Football

The Centre Rush.
The centre is a powerful man,
Whose anger it is fun to fan;
At least, opponents think it so,
As o'er the ball he bendeth low,
They say things quite unlike a prayer,
And pull out handfuls of his hair;
They know he cannot well resent it,
Though he replies as if he meant it.

The Guard.
This object has the guard, it seems,
To send into the land of dreams
The fellow who opposes him.
He acts with eagerness and vim
And lands full many a vicious punch
Where rests his rival's frugal lunch

The End Rush.
He stands alone upon the wing,
And crouches like a cat to spring
Upon the man who tries to go Around his end. He tackles low
And rubs the runner in the dirt,
Depriving him of half his shirt,
Look out! Don't fumble when you fall,
Or he will drop upon the ball.

The Quarterback.
Although diminutive in size,
In him the combination lies
That guides his team in its attack
And drives the other side 'way back.
He stands behind the husky line
And shouts a cabalistic sign.
His team is pretty sure to score
When he yells "Six-eleven-four!"

The Coach.
The freshman thinks he is a god,
And even seniors oft are awed
When he throws out his giant chest
And tells the players what is best;
'Tis he invents the box of tricks
That puts opponents in a fix.
And when the whistle calls to play
He rages like a wolf at bay.
Well players know that naught will flop
If they will listen well to "Pop."

Alaskans Interested

We are in receipt of a letter from Killisnoo, Alaska, seeking the address of an Alaskan Indian boy by the name of Na-goode, and of the English name "Hicks." Anyone knowing his present address will confer a favor on all concerned by addressing THE ARROW. His mother's name was Kat-sa-noo; his grandfather Kstee.

Off on Visit

Mrs. Reinhold Hoffman and little Irma are spending a week or two in New York and Coney Island visiting friends and taking in sights. During their absence Mr. Hoffman is dining at the Club and giving his attention to the sociables at eventide.

Cheyenne-Pawnee Feasts

The social season on the Indian reservations is just now in full swing. All of the ceremonial dances of the reds are usually pulled off some time in August, and the disappearance of the old time hatred of one tribe for another is accentuated by the fact that there is a great deal of visiting back and forth between the tribes during the year, and at some of these August dances large groups of reds from one tribe will be present as guests of one having the ceremony in charge.

At the Pawnee reservation for over a week the Cheyennes were not only guests but were invited to and did take part in the tripping of the heavy fantastic toe. In the old days each tribe had its own brand of dance, and no one else was permitted to butt in. Some of these dances are still sacred to tribesmen only, as for instance, the sun dance of the Pawnees, but they have evolved what they call the international dance which provides all of the entertainment any Indian may desire.

THE OLD WAR DANCE.

The international is really the old war dance with a few frills. The guests at the entertainment have the time of their lives. They are not only housed and well fed, but they receive costly presents. The white man is still barred from participation in the big dances. He may look on at a distance, but he can't pass the door-keeper and lookout. In the summer the international dance is pulled off on the prairie or in some grove. A large circle of braves only is formed, as many as seventy-five or a hundred joining. Seated in an inner circle are the musicians with their noise-making drums, a keg over the head of which is stretched a skin and which is beaten with rounded sticks. They keep up an incessant pounding, in fairly good time, and help things along by giving a fierce warwhoop now and then.

The white man's dress is strictly tabooed on this occasion. The body is bare to the waist and all exposed portions are daubed in fierce paints. A war bonnet of feathers is on the head and a string of beads down the back.

In this dance, as in most others, there is no stopping for breath or rest. Each participant tries to look as fierce as possible, and to this end eternally brandishes a tomahawk, yells, shakes his gigantic head-dress and gets as near to savagery and aboriginal feeling as he can. Unlike the whites, the Indian always eats before he takes to the dance, as he never quits until he falls down exhausted or in a faint, and does not miss anything.

The Apaches down at Fort Sill have been having a big time, a coming out party for Jane Naiche, the seventeen-year-old daughter of the only living hereditary chief of the tribe. Several thousand dollars was spent in preparations, and the dance continued without intermission for sixty hours.

