INDIANS SCALP HARVARD

The Carlisle Indians Wallow the Crimson in the Dust. The "Big Four" now the "Big Five"

With the sting of Princeton still lingering in the breast of Carlisle, our foot-ball aggregation went up "Bosstown way" last Saturday and tore from grand old Harvard the laurels of victory which Harvard, with confidence in the victories of the past, had flaunted in the face of the Redman. There was nothing else to be done. The Indians this year are the best and fastest team ever sent out to uphold the Red and Gold, and victory must come as a reward of faithful and diligent coaching and following of the instructions of that grand old warhorse, "Pop" Warner, "our Pop."

The score, 23 to 15, shows that the game was a game to be played to the finish and played hard. The game was played and played hard. But the Indian when called upon is sure to be heard from.

Fully 30,000 people witnessed the game and the general feeling was that of rejoicing that the Carlisle Indians had won over the great university. The day was an ideal one for football and the field in fine condition. Mt. Pleasant, Houser, Wau-seka, Exendine, Lubo, Gardner, Hendricks, Payne, Winnie, Afraid-of-a-bear, Aiken, Littleboy, Island, and in fact all who had a move in the game played faultless football and covered themselves with glory.

A Boston dispatch dated Saturday, says in part as follows regarding the Indian game:

"After 12 years of desperate effort, the Carlisle Indians at last succeeded in defeating Harvard's football team on Soldiers' Field. Today, outplayed, outmanoeuvred at every turn and all but overwhelmed by Glenn Warner's band of brilliant players with more power in their game than they ever have shown on this field, the Crimson went down in defeat 23 to 15.

"It was a game spectacular to such a degree as never has been seen on Soldiers' Field, and the 30,000 people, most of them giving lusty voice in their sympathy for the warriors from Carlisle, watched a struggle which was all excitement from the moment it began until the Indians, triumphant, rushed off the field surrounded by thousands of spectators who had poured over the walls of the stadium and thronged the side lines several minutes before the game closed.

"It was a game in which the Indians, playing the best football they ever have played, showed the wonderful possibilities of the new game and gave an exhibition of old foot ball, too, which was a revelation. It was not so much that Harvard was merely beaten in the score, but she was outclassed individually and as a team, ripped and torn throughout the line and shown up in pitiable weakness. The first half closed with the score of 12 to 10 in favor of the Indians.

"The Indians not only played a wonderful open game, but in their straight away attack there was much more power than was shown by Harvard, except in a few minutes in the second half. Carlisle followed the ball with almost weird intuition. The Indians were quicker than lightning and they tackled with a fierceness that would have been worthy of Hinkeys.

"The Cambridge team fought for every moment of the game, but the odds were too great. The players were not equipped with the foot ball needed to withstand such an onslaught as that of the Indians, and were simply beaten by a better team and one playing a better game."

THE CARLISLE SENTINEL

"A great victory" was what everybody said of the great game won by the Indians from Harvard Saturday, the first they have been able to capture in twelve years.

The Indians simply outplayed Harvard in every way. The defeat at the hands of Princeton was a lesson well earned and the Indians knew that they would have to play hard to win. They were keyed up to their best effort, and although pitted against a heavier team were able to score four touchdowns against it.

The Indians have never before defeated two teams of "big four" in the same year, and that feat this year will give them third rank among the teams of the country, and second rank should Harvard defeat Yale, which is not likely. As in the Penn game, the Indians used the forward pass to perfection and with a variety of other plays so bewildered their opponents that nearly every play resulted in a gain.

Two touchdowns were scored in each half, the first requiring only about seven minutes. The Indians showed no sign of weakness in the second half, which is a tribute to Warner's training. The city papers call "Mike" Murphy the best trainer in the country; he gets the largest salary, no doubt, but for results he can't be compared to Warner. The latter, with two assistants, coaches and trains the Indians through the entire season, while the large university teams have as many as fifteen or twenty coaches and trainers.

