must now close with best wishes and regards to the school and its faculty.

A success to my athletic-mates remaining at Carlisle, and hoping that they will always win their games and meets, for victory belongs to the most persevering.

Yours respectfully,

ALBERT H. SIMPSON.

Two Base-Ball Victories

The Indians easily defeated the Millersville State Normal team last Saturday afternoon, by the score of 10 to 2. Garlow pitched a splendid game, striking out 17 men. The Indians landed heavily on the Millersville pitcher and secured in all 14 hits.

Friday the Albright base-ball twirlers struck a snag on Indian Field, when they crossed bats with the Indians. The game was a close one until Hauser laced the ball out for a three-bagger, and the way he covered the ground around the diamond created a sensation. He scored and then run after run rolled in. The next time Hauser got to the bat he made a two-base hit. LeRoy, Eagleman, and Miller pitched for the Indians and made good. Score at finish 9 to 1 in the Indians' favor.

Hints for Young Men

Young man are you growing discouraged?

Have others, younger and less experienced in your line of work, been shoved ahead of you?

Do you feel that there is lack of appreciation of your work on the part of your employers?

Do you feel that you should have a raise?

A word to you: Be prompt in reporting for work. Mind your own affairs. Be energetic, cheerful, quick to respond to all business requests, and don't fail to treat your superiors with the honor that should be accorded them by subordinates.

Decoration Day

The holiday on Thursday was an ideal day and was taken advantage of by the employees, who spent the day in the grove of Mt. Holly. Several parties were made up and all the romantic spots were visited. Gettysburg and other points claimed the attention of some and all report a most enjoyable day's outing.

Swinging in the Grapevine

To childhood days so bright and fair,
Will my fancy ever fondly cling;
When thro the woodland free as air,
Did we hurry to the grapevine swing

CHORUS

Swinging in the grape vine swing
Laughing where the wild birds sing;
I dream and sigh
For the days gone by,
Swinging in the grapevine swing
How cooling was the leafy shade,
And the waters of the mossy spring,
And, oh, what sounds our young throats
made,
As we swung upon the grapevine swing.
No tho't of care did then annoy,
And no sorrow did its shadow fling;
When filled with childhood's careless joys,
We were swinging in the grapevine swing.

One at a Time

||One step at a time;||
We reach the grandest height,
One stroke at a time and earth's hidden stores,
Will slowly come to light;
One seed at a time,
And the forest grows;
One drop at a time,
And the river flows;
Into the boundless sea.
One word at a time
And the greatest book,
Is written and is read.
One stone at a time
A grand palace rears,
Aloft its stately head
One blow at a time,
And the tree's cleft through;
A city will stand where the forest grew,
||A few short years ago||.

→ Mr. Stauffer has signed Willard Gansworth for first flutist, for the coming season at Long Branch.

→ A very interesting prayer meeting was held in the girls' quarters on Sunday evening, led by Miss Rayos.

→ Training table has been discontinued as the track team closed its season last Saturday by defeating Bucknell.

→ Bessie Johnson returned from the country and all her friends were glad to see her looking so well.

→ Stephen Youngdeer spent Sunday at the school and says that he has a very nice country home.

→ Miss Goodyear and her girls in the dress-making department of the Sewing Room have completed the girls' summer uniforms.

→ Claudia McDonald and Irene Brown, both members of the Junior class, are expecting to go to Maine soon for the summer.

→ Anna M. Sampson, who is living at Freehold, N. J., says she likes her place very much and wishes to be remembered to all her friends.

→ The boys from the farms and some from the large boys' quarters are going to have a base ball team. It will be called "Farmers Base-ball Team."

→ The Seniors were very much interested in getting their gardens planted. They were delayed on account of the rain, but perhaps they will prove to be good farmers.

→ William B. Zahan, who is now out under the Outing system, says in a letter to a friend that he is getting along very nicely. He wishes to be remembered to his friends.

→ Two members of the Senior class, Lottie Styles and Charles Huber are on the sick list at the hospital. Their class mates hope they will soon be able to join their class again.

→ The baseball boys are very sorry that one of their south-paws has gone out to the country. He used to make the 'Varsity look like marbles when he pitched for the Yannigans.

→ Mr. Wilson B. Charles, who is now playing with the Green Bay Base-Ball Team of Wisconsin, reports that he is getting along nicely and wishes to be remembered to all his friends.

→ The Normal pupils have been studying about birds this month. They have made their lesson very interesting. We are sure that we will never hear of the Normal boys harming birds.