BRIDE-TO-BE DANCES.

After the braves had finished their stunt, Miss Jane herself appeared and danced once around the fire. At each turn she was joined by another and still another girl. Then followed the medicine men dancers and last of all the clowns.

Following the public dance which was then on, came the lovers' dance, at which Miss Naiche made her selection of a companion for life. Under Apache custom this choice is the maiden's alone, and her parents must not know until it is made who is the lucky man. The tribe, however, has the power of veto, and later on if it approves the two marry. Then there will be another dance.

Old Geronimo was master of the music at the public dance, considered the highest honor possible. Naiche, the girl's father, was second in command under Geronimo when he was the scourge of the Southwest, but for more than a dozen years he has been a faithful government scout.—Ex.

At the Circus

On Saturday last the entire student body was the guest of the administration of the school at the circus in town.

They attended in a body and marched in platoons from the school to the show grounds on the west side of town. The boys led the way and later the girls followed. Being about a thousand in number, they presented the appearance of a small and well drilled army as they marched up on Hanover street.

The show was thoroughly enjoyed by the boys and girls and all returned with a feeling of gratitude to the Major for a very enjoyable afternoon.

Indian Beauties

A recent exhibit of maidenly loveliness held at Collinsville, I. T., disclosed many matchless types that would unseat the reason of the average Eastern man at all susceptible to this sort of hypnotism. In that contest a hundred Indian girls belonging to the Cherokee, Creek, Comanche and Osage tribes were entered, and those who survived this symposium of beauty say that nothing like it was ever witnessed before by mortal man.

The Indian type of beauty is ideal and incomparable, being of a kind that needs no artificial embellishment, for art can never improve upon the superb coloring painted by generous nature through successive generations of those who live the wholesome life of the prairie and woods. Delicate beyond all imitation is the tint upon the dark cheek of the child of the red man, and in form and feature these Indian girls are in a class by themselves.

For the benefit of those who have formed a mind picture of girls in blankets and moccasins with barbaric ornaments in their raven hair, we will observe that the contestants in this Indian Territory show represented more wealth than could be gathered together in the same number of participants anywhere in this country. Not only this, but they are rich in their own right. Some of these Indian girls were educated in Carlisle or in Europe, they wear gowns bought in Paris and have the average American girl "turned down" when it comes to breeding and accomplishments.—Kansas City Journal.

CARLISLE, PA., SEPTEMBER 20, 1907

Lieut. Davenport Returns

Lieut. Robert Davenport, '09, of the small boys' quarter, returned on Thursday morning from the north, where he spent a most enjoyable summer. Robert has been traveling through the Northwest with an aggregation of Indian base-ball players and returns to Carlisle in the pink of condition and an enviable record for fast ball tossing.

At present he is giving his attention to renewing his acquaintance with the intricacies of "the art preservative of all arts," and planning out some funny tricks for the Junior Varsity football team, of which he has been a strong and sturdy standby. He is welcomed by the Juniors and a host of friends.

"Kola" Found Dead

On Sunday evening while Glenn Saxon was enjoying a walk about the grounds in the neighborhood of the shops, he heard the moanings of a dog evidently in distress. Following the direction of the sounds he soon located them in the storeroom over the paint shop. Knowing that the Major's two dogs, "Mac" and "Kola" had been missing since last Friday he secured assistance and entered the storeroom to find "Kola" dead, "Mac" so weak and exhausted as to be barely able to move.

It appears that the two dogs had followed the Major as he went into the storeroom on Friday and had been inadvertently locked in unnoticed. The place is a hot stuffy room where there is no ventilation and the dogs were without food or water until discovered Sunday evening.

The dogs were both valuable collies and the pet of the children, especially the small girls, who are very profuse in their "condolences." "Mac" has recovered and is now in lonesome evidence on the campus.

