VOLUME FIVE.

CARLISLE, PA., MAY 21, 1909.

NUMBER 37

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Frances A. Ghangrow, '07, is now Mrs. Smith. Her address is Cayuse, Oregon.

Louis White, member of the second band, will spend the summer months in the country.

The teachers are always glad when Miss Bachman receives flowers from home because she distributes them so generously.

Alonzo Brown, '09, writes from his home in Mashpee, Massachusetts, that he is enjoying good health and wishes to be remembered to all his friends.

William Winnie, who went home sometime ago, writes that he is laying off on account of the strike of the Lake Seamens' Union, of which he is a member.

A robin has built its nest on one of the inside shutters of the library. It does not seem to be disturbed by any one, and flies in and out many times every day.

We learn through letters coming to friends here that Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Matlock, of Pawnee, Okla., who were married at Carlisle last spring, are now proud parents.

Robert Davenport left for his home last Thursday evening where he expects to follow up his trade as a printer. Several beautiful cards of Michigan scenery have already been received.

Anona Crow, who left for the country with the second party, is very much pleased with her new home at Hillside, Pa. She says she has a baby to care for and enjoys her work very much.

Fannie Charley, who has been working in the Art Room all the winter, has just finished three nice little doilies. She is now working on the dainty pin-cushion made of school colors.

The A. M. Seniors were delighted with Mary Redthunder's account of her pleasant trip to Washington, D. C. The sights she saw were marvelous, both in beauty and interest. She also visited Olive Wheelock, who lives at Senator Long's.

William Weeks, '09, writes quite cheerfully from Wahpeton Indian School, N. Dak., where he holds the position of disciplinarian. He is quite busy and every one treats him very kindly, but reading between the lines it is evident that he would gladly renew his school days at Carlisle.

The "Roster of Officers of the United States Indian Service" for this quarter is out, the Carlisle Indian Press having just issued it. There must be an increasing demand for it, for we were ordered to print double the usual number. The boys have to hustle on this job for it must always be executed in a hurry.

The printers are feeling "puffed up" over two letters displayed on our bulletin board. One is from The American Printer, New York City; the other from The Public Printer, in charge of the Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. They both compliment us very highly on the results of our efforts. Several other such letters are also displayed.

Concert by The Carlisle Band.

The first out-door concert by the U. S. Carlisle Indian Band, led by C. M. Stauffer, was given last Wednesday evening, in the school band stand on the campus. A very nice crowd of people attended from the surrounding vicinity of the school, and as evidence that the music was thoroughly appreciated, every piece was encored. Following we print the program:

March—"The Cavalier".....Harris
Overture—"Bronze Horse".....Auber
Novelty—"The Teddy Bear's Picnic".....Bratton
Fantasia from "Maritana".....Wallace
Waltz—"The Love Kiss".....Pryor
Selection—"The Sunny South".....Lampe

OUR GARDEN.

EDITH L. NEPHEW, Seneca.

Our garden is southwest of the school building, beside the railroad. The morning division planted vegetable seeds on the left side as you face the town, and the afternoon division will plant theirs on the right.

Mr. Hoffmann was at the garden when we got there. He taught us how to plant the seeds. Chester Cabay gave us a hoe and a rake as we passed out of our schoolroom. He knew more about making a garden than any of us did. We planted beans, peas, radishes, beets and lettuce. We went to the garden at half-past nine and came back at about ten o'clock.

The boys made the trenches with the hoes and the girls put the seeds into them and covered them by using the rakes. The trenches are one foot apart.

Mr. Hoffmann had a strong string tied to two sticks; he makes the trenches straight by following the string. He said the vegetables would be ready for food within thirty days.

Our garden is twenty-four feet long and eighteen feet wide. There are 432 square feet in the garden.

When we came back we put our hoes and rakes in the corner near our door and Chester Cabay put them back in the closets.

Indian Art A Coming Thing.

Dr. Stratton, director of the School of Industrial Art, of Philadelphia, was greatly impressed with Carlisle during a recent visit, and much pleased with the work done in the Art Department. He believes that Indian designing is one of the coming things in American Art. Mr. Stratton enjoys the reputation of being at the head of America's foremost school in the advancement of arts for practical purposes and his opinion may therefore be taken as that of an expert.—Indians Friend.

ABOUT CARLISLE ATHLETICS.

The Indians won a very interesting triangular meet last Saturday from Lafayette and Dickinson. The meet was exciting from start to finish and a fine spirit prevailed throughout the contest, which was a pleasant contrast to the spirit displayed by the State College team the previous Saturday.

Two Indian school records were broken and one was tied. Thorpe lowered the record in the 220-yard hurdle event to 25 3-5 sec., defeating Herrick, the State Intercollegiate champion, while Moore, after winning the quarter mile in the fast time of 51 sec., ran a fine race in the half mile and lowered the school record to 2 min., 2 1-5 seconds.

Schenandore was timed in 15 3-5 sec., by two of the watches in the 120-yard hurdle race, but the record was not allowed because so many hurdles were knocked down.