The greatest play was the one by Mt. Pleasant. Catching the ball on the 85 yard line, he carried it through the whole Harvard team, 75 yards for a touchdown, dodging, sidestepping and warding off the tacklers until he had a clear field and then outrunning the fleet Lockwood.

Harvard scored a touchdown and a place kick in the first half and another touchdown in the second half.

Bible Offered by Miss Gould

Miss Helen Gould made the offer of a teachers' Bible to members and secretaries of the Young Men's and Women's Christian Associations and affiliated societies in the United States, and extends the offer to Sunday-schools and churches. The Bible will be given to those who successfully memorize certain scripture passages and who recite the entire list of the names of the books of the Bible at one season without error, before one or more responsible witnesses. The offer is extended to September, 1908, and Miss Gould will be very glad to have those connected with the organizations compete for this prize. She expresses the hope that great numbers are successful in the undertaking. The passages given to memorize are Exodus 20: 1-17 (The Commandments,) Psalm 1, 8, 19, 23, 27, 91, 103, and 121, Isaiah 53 and 55, Micah 6: 8, Matthew 5: 1-16, Matthew 5: 43-48, Matthew 6, Matthew 7, Matthew 10: 2-4, 32, Matthew 22: 35-40, Matthew 25, Matthew 28: 18-20, Mark 10: 13-16, Luke 9: 23, Luke 15, John 1: 1-14, 3: 16, 4: 1-26, 10, 14, 15, 17, Romans 8: 35-39, 1 Corinthians 13, James 1: 12, Revelation 21: 22-27, Revelation 22: 1-5.—"Association Men"

Here is a good chance for any boy or girl to exercise his or her mind in memorizing and at the same time win a Bible that will last a life time. How many Carlisle boys and girls are going to try it? Remember you have almost a year to do it in.

Professor Schurr's Lectures

The lecture given before the student body on Sunday evening last by Professor Edward Burlingame Schurr, of Newark, N. J., on the subject, "The Indian as a Student of Nature," was one of the most interesting and instructive discourses heard from our platform.

Prof. Schurr is a naturalist by birth as well as by profession. Inheriting from his distinguished father the love of nature and of every thing that lives, moves or has its being, the Professor has devoted his entire life to the study of Nature and is a most enthusiastic exponent of out-door-life.

During the course of his talk he brought out strongly the facts that the Indian was by nature a naturalist, given the powers and perceptions not known to the white man in matters relating to animal life and nature in general, and urged upon the Indian the advisability of a close communion with nature and its study in all details.

On Monday evening the Professor delivered his lecture on the "Way of a Naturalist." This talk was more in the line of a general unfolding of the benefits to mankind afforded by the different birds and animals which man in his eager grasp for wealth is destroying daily.

The talk is indeed a most interesting one and the Professor held the entire audience from beginning to end.

The lecture was illustrated by live reptiles and animals of various kinds, which the lecturer handled with impunity. A few large snakes, including a saucy little rattlesnake, tortoises, turtles, lizards, etc., were used in the demonstrations.

The visit of Professor Schurr has certainly been a profitable one for the students at Carlisle, and the administration is to be commended upon securing the services of so strong and interesting a lecturer.

The Celebration

The boys celebrated the victory over the Harvard eleven last Saturday night. They paraded through the town with their night gowns and pillow cases and torches. At the head of the procession they carried a dummy on a stretcher, dressed in a football man's clothes and with a red sweater with a large "H" on indicating a "Harvard" man. They had snake dances while going through the town.—J. L.

Invincibles

The meeting of the Invincible Society Friday last was one of the most inspiring and uplifting of the series, which showed a large attendance.

The meeting was opened by the President, Earl Duxtator, who read a few verses from the Bible. Louis Chingwa was selected to lead the singing. The members all joined in singing the Invincible Song most heartily. After which, the roll was called by the Secretary, Robert Davenport, and all the Invincibles who were in the hall responded to the call with an answer, "Present" as is the custom.

The business was transacted in a pleasing manner, and all who had the desire to speak, took the liberty to express their ideas freely.