Farewell Dinner for Stauffers

A most delightful little farewell dinner was given to Mr. and Mrs. Claude M. Stauffer Monday night by Mr. Mrs. S. Van Tine, at the Ozone cottage. The table was beautifully decorated in red and yellow, the colors of the Carlisle School. Among those present were: Professor Claude M. Stauffer and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Martin, Mr. Glyndner, of Tuxedo; Miss Jones, of London; Mrs. W. Melville, of East Orange; Mrs. A. Riemer, of Boston, Mass., and Miss H. Williams, of Baltimore, Md., and others.—Long Branch Record.

In playing ghost, be careful you don't become a ghost yourself.

A Football Boy

Here's to the boy on the football team,
The boy with brain and nerve—
The boy who is quick and active
And from duty will not swerve.
The boy who when he is losing,
Can be strengthened by the smile
Of the girl who on the bleacher sits,
Watching him all the while.
The boy who for some kicks or pounds
Cares not a single mite;
And bears so gloriously his wounds,
That boy—he is all right.

The Game Saturday

To-morrow afternoon our football braves meet Lebanon Valley College on the grid-iron on our own field. This is the first game of the season and is generally looked upon as a sort of a practice game to try out our team. But right here it is wise to remember that these "sure thing" games sometimes result disastrously. So keep your eye on the ball. The entire student body will witness the game and every boy and girl should go out to the field with full rooting equipment. Raise your voices and keep our boys feeling that you are with them in all plays, good, bad and indifferent. If the game is going against us, don't sit still and feel badly over it, but make a noise. Root! The time to encourage the team is not when everything is coming our way, but when things look dark. Bring out your pennants and let the Red and Gold be heard from.

The game scheduled for Saturday with Albright has been cancelled because Albright had no team to put up against us, and the date of Lebanon College was moved up to Saturday. Next Saturday week Villa Nova will try honors with us and that will be a game.

To Attend the Fair

The entire school will attend the County Fair on Friday next, the 27th inst.

The regiment in full uniform, with the entire band, will parade through the principal streets of Carlisle and march up Hanover Street and on to the Fair Grounds, where an exhibition drill will take place and the regiment reviewed.

The fair this year promises to be especially interesting and a pleasant day is anticipated for all.

The people of Carlisle are busy decorating the various streets with gaily colored bunting and in the festooning the colors of Red and Gold predominate.

Hanover Street will be especially decorated with the Indian colors and the regiment will parade that street reviewed by an immense crowd.

Let every student prepare himself for a showing that will be not only a credit to the institution but to the Indian race.

Whitecrow—Bartlett

MARRIED—On Monday, September 16, at Bolling Springs, Titus Whitecrow to Edith Bartlett, both of Carlisle. No cards.

The above wedding notice, although a surprise to some, brings happiness to the hearts of many. The groom is a full-blood Sioux from South Dakota, a graduate of Carlisle, Class '07, and one of the best known of our baseball boys. The bride is a Bannock from Idaho, graduated with the Class of 1905, and now a sub teacher in our midst, having taken a course at the Bloomsburg Normal.

The happy couple will leave on Monday next for their new home, taking with them the congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends.

THE ARROW extends hearty congratulations to Titus on his winning so winsome a bride, and to Edith the hope of a long and happy life of wedded bliss,

"And thou wouldst learn what love is!
'Tis taught by the heart alone.
Two souls with but a single thought,
Two hearts that beat as one."

Major Mercer's Return

The Superintendent has about disposed of the accumulation of official business incident to his absence of the past month and now may be seen visiting and inspecting the various departments. During the Major's trip he visited a number of reservations in the West and Northwest in the interest of the school and is well pleased with the prospects for 1908.

➔ Benjamin Seonia has been in the country five months. He returned last Friday evening looking healthy. He says he liked his country home.

➔ Mrs. Foster took her girls and a few others to see the foot-ball boys practice last Thursday evening. She has promised to take them again, so they say.

➔ Joe Tarbell went to the country for the winter, and will be greatly missed by his second team Junior Varsity team-mates, because he was their quarterback.