Levi Williams won his C by scoring 2 points in the pole vault.

Score, Indians 63, Lafayette 48½, Dickinson 5½.

Indians Seem to Print and Act Well.

We have received a program of the comic opera, "The Captain of Plymouth," given by the students of Carlisle as a part of the commencement exercises. Like all other products of the Carlisle Indian Press the work is perfect, and judging from the accounts of the production published by the papers of the town, the opera itself was perfection.—Native American, Phoenix Indian School.

SUNDAY afternoon Miss Wistar chaperoned the new Cabinet members to the grove for their first meeting. As workers of the Y. W. C. A. let each member show interest and try to realize how important her duty is. Let the Cabinet be the most successful one during the term.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

The recitation given by Adeline Greenbrier last Monday morning was excellent.

Mr. Meyer has been elected manager of the Teachers' Club in place of J. L. Walters, resigned.

Mr. Meyer and Mr. Whitwell are the latest additions to the auto club. Each have new machines, both runabouts.

J. L. Walters, who has been a teacher at Carlisle for several years, has resigned and left May 14th for his home in Texas. He made many friends while here and we wish him success wherever he may locate.

The hospital end of the campus has had many visitors the past two weeks. No, not to see the doctor, but to look at the three beautiful tulip beds near his residence. They would add beauty and grace to any park in any city.

Edgar Moore gave a fine exhibition on the track last Saturday in the triangular meet. He ran the 440 yds. in the fast time of 51 seconds. He also established a new half-mile record for the school by clipping 2-5 seconds off that held by William Gardner.

Last week Charles Ross, of the ARROW force, received the sad news of Roscoe Conklin's death. Roscoe left here last March for his home in Oklahoma. All the boys in the printing department are sorry to learn of his passing, for he was well liked and a deserving, industrious, steady young man.

Elsie Valley, who is laundress at Washunga, Okla., writes to friends here that she is getting along nicely. She says, "I am certainly thankful for what Carlisle has done for me; it certainly has taught me how to earn my clothes and bread and butter." She sends her best wishes to all her old classmates and friends.

Sunday evening Mrs. Foster took a large number of girls to the first farm. All were in high spirits and had a nice time drinking the clear, cool water of the spring from a shinning tin dipper. The spring is one of the most beautiful places near the school, being shaded with large willow trees probably a hundred years old.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Window screens are being put in the cottage made last summer.

Nina Carlisle and Grace Kie left for the country Monday morning.

Each class in the academic department has planted a small garden. Now all are waiting for the vegetables to ripen.

Our campus is looking very pretty in her spring dress, and everybody likes to sit under a tree and enjoy the evening breezes.

The tanners are busy filling orders for pails, coffee boilers, cups, etc., from other Indian Schools all over the United States.

The carpenters, who numbered about 45 last winter, have diminished to seven. About thirty-eight have gone to the country.

Mrs. Anna F. Bennett writes from Lame Deer, Montana, that Mr. Bennett has received an appointment under the classified service, and that he is working at that agency. Mr. Bennett was formerly farmer here at the Carlisle school.

Savannah Beck, who went to her old country home in West Chester, writes that she is getting along well and is enjoying the best of health.

Last Sunday evening the Catholic pupils held a meeting in the music room. Several students gave incidents in their own personal experience.

Judson Cabay, of Michigan, a member of the Chippewa tribe, defeated forty contestants who participated in the five-mile race at Harrisburg last Saturday.

Ernestine Venne, who is now living in Germantown, Pa., writes friends here that she likes her country home very much, and wishes to be remembered to the sophomore class.

An interesting feature of the Susans' program Friday evening was an impromptu given by Margaret Blackwood, who told the girls what she would do if she were to possess a million dollars.

Margaret DeLorimiere, Class '09, now at Jenkintown, Pa., writes to her friends that she has a very nice home and will remain there till next fall, when she expects to enter a business college in Philadelphia.

The Freshman and Sophomore classes enjoyed a lovely walk to the Cave last Friday afternoon. The weather was at its best and there were many different kinds of flowers to attract our attention. All were very thankful for this opportunity and hope to be permitted to go again.

The Mercers held the last meeting of the year last Friday evening. They had a well-prepared program to which the Invincibles were invited. After the roll call a selection by the Invincible Orchestra was greatly enjoyed. The program for the evening was given as follows: Song, Mercers; Recitation, Ollie Bourbonnais; Vocal solo, Thirza Bernel; Declamation, Leila Waterman;

John, Agnes Jacobs, Amelia Wheelock; Recitation, Thirza Bernel; Society prophecy, Fannie Charley; Piano solo, Alberta Bartholomeow; Anecdotes, Gladys McLane. The house was next open to the good of the society which gave opportunity for very encouraging remarks from many of the visitors present.

One of the Old Regime.