After the transaction of business, the following program was rendered in a palatable manner, and included the vocal selections by Manus Screamer; Declamation, Harry Cummings; Essay, William White; Extemporaneous speeches, Esiah Gallashoff and James Kawis; Declamation, Arthur Smith. Debate, Resolved: That President Roosevelt's trips through the country are of benefit to the nation. The question was ably discussed by Manus Screamer and Stephen Glori on the affirmative; Alexander Sage and Ernest Quickbear for the Negative side.

After a lively discussion, the Judges decided on the affirmative side as having won the debate.

The visiting committees were present, but escaped before they were called upon. So only one visitor was captured by the members. Mr. Willard favored the audience with a short congratulatory talk on the outcome of the meeting, which proved one of the most pleasant affairs.

Mr. Driver, a member of the society was also called upon and responded with a short talk and praised the members for their good work and urged them to keep up the spirit of the society.—J. W. M.

Lilliputian Visitor

During the week the infantile society calendar has not been a failure.

Little Anna Elizabeth Zeigler, aged five months, daughter of our instructor in harnessmaking, Mr. Zeigler, was out and paid her social obligations by visiting the belles and beaux of the smart set. Miss Verna Nori, Miss Viola Venne, and Master William Mercer Gossman vied with each other in entertaining the little visitor.

Standards

The Standards met in their hall at the usual time.

Standard Poem was sung followed by first roll call and reading of minutes.

Henry Lydick a new member of the society was initiated, Charles Mitchell acting as censor.

The regular program was then carried out as follows: Declamation, Frank Cook; Essay, Fred Mart; Impromptu, John Feather. Debate, Resolved: "That iron is more useful to mankind than steel." The speakers on affirmative were Johnson Enos, Benjamin Penny and Reuben Charles. Negative, William Nelson, Paul White and Daniel Robinson.

The Editor's report was very interesting and well given.

Eugene Geffe was elected as a censor and Patrick Verney was appointed music manager by the President, to fill the vacancy in that office.

Under the good of the society Miss Yarnell gave some very helpful and encouraging remarks. Paul White's cornet solo was greatly applauded and an encore was given. William Weeks gave some interesting accounts of his western trip, George Peak an old member of the Standards also gave a talk to the society.

The debate was very lively and negative side won.

Mr. Whitwell was elected as an advisory member of the society.—Reporter.

Typos Outplay Harnessmakers

An old score was opened on the Athletic field last Saturday afternoon when the Printers clashed with the Harnessmakers for football honors. The Harnessmakers were the last year's champions although they only tied the Printers, and this was the first opportunity the "Typos" had of paying up the score, for, be it remembered, the Printers have always felt that if they had played off the tie the Championship would have nestled in the Printery. When the whistle blew for the kick-off the "Typos" let loose; and although they were up against a strong aggregation, they mowed their opponents down as mere straws and played a hard but conscientious game of football. In about six minutes of hard playing and rushing Newashe made a 40-yard run for a touchdown, and kicked a pretty goal. Score 6-0. Following in the footsteps of the Varsity team, Guy Cooley got the ball on a forward pass for another touchdown. Capt. Davenport sent the pigskin between the goal posts and made the score 12-0—Dead Easy. After some severe bucking of the line and heavy smashes at center, Duxtator secured the ball and made a twenty-yard plunge for the third touchdown. This left the score 17-0, with one minute to play.

The Harnessmakers worked hard but they were outclassed and outplayed. Duxtator, nifty little quarterback of the Printers' team, made gains at will and with the assistance of Capt. Davenport and Guy Cooley and John White pulled off a few tricks that made the Harnessmakers sit up and notice things.

Cook, the left halfback for the Harnessmakers made a sensational gain of 20 yards through the Printers' line and Raisewing and Crowghost showed up well.

Every member of the Printers' team played to get even, and did they do it? Look at the score 17-0.—Shooting Stick.

Particular Notice

Harry Archambault, chief photographer, at the Studio is ready to do all kinds of enlargements of photographs. If you desire to have a nice large picture of yourself or friend, whose photo you may have, now is your chance to have it done reasonably cheap. All are invited to the Studio to see the portrait of Mt Pleasant as a specimen of the work that is being done in this line.