➔ The Catholic girls were requested to wear their hats to their meeting and not many of them like it, because they could not get near enough together to whisper.

➔ Emma Newashe, who is living in Kennett Square, is going to stay out for the winter. She has started to school and is getting along very nicely.

➔ Susie L. White, '07, left on Saturday for State College. Susie has many friends here who all regretted to see her leave. We hope she will be contented and remember her motto "Perseverance."

➔ Margaret I. DeLorimiere class '10, writes from her country home Lansdowne, Pa., and says she was glad to get back to her studies once more. It was a great change for her after spending her long summer up in Maine.

➔ Ethel C. Daniels, who has been working up at Major's during the summer, moved to the quarters the other day and is working in the laundry as a special girl. Although she misses the smiling face of little Mercer, she enjoys being with the girls once more.

➔ Mr. Wm. C. Shambaugh, the instructor in blacksmithing, is again in charge of the shop, having been on the sick list for the past week. Although not entirely recovered Mr. Shambaugh is devoting his time to an attempt to catch up with delayed work. The boys are glad to see him at work again.

Base Ball Experience

Last Spring when I went away from here I thought I would play only two or three games a week. But I soon found out that we had to play every day.

I got used to it and the first game I played seemed funny to play in a strange place, and besides it was my first time out in playing ball. I enjoyed it very much. Garlow pitched the first game against Shippensburg, and shut them out 7-0.

The first week went pretty fast for Garlow and I and we both enjoyed playing.

The team would play with Martinsburg, W. Va., Winchester, Va; Berkeley Spring, W. Va., Frederick, Md., Hanover, Pa., Carlisle, Pa., Sparrows Point, Md.

The crowds in Virginia and West Virginia were not as good as the crowds in Maryland and in Pennsylvania, and there is usually some betting done on the game nearly every day.

We played in Hanover where Mike Balenti joined us and soon some more new players came and we played ball in regular style.

There were only four members of the team that played all the season, and the rest were released, the players were Hawks, Garlow, Peaster of Baltimore, and myself, who stuck to the team from start to the finish.

I made two home runs for our team, center fielder, two home runs. Balenti one. Fannell of Baltimore one.—WM. NEWASHE.

LOCAL MISCELLANY

Items of Interest Gathered by our Student Reporters

[All items preceded by an arrow found in the columns of the paper are furnished by the pupils and published as nearly as possible, just as they were handed in.—Ed]

→ The tailors are busy making uniforms for the foot-ball boys.

→ Carlisle should surely have a strong football team this season.

→ Mr. Weber and his boys are busy at the doctor's quarters fitting pipes.

→ Emma Holt, who went home, sends postals telling of her safe arrival.

→ Elsie Valley writes that she has spent a very pleasant summer at Sea Isle City.

→ Silas Y. Boy is now learning the poultry business, and says he enjoys his work.

→ We are very sorry to learn that Amelia John has passed away at her home in Wisconsin.

→ Miss Hawk took the pupil teachers of the afternoon division for a walk Friday after school.

→ Wm. S. Jackson left last week to pay a visit to his home and friends, after which he expects to return to the states and begin college life.

→ The Juniors are reading "Ivanhoe." They seem to take great interest in the reading as they represent different characters of the book.

→ Lucy Coulon and Elizabeth Webster spent a pleasant afternoon at Mt. Holly last Sunday. They were accompanied by the Misses White.

→ Grace Primeau, who went home during the summer, writes that she is working in a store at her home. She seems to enjoy this work very much.

→ Fred Pappan who is detailed at the Athletic Club, likes his work as an assistant cook. Keep it up Fred, you will make a good cook some day.

→ Through a letter to a friend we learned that Reuben Ridley, who went home to Alaska, is in good health and wishes to be remembered to his friends at Carlisle.

→ The Seniors all extend their sympathy to one of their members, Wheeler Henry who is sick at the hospital. We hope he will soon be able to join his class again.

→ William B. Jackson, a former student, in a letter to a friend says he is getting along very nicely at his home in Michigan. He wishes to be remembered to his friends.