Mrs. White Cloud, widow of the late Chief White Cloud, and one of the oldest Indians on the reservation, died last week at the home of Robert Hallet. She and her husband were among the first of the removals to this reservation after its opening from old Crow Wing. The White Cloud residence on the hill south of town was built by the government soon after their arrival on the reservation. Since the demise of her husband some twenty years ago, Mrs. White Cloud has made her home with her son until his death a few weeks ago. She is highly spoken of by all who knew her. Her familiar form and genial disposition will be missed by those who knew her.—Chippewa Herald, White Earth, Minn.

Interesting to Friends of The Indian.

The Indian Craftsman for April is even superior to the first two numbers. It contains a resume of the work of the Indian Bureau under Commissioner Leupp's administration which is not only interesting but inspiring. There is a fine half tone portrait of Lewis Tewanima, the renowned Hopi runner, standing by a table upon which are displayed the various trophies he was won, accompanied by an article upon his career. There is a paper on Indian pueblo government by Supt. C. J. Grandall with several most beautiful photogravures of Indian pueblos. The short articles by Carlisle students include one on Picture Writing and Sign Language and another on Totems. The paragraphs by the editor include both interesting comment and news of the school and the Service—good reading all. Those interested in the Indian take great pride and satisfaction in the Craftsman.—Native American, Phoenix Indian School.

DICKINSON WINS THE FIRST GAME.

It was a great game last week Wednesday between the Indians and Dickinson. Up to the eighth inning the Indians had the visitors shut out 3 to 0, then a bad decision of the umpire, which netted Dickinson two runs, seemed to upset them. Below we give an account of the game as published by the Carlisle Volunteer:

Red Skin and Pale Face clashed yesterday afternoon in one of the hottest and most interesting games of base ball ever played in Carlisle, and the people who saw it marveled at the splendid contest. It was the annual game between the teams of Dickinson College and the Carlisle Indian School, and was played on the latter's field.

The day was an ideal one for such sport, and consequently both nines were in the pink of condition, and there was a very large crowd out to witness the contest. The game was not called until after three o'clock, and it was not until about six o'clock that it was completed. In speaking of it last evening Deputy Sheriff John T. Sheaffer, who umpired the contest, stated that for close technical points, it was the hardest game ever played in Carlisle. Throughout it was replete with fast plays, and each team did excellent work both at the bat and in the field.

Langstaff was in the pitcher's box for the red and white, and Garlow twirled for the Indians. Both were in excellent form.

The sensational plays of the game were the catch of a line drive by Newashe, the Indian's second-baseman, and a hot grounder by O'Brien, the Dickinson second-baseman. Score by innings:

SOME SHORT NEWS ITEMS.

The fine weather we are having is a great inducement for long walks by the girls and their chaperones.

Garlow certainly pitched fine ball last week Wednesday in the first game between the Indians and Dickinson.

The Freshmen are reading Tom Brown's School Days and it interests them very much to compare some of the trials and pleasures of English school boys with their own. What a fine sense of honor those boys developed!

A letter received from Helen Lane tells of the beauty and charm of Annisquam, Mass., where she is visiting. She is having a delightful time, but misses her old friends at Carlisle. Helen will return sometime in June.

A Handsome Number.

The Commencement Number of the CARLISLE ARROW was got up in an extremely handsome fashion throughout, and rendered valuable by many fine illustrations. In the class of 1909 the following tribes were represented: Alaskan, Assiniboine, Cayuga, Cherokee, Cheyenne, Chipewa, Gros Ventre, Hyda, Lummi, Mashpee, Mohawk, Oneida, Pueblo, Sac and Fox, Seneca, Sioux and Stockbridge.—Indians Friend.

ABOUT LETTER-WRITING.

We think a few suggestions in reference to letter-writing will be beneficial to some of our pupils. That the date and address should be given and every letter written in a clear, legible hand is understood by many, but a few pupils, in the lower grades especially, need to understand better the proprieties in letter-writing. When writing to your teachers or any of the employees of the school or to any person older than yourself, write the name in the superscription as you speak it by saying "Dear Miss Jones" or "Dear Mr. Smith." Do not use the given name. In talking you would not call any employee by his given name. A teacher in writing to one of the pupils would begin by saying "My Dear Mary" or "Dear Charlie," for your teacher calls you by your given name. Many of you understand what is proper in this regard; but one or two instances have come under the writer's notice where a pupil was ignorant of this fact, for one of the girls wrote to a teacher some time ago addressing her in the letter by her given name. The superscription in all letters, whether business or friendship letters, begin with the word "Dear." The word "Dear" is not an expression of affection, as some seem to think, but a term of respect.

Every month on home-letter writing day you should try to write to your parents, brothers, or sisters the kindest, the most neatly written, and most interesting letter possible. Everything you are doing will interest them. Let nothing but the best you can do go to your dear ones at home. Your parents are longing for your kind thoughts and words, and you do not now understand how much they miss you and what a sacrifice it is to them to have you away from them; but they unselfishly make this sacrifice for your good that you may get an education. It would be cruel to neglect them. If you think of them often tell them so. Be true to the home folks. Let them feel that you are learning more how to love and sympathize with them and your people instead of forgetting them.—Sherman Bulletin, Riverside School, California.

We have extra copies of our Commencement issue to send ex-students.