→ Bert Miller and Harvey LaBelle have gone to their country home. We hope they will make as good a record as farmers in their new home as they have as "Typos," in the printery.

→ Three Okalahoma girls who had been shopping in town came out in the city bus about three minutes before the dinner bell rang. They did this so that they could go to town next time. Wise girls.

→ Last week while the Freshmen Class were working in the garden, one of the greatest surprises occurred. A fox and a chicken chase; but the chicken was too shy, it drew the shy fox into a trap and the result was a touchdown.

→ Miss Kaup led the large boys' meeting on Sunday evening. She drew some valuable lessons from the topic. Misses Johnston and Mayham sang a very effective duet. Several other employees took part in the meeting.

→ The No. 9 pupils are proud of their two members James Thorpe and George H. Thomas who did such fine work in the dual meet with Bucknell last Saturday, the latter breaking the school record in the high jump.—J. H. W.

→ The Juniors are very proud of their classmate Charles Mitchell, who now holds the school record in pole-vaulting. Charles class motto is "Onward," but last Saturday he was somewhat inclined to change it to "Upward," while pole-vaulting.

→ We learn through a letter that Susan Little Shield is well and enjoying country life. She also states that her country folks are very good to her, but still she gets lonesome for Carlisle and wishes to be remembered to the whole school, even to the dogs and birds.

→ The poultrymen are busy looking after their little chickens which are growing very fast.

→ Hewet Ute, who has been working in the dairy for sometime, has gone back to his shop.

→ Frank Le Roy, one of our base-ball boys who took a trip to Harrisburg, reports having had a nice time.

→ The members of the Freshmen Class welcome Evelyn Pierce who has just come in from the country.

→ George Stabler, a member of the Freshmen Class, states that he is having a good time out in the country.

→ Emma Newashe, who is living in Kennett Square, Pa., says she likes her home very much and enjoys her work.

→ Louisa Kenny, who lives in the same family as Electa Metoxen and Izora Tallchief, says she enjoys country life.

→ A postal has been received from Bruce Gooseback. He says he has a good home and enjoys his work near Mercerville, N. J.

→ Through a friend we learn that Clara P. Smith, who lives at Hillside, Pa., is enjoying herself at her country home very much.

→ Josephine W. Smith, who is living at Beverly, New Jersey, says she likes her country home and she also states that she is going to Cape May in June.

→ Messrs Joseph Twohearts and Joseph Redfox are doing good work on the new cottage. They are proving themselves to be experts in the art of building.

→ Addison Johnson, Cherokee, and member of the State printing force at Harrisburg, was with us last Saturday. We are glad that Addison is getting along so nicely.

→ Paul C. White, who has been away from his home for fourteen years, received a letter from his home last week, asking him to come back and teach the band next fall.

→ A very interesting letter has been received from Mrs. Francis Freemont, who is living at Macy, Nebraska. She states that she likes Nebraska better than the Indian Territory. She also wishes to be remembered to her friends and classmates.

→ The students at Millersville gave us a cold cheer, while we were playing base-ball. They threw lemons at our pitcher Garlow; but Garlow in return was throwing snow balls across the plate. He made the snowballs look like marbles.—FAN.

Young Man, Save Your Money

It is almost impossible for a young man who does not save money to make a business start in the world. Most young men are wishing for better positions and bewailing the impossibility of doing anything on a small salary. They want to strike out for themselves, they want to go West or South, they want to make money hand over fist—but their ambitions are checked right at the start for the want of a little ready money to begin on. A young man who has not the stamina and backbone to put aside little temptations and save a portion of his salary each week or each month is not likely to accomplish much in life. If his purpose is not strong enough to enable him to make a few sacrifices for the sake of his ambition he can not expect to be successful ultimately. The history of successful men shows strong purpose and invincible determination.

Employees' Nine

The employees at the school have organized a base ball nine, and are now practicing every evening. They are in condition to go against the best that can be found and are open to challenge by any team on the grounds, Little Chiefs, All Giants, First, second or third teams. No one is barred. The line up is as follows: Pitchers, Messrs Nori and Warner; Catcher, Dr. Shoemaker or Mr. Shouchuk; 1st base, Major Mercer; 2d base, Mr. Taylor, 3d base, Mr. Walters; short stop, Mr. Venne; Center field, Dr. Shoemaker or Mr. Shouchuk; Right field, Mr. Wise; Left field, Mr. Driver.

Suggestions are asked for an appropriate name for the team and all are invited to submit their selection as to the name to Dr. Shoemaker at the Club.

Please don't suggest "Glass Arms," "Never Sweats" or "Has Beens."