→ The few who attended the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday evening enjoyed the talk by Grover Long concerning the convention of the Y. M. C. A. in Massachusetts this past summer.

→ Florence Hunter, one of our ambitious little Juniors, has been promoted to the Senior class. We are glad to see her going "Onward" but sorry to lose one of the foremost pillars of our class.—JUNIOR.

→ Harry J. Archambault and William B. Zahn the "photographers," were busy this week taking pictures of the different flowerbeds, and campus views about the school grounds. Good work! Don't give up.

→ The studying of Agriculture by the upper grades is evidently very interesting, as they (the members of these grades) can be seen at any time with an Agriculture book in their hands; trying to master the difficult problems that Agriculture presents to them.

→ William Nelson, who has been out in the country since the fall and winter of 1906, has returned to the school. He looks well in every way. One day he was asked where and how he spent his leisure hours while out.—Reply "Under the apple tree." No wonder he's fleshy.

→ The students are looking forward to the Indian-Villa Nova game.

→ Since the band has returned some of the members are making records in receiving postals.

→ Some of the boys in the upper grades are now anxious to begin their society work for the winter.

→ We learn through a letter that Lucy Nanwegisic is enjoying her home life. Lucy graduated with class '05.

→ Many pretty souvenir post cards have been received by the band boys since their return from Long Branch.

→ Mr. Harry Carter, the small boys disciplinarian proves to be a good father to the small boys—One of 'em.

→ Marie McCloud has returned from her home in Alaska. All her friends were glad to see her looking so well.

→ The program of dances for the Saturday evening sociables has been lengthened by the addition of two numbers.

→ Levi Williams, the saxophone of our band, says that he has spent a most delightful summer at Long Branch.

→ Jefferson B. Smith, a Long Branch veteran, is now enjoying himself as Mr. A. Kensler's assistant in the storehouse.

→ The football boys have moved into their new training quarters. They like the change very much, especially the training table.

→ Every evening after four o'clock the athletic field becomes a place of activity, for the football men, then occupy the field.

→ The florist is now taking cuttings from the vari-colored plants on the campus, looking forward to a beautiful landscape next spring.

→ Eleanor Springs a member of the Sophomore class, has gone to the country for the winter. She will be missed by her many friends.

→ The Juniors are interested in their lesson, but some have to struggle in order to find time to study. They remember their motto, Onward.

→ Sophomore class, Brace up! Let us see what we can do in this Departmental work. Let us not have people say we are behind time any more.—Soph.

→ The Y. W. C. A. meeting was held in the girls' society room Sunday evening. It was very interesting, and nearly all the members were present.

→ Celistino B. Romero, alto saxophonist who spent the summer at Long Branch, is now raking in souvenir postals from his many friends at the sea shore.

→ John Harvey, who has been solo cornetist for some years in the Carlisle Indian Band, has left for New York City where he has engaged to play with another band.

→ Joseph Blackhawk, a Winnebago, cousin of Miss DeCora, our art teacher, leaves this week for Hampton, Va., where he is taking a post-graduate course in scientific agriculture.

→ Margaret Delorimere, who has been spending the summer in Maine, has returned to Lansdowne, where she expects to remain during the winter and continue her studies in the High School.

→ About ten of the band boys have left for home and other places since the band has returned from Long Branch. Their absence is felt very much among the members of the organization.

→ Mr. Willard took nine girls down to the second farm Sunday after services. We enjoyed the walk very much. We walked faster going than coming back because there were some apples there—One of 'em.

→ Martha Day, '09, writes a most encouraging letter to a classmate, stating, how earnestly she intended to ever follow her class motto "Onward." She also wishes to be remembered to the members of the Junior class.

→ An employe took a party of young ladies for a walk down to second farm, Sunday after noon. They were at the mill when the supper bell rang. They then picked up their heels and ran, dropping apples all the way home. Who were they?