Welcome Home

The heroes of last Saturday's game at Harvard Stadium arrived at the side track Sunday at 12 o'clock. There were a few of us who thought a great deal of the football men. We went down to meet them. As the boys got off the car we all shook hands with them. We could not give them a yell, for it was Sunday.—XXX.

➔ Roger Mumblehead is working at the first farm as a herder. He says he enjoys his work very much.

➔ One of the girls was so much in love with a little white "bunny" that she didn't want to leave the farm.

➔ Elizabeth Lemieux, who has been a house girl for the last two months, is now working in the laundry.

➔ Lidus M. Johnston, of Buffalo, New York, one of our basket ball enthusiasts, is suffering from an abrasion of the knee.

➔ Delia Quinlin is now working in the dining room for this month; she enjoys her work but not as much as during the summer she says.

➔ Ollie Bourbonnais who is working in the sewing room for this month says she likes her work, and hopes to learn how to sew well.

➔ A letter was received from Jemima Doctor stating that she is having a fine time in Buffalo. She wishes to be remembered to her friends.

➔ Thomas Owl, who is working at the Dairy, likes his work very much but he said it is little hard to get up so early, but he is learning all the time.

➔ Samuel Wilson made a twenty-yard run around the Painters' left end last Saturday. He says he can stay with big Bill Hollenback, of Penna.

➔ Elizabeth Lavatta likes to work in the mending room because oftentimes she gets the chance to mend clothes, which is an experience worth having.

➔ Nikefer took a large party of girls to the farm on Sunday. They reported having had a good time, and said they would call on him again.

➔ Katie Wells is a dining room girl this month and some wonder why she has such a big smile when she goes to her tables. It is because she likes employment.

➔ Margaret DeLorimiere writes from the school she attends at Lansdowne, Pa., and says she is patiently waiting to receive her monthly report. Of course she knows she will get the best.

➔ It is very amusing in the evenings at the large girls' quarters when you are in the quiet of your room to hear the girls practicing on their different instruments for the Mandolin Club; It shows their interest in their new musical work.

➔ After Sunday school last Sunday, Janet Jackson and Sarah Montieth gave a little luncheon to following girls: Elizabeth Penny, Nancy John, Ella Frank, Etta Hatterwinny, and Lizzie Hayes. We all enjoyed it very much.—Luncheon.

➔ Achsa Lunt gave an informal flych party in her room the other evening. The guests present were Alice Morris, Katie Chubb, Rose Pickard, Myrtle Peters, Clara Hanault, and Esther Reed. All present enjoyed themselves very much.

➔ Wheeler Henry, who is in California, writes that he is well and enjoying home life; even then he often thinks of his Carlisle friends and classmates and wishes to be remembered to them all.

➔ Last Saturday afternoon Fannie Charley and Therza Bernel took "Long Branch" to town with them and bought him a pretty little collar and had his name put on it. "Long Branch" is getting to be very much thought of around here.

➔ All were very glad to see Emma Rainey back in the school room.

➔ "Pop" Warner is wearing that famous "smile that won't come off."

➔ Last Sunday some of girls took a nice walk to the first farm. All enjoyed the walk very much.

➔ When Wauseka was told that many Pale-face maidens would see the game, he said "good."

➔ Mr. Gardner and his force of boys are nearly through with the new hog house at the first farm.

➔ Flora Eaglechief entertained her roommates one evening last week by dancing Indian dances.

➔ We had a celebration Saturday night which all enjoyed so well that we would like to have another one.—P. E. H.

➔ One of the Varsity men said after the Harvard game. "For ten long years I have sought thee, now thy scalp is mine."

➔ The third team were glad to have Grover Long join them and they hope to have a few more from the second team.

➔ William Yankey Joe, one of the Hopi boys, proved to be a good athlete in the foot ball game with Steelton Saturday.

➔ Katie B. Dalton likes her work as a 'house lady' very much, as she gets through with her work early in the morning.