→ Some of the band boys find that it is very lonesome out here at Carlisle, but they will soon get used to the surroundings again and then they will feel at home. Some of them were seen walking around by themselves during the social Saturday night. We wonder why?

→ Room Eight had a review in their lessons last Friday.

→ William Corbett, who has been at his home in Idaho, arrived last week.

→ Anna Pierce says she enjoys her work in the dining hall. I wonder why?

→ Sarah Chubb, who is working at the Major's, seems to enjoy the work very much.

→ Ask Elizabeth Walker and Olga Reincken how they liked to sit on three legged chairs.

→ Ask Wallace where did he get that smile on circus day. Now Wallace, one is enough now.

→ Which one of the kitchen boys got his nose in the way while he was eating a watermelon?

→ If you desire to know what the pulverization and nitrogen mean, ask Paul White without delay.

→ Irene Brown, '09, who has taken up pupil teaching is getting along nicely and enjoys the work.

→ We all missed Flora Eagle Chief, who went out Saturday for the winter, and her class loses a valued member.

→ The Catholics had their first Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament in the Y. M. C. A. Hall last Sunday afternoon.

→ We are all glad to thank Mr. James B. Driver, for having been so willing to supply all the bread we want, says a brave.

→ Clara E. Smith, who went home some time ago writes to friends, saying she is well and enjoying herself in New York.

→ Through a letter from Anna Prikett, to a friend we learn that she is in ill health, and wishes to be back at dear Carlisle.

→ All went down town to a circus Saturday afternoon, and although the day was very warm, it was enjoyed immensely.

→ A letter was received from Josephine Gates, '09. She says she is having a lovely time at home and will soon return to Carlisle.

→ Theodore Owl, a member of the Class '08, started Monday to attend Preparatory school in town. We all wish him success.

→ Mr. Nonnast has a large number of new boys in his tailor shop, some of them are proving very fast and will make good tailors.

→ Miss Jane M. Butler, who lives in Kennett Square, Pa., expects to start school in the near future. Good luck to Miss Butler.

→ Tony Felix, who has a reputation out west as a good base-ball player, arrived here last week, and intends to try for the first foot-ball team.

→ In a letter to a friend Sara Isham, '07, writes that she is having a pleasant visit from Alice Denomie, '08, who will soon return to Carlisle.

→ Catharine R. Tomahawk sends postals to many of her friends and says she is having a fine time, but often gets lonesome for "dear old Carlisle."

→ "Pop Warner" is certainly getting his Gridiron heroes in the best of shape. "Nice work, Pop." We'll be ready to defeat the Worlds Champions.

→ Through a letter from Sara C. Azul we learn she is well and wishes that she was back at dear old Carlisle. Sara went home this summer to Arizona.

→ A letter was received from Harry Cummings stating that he was enjoying himself at his country home, and wishes his classmates much success.

→ Jeannette Harris, who is living near Philadelphia, writes to a friend that she is getting along nicely at her country home. She often thinks of her friends at the school.

→ Arthur Mandan, after playing with the band two months at Long Branch, N. J., during the summer, has gone to Brooklyn, N. Y., where he expects to fill musical engagements.

→ Next Sunday, the 21st of Sept., is the last day for straw hats. Follow the customs of civilized life and put your old straw hat away until next summer. If you don't you will be ridiculed.

→ Several of the cornet players left us last week, yet there are a few here that made the orchestra sound splendidly to the ears of the many dancers that crowded the gymnasium Saturday last.

→ Henry Chapman, Arthur Coons and Elmer Echo Hawk, of Pawnee, Oklahoma, arrived last week. They are all pleased with Carlisle, and know that Carlisle School affords the best opportunity for a young man.—PAWNEE.

→ Ask Peter Thomas where did he see the "oyster-feather" fan?

→ Peter Jordan has made a showing and is now a foot ball player at Carlisle.

→ James Lyons says he likes his work at the office as an orderly. Ask him why?

→ During the past week Marion Powlass was visiting Mary L. Silas, in Downingtown.