➔ Bessie Johnson, one of the dressmakers, is working in the dining room this month to rest her eyes. She enjoys the change.

➔ Misses Johnston and White took a number of girls out for a short walk last Sunday afternoon. The walk was enjoyed by all who went.

➔ After the first half of the game between Harvard and Carlisle, "Stub" Felix said to one of the players, "Do you realize who you are playing against?"

➔ Cecelia Baronovitch was the first to substitute a composition of her own for a recitation at chapel exercises Thursday P. M. The composition was a good one.

➔ It was not very hard after all to defeat "Johnny Harvard," and the same thing is expected at the Minnesota and Chicago games, the last two games of this season.—X. X.

➔ The boys and girls were so happy over our foot ball boys' victory at Harvard, that many of them lost their appetites and didn't eat their suppers but sang the football songs.

➔ Emma M. Newashe, who is now living in Kennett Square, Pa., says that she is having nice times going to school. She hopes that on her return, she will join her class as usual.

➔ Esther Reed, who was promoted from No. 10 to the Freshmen Class, says she likes it there, only she found out she has to study much more than she did before. All of which she is capable of.

➔ One of the places of interest that were visited by the foot-ball boys while in Boston was the Museum of Fine Arts. Some paintings that are on exhibition there are valued as high as eighty thousand dollars.

➔ Margaret Blackwood entered as a student last Thursday morning from Michigan. She is a graduate from Mount Pleasant Indian School, where Miss Bertha Dennis and Miss Bertha Jamison, graduates of this school, are both employed, and getting along very nicely.

➔ Our knife was not too dull for Harvard. The way we scalped them last Saturday, makes us all ashamed of ourselves, but we can't help it. I think "Cute Willie" was wise in bracing up, the way they beat State College last Saturday. He ought to have braced up before he played the Indians.—D. R. S.

➔ Last Sunday after Sunday school there was a nice little party given in Fanny Charley's room on the first-floor, by Fanny Charley and Thirza Bernel. The invited guests were Esther Reed, Mable Logan and myself. After refreshments we spent the rest of the time telling fortunes and stories. We all had a most enjoyable time.—E. C. D.

➔ We are all mighty proud of the work of our boys. This great victory over Harvard, first time in history of our team, but only after the hardest kind of a fight, is due to the fighting spirit of our boys, and this should help our boys with renewed efforts to win the remaining games to be played in West the next these two weeks. "Minnesota and Chicago they too must be defeated!"—J. W. T.

Thanksgiving Time

November comes with chilling winds
And hints of snowflakes in the air;
The stream in its icy fetters sleep,
The forest trees are brown and bare.
And yet our hearts are warm and glad,
Our hearthstones glow with hearty cheer:
We open wide the welcome door,
For lo! Thanksgiving time is here.

A generous harvest has repaid
Our toil with fruit and grain galore.
Our cellars, granaries, bins and barns
Now overflow with golden store.
Plenty have we for all our need,
Plenty to give with generous hand;
Enough of food and love and cheer,
For all the needy in the land.

And as we summon those we love
To share our feast of joy and mirth,
We gladly welcome to our board
The sad and sorrowful of the earth
And while we thank the Lord our God
We'll help dispense this bounteous cheer,
And strive to make Thanksgiving days
Of all the days of all the year.—Exchange.

From the "Sentinel"

Those who are accustomed to travel will recognize the truth of the statement that the Indian School is Carlisle's best known institution, and that her football team is largely responsible for it. Under the direction of Coach Glen S. Warner the team has been brought to its highest stage of development and has this year defeated both Penn and Harvard, the latter by a glorious victory last Saturday. It is no longer the "big four" in football, but the "big five."

Trip to the Mountains

Last Saturday morning Horace Nelson, Chauncy Powlas, David Jacobs, Antonio Danfort, Ira Spring and Peter Gaddy left the Indian School for the mountains.