→ James Thorpe expects to make the varsity team this fall, although this is his first year.

→ Chauncey Powlas works in the Laundry and he says he enjoys his work very much.

→ There were some Villa Nova foot-ball boys came over last week to see how big the Indians are.

→ Some of the boys are already wagering their pie as to the outcome of the Pennsylvania-Carlisle game.

→ A letter was received from Blanche Bill, of Hatboro, saying that she enjoys her country home very much.

→ Pheobe Leonard is enjoying life at home. And would like to be remembered to her classmates and friends.

→ Mrs. Elizabeth Deards and nephew, Marice Moore, are spending a pleasant season with Mr. and Mrs. Wise.

→ The students of No. 5. school room had the story of Christopher Columbus for the past week. All seem to be interested in it.

→ The football boys are practicing hard for the games they are scheduled for. Fred Round Stone is trying to join the second team.

→ Dora Allen who has been working for six months in the dining room says she is an expert dish washer. What table does Dora wait on?

→ The foot-ball team is practicing hard for next Saturday, the first game of the season and we are ready to scalp Lebanon Valley College.

→ The Nez Perce students from Idaho who came to Carlisle recently seem to enjoy the Carlisle life. They have made many friends already.

→ Daniel Smith is working in the carpenter shop. He expects when he leaves the Carlisle school to make a good business man and carpenter.

→ Ruth L. Moore who went out in the country last Saturday, writes from Riverton, N. J., saying that she is well and contented with the home she went to.

→ Ira Spring is enjoying his work in the laundry. He said that he is going to work in some steam laundry in the future when through at Carlisle.

→ Little Maud Cook went out to the country Saturday and her many friends were very sorry to see her go, but we wish her a pleasant winter.

→ Mrs. Young, who is the cook for the training table at the Athletic Association, has won the heart of all the boys by a series of gastronomic wonders and surprises.

→ A little watermelon party was given by Virginia Gaddy. Those invited were Rose Ohmert, Marie Lewis, Agnes Jacobs, Irene and Sadie Dunlap. They all report having a good time.

→ The Sociable which was held Saturday evening was enjoyed very much by Long Branchers, who have just returned from a ten weeks' engagement at Ocean Park, Long Branch, N. J.

→ A letter was received from John Godfrey, who is Disciplinarian at the Indian School near Pipestone, Minn. John says he is enjoying good health and hopes to see the football boys at the Minnesota game this fall.

→ Margarette McKay gave an ice-cream party last week. The invited guests were Frances Charboneau, Annie Rolette, Jennie Blackshield, Nellie Ironshield and Ernestine Venne, all of whom are from North Dakota.

→ The Printery regrets to lose Wm. Weeks, who as well as being an ambitious apprentice is an accomplished band boy, who left for his home up in the Dakotas, since last issue. William takes with him the best wishes of the entire Printery detail and a host of friends.

→ William Yankee Joe is playing Quarter back for the Carlisle reserves. He expects to make good, and all his friends hope he will handle the team well. The schedule which the reserves have is a hard one, and all boys in the team are expected to work hard.

A Complimentary Letter

The Athletic Aassociation through its director Mr. Warner, has received the following letter which we publish as an example of the sportsmanlike conduct of our boys:
HAGERSTOWN, MD.
September 12, 1907.

DEAR SIR:

In behalf of the officials of the Hagerstown Athletic Association I write to thank you for your kindness in permitting Balenti to remain with us a week longer than was originally intended.

I feel that it would be remiss in me if did not tell you that never in the history of baseball in Hagerstown were three men connected with the team whose services were so uniformly satisfactory as were those three boys—Balenti, Garlow and Newashe—the past season. Not only did they do well their work as ball players, but their deportment both on and off the field, at home and away, was such as to make them respected and admired. I can assure you that it was with a sense of pride and pleasure that officials of the association pointed them out as members of the Hagerstown Baseball Club.

With best wishes for your success in turning out a winning football team this fall, I beg to remain,

Very truly yours,
J. FRANK RIDENOUR