We got to the Mt. Holly mountains about 10.45 o'clock. We made a fire and started out to hunt chestnuts, but we found none. We ate our lunch at one o'clock and started back to Carlisle to hear the Harvard and Indian game.—PETER T. GADDY.

Indians Celebrated.

When the news of the victory of the Indians over Harvard reached the Carlisle school there was great rejoicing, and at once preparations were made for a popular celebration. For the first time this year the Indians turned out en masse to celebrate a victory of their foot ball team on Saturday evening.

Shortly after 7 o'clock several hundred of the boys at the school, headed by the band, and all wearing their night shirts, marched to town and paraded over the principal streets. While the band rendered several fine selections the boys gave the serpentine and several other dances, and the scene was a pretty one.

At the head of the procession was a corpse, representing the defeated Harvard foot ball eleven. All along the route of parade, the boys gave their yell and hoots, and hundreds of people turned out to witness the affair.—Herald.

Junior Varsity

Junior Varsity has at last buckled down to business. Fourteen boys reported last Friday afternoon. While practicing a shower came up.

Instead of postponing the practice the boys went through the signals with a vim that will be a memory to the boys who stood together in that rain.

The rudiments of dropping on the ball and tackling were the only features of the practice.

The boys enjoyed dumping each other in the mud.

Handling of the forward pass was a little too much for the ends and backs.

Just as a player was about to grab the pigskin, he would slip and last seem of him, he would be digging up the mud with his face.—A. K.

The Junior Varsity will go to Scotland tomorrow to play the Orphans and next Saturday, the 23d, will play the same team here on our own field.

Painters Victorious

After a thorough coaching the Painters' football team (made up of masons, painters, steamfitters and tanners) conquered the Carpenters' aggregation on the gridiron on Saturday last. The score was 17-0 in the Painters' favor. The game was a hot one from start to finish and the Painters won by steady work and good organization. Jas. Blaine made two touchdowns and Reuben Charles has one to his credit. Bruce Goosback kicked the goals from touchdown.

Mr. Lamason, the instructor in masonry, treated the boys to a feed of apples after the game, and we hear it rumored that Mr. Cairns, the instructor in painting, has offered the Painters' team a big chicken dinner if they win the Championship of 1907.—SPECIAL.

Our Dummy

During the evening of our victory over Harvard we were detailed to make a dummy and dress him to represent Harvard. After some difficulty we put him together on the stretcher and took him in this position in the parade.

We had forgotten to put his college letter on his sweater, which he had won in last year's game. We called on the cook and soon got material to make one.

The people in town saw him and asked why he was so rough looking? And we had to tell them that it was some of the bumps he received in the game.

—One of the Pallbearers.

Washington Irving Revived

Instead of going to the athletic field last Saturday Frank Lone Star took a notion to take a walk to the Cave Hill. When he got there he said he was going a little farther. He kept going on and on till at last he reached the mountain and climbed to the top of it.

He said he was bowling while he was up there. The stones were used for balls and the trees and stumps were his tenpins.—J. L.

All the world loves to laugh at the blindness of lovers.

Steelton Y. M. C. A. Wins

The Carlisle Reserves who have been running up against heavy teams, met another one on Saturday at Steelton, Pa.

The heaviest team we have met this season and they certainly hammered our line men in great style.

Their end runs were not very successful for our little end, Kennerly, was good for both ends. He was in every play.

A. G. Mignel, our quarterback, ran the team in good style and ran the punts back well.

White, our fullback, was unable to plow through Steelton's heavy line but he bucked the line well against those big ex-collegians.

The little Indian half backs pounded the ends for several yards at a time but on the referee's part would bring the ball back from where it started.

Archambault who took Ambrose's place in the second half was disqualified for roughness after making a 35-yard run for a touchdown.

When the game ended the score stood 21 to 6 in their favor.—W. Y. J.

Spelling Match

A "spelling match" was held as usual last Friday in No. 2 school-room. Those that remained standing the longest were, Nora Rowland and Fanny Rolling Bull in the morning division and Susie Poncha and Benjamin Seonia of the afternoon division. The rest of the class did well also.
