NUMBER 33

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Miss Butler and Frank Johnson sang a duet at the Methodist Sunday School on Sunday last.

Shelia Guthrie, who was here on a visit during commencement, left for her home in Oklahoma last Monday.

The laundry window frames are receiving a new coat of paint, which adds greatly to the appearance of the building.

Carlisle will be represented in the four-mile college championship relay races on April 30, at the University of Pennsylvania.

Preparations are being made near the school building for the classes in practical agriculture. Transplanting will be the chief work.

Sixty-four girls left for the country last week with the hopes of improving themselves, not only in the household arts, but also in other lines of work.

Ruth Elm and Maxie Luce represented the freshman class at the opening exercises in the auditorium last Monday morning and afternoon.

We are sorry to learn that Stephen Glori is ill in one of the hospitals in New York City. We sincerely hope that he will soon be out again, regaining his health.

Many of the girls were sorry to have Gladys McLeane leave for her home in North Dakota last week. We all hope she may have a very enjoyable vacation and return to us in the fall.

The Catholic meeting was held in the music room at the usual hour Sunday evening. The evening was devoted mostly to the singing of new hymns which made the meeting very interesting.

Joseph Tarbell writes from his home that he is enjoying life and good health, generally. He sends regards to his many friends and classmates.

The quacking of Joseph Anamikwan the small boys' "duck," will be missed very much since he has gone out into the country for the spring and summer.

Gus. Welch, one of the prominent members of the band, is now promoted to the first chair of the cornetists. There is already a marked improvement noticeable on the part of the cornet section.

Last Sunday evening at the union meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. the subject "Thoughtfulness" was discussed by Mr. Shoemaker, of Carlisle, and Fritz Hendricks. Montreville Yuda was the leader for the evening.

Wauseka and William Garlow were welcome visitors last Sunday to the resident bachelors. They invited all the members to town for dinner. William Newashe was the only bachelor absent; he had gone on a visit to friends in Hershey.

Katie Wolfe, a member of the class of '10, left Carlisle last Monday afternoon for her home in North Carolina, where she will take a position as assistant seamstress in the Cherokee Boarding School. Her friends wish her success in her new work.

Miss McDowell chaperoned about eight girls to the Cave last Saturday afternoon. They brought back with them a fine collection of flowers. All reported being very tired but having spent an enjoyable afternoon. They extend thanks to Miss McDowell for taking them.

Raymond Hitchcock, another Senior member of the class in printing, finished his work here at graduation exercises and left for his home in San Francisco, Cal., where he intends to make a successful printer. Raymond left with the best wishes of his printer-classmates; he is capable of doing good work and we hope he will get a good position and "stick."

Last Friday evening the Standards rendered a voluntary program, which proved to be very interesting. The debate: "Resolved, That women should receive lower wages than men for the same occupation." No judges could be found to settle this momentous question, so it remains unsettled. The official visitors were Miss Bingley and Mr. Nori.

The Mercers' program was put off on account of the election of new officers which resulted as follows; President, Angas Waite; Vice President, Susie Porter; Secretary, Lillian Porterfield; Corresponding Secretary, Annie Rolette; Treasurer, Margaret Reed; Reporter, Lida Wheelock; Critic, Nan Saunooke. Dr. Shoemaker was the official visitor.

The Susans held their meeting at the usual time last Friday evening. Those who took part were, Rachel Chase, Marjorie Jackson, Iva Miller, Ella Johnson and Clara Trepania. The question for the debate was: "Resolved, That the wages of women should not be lower than those of men in the same occupation." The affirmative speakers were Louisa Kachicum and Vera Wagner; the negatives, Mazie Skye and Margaret DeLorimere. The judges decided in favor of the affirmative. There was no official visitor.

Last Friday evening an election of officers for the coming term was held in the Invincible Society Hall. The result of the election was: President, Robert Tahamont; vice-president, William Bishop; recording secretary, Sampson Burd; treasurer, George La Vatta; corresponding secretary, Peter Jordan; reporter, Thomas St. Germaine; sergeant at-arms, Eben Snow; critic Edison Mt. Pleasant. After the election a general debate was held. The question was "Resolved, That the railroads should be owned and operated by the United States government." The official visitor was Mr. Meyer.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

David Robertson, one of the village blacksmiths, spent last Sunday at the school with his friends.

Many extra hands have been detailed to the farm on account of the work which has to be done there.

We have lately received word from Mr. A. M. Venne stating that he is still enjoying life at Chilocco, Okla.

The band is growing fewer in numbers on account of members going out to the country for a few months.

David Robinson, who went to the country last week, returned Saturday evening to spend Sunday with his friends.

In a letter to his sister, Freeman Johnson of Class '07, states that he is getting along nicely working at his trade in Rochester, N. Y.

Tempa Johnson writes from Forest Grove, Maryland, that she is enjoying life there. She wishes to be remembered to all her friends.

Joe Loud Bear is now busily engaged in studying the origin of "Halley's comet" and incidentally, other great bodies of the solar system.

One of the boys who is keenly interested in the comet, mistook the mountain fire for it and declared that "There was Halley's comet."

Last Saturday evening, an ice-cream sale was given in the Y. M. C. A. hall during the social; everyone seemed to enjoy the evening.

Mrs. William Beitzel, formerly our drawing teacher, was a visitor last week and those of us who remember her were glad to see her.

Estelle Bradley, who is now learning office work in the printing department, is competing with Anna Rolette, who is assisting in the administration building.

Many beautiful post-cards have been received from Jerome Keogma, who went home a short time ago on account of ill health. He writes that the trip was a pleasant one and that he arrived home safely.

Miss Sweeny gave a very fine description of her visit to Hampton Institute in the auditorium last Monday morning. It was all very instructive to us since we are so much interested in that school.

Nan Saunooke's essay was very appropriate and taught a lesson. An old Arab once said, "there are three things which never return—the arrow shot from the bow, a spoken word, and a lost opportunity."

The Seniors, accompanied by Mrs. Foster, took a trip through the greenhouse last Friday and learned the names of many flowers. Mr. Veith, the florist, was very obliging and gave us many points concerning flowers.

Mr. Whitwell, talked to the boys last Sunday morning on the subject of, "Honesty and Good Character." The boys paid close attention to the lesson, and they felt greatly benefited by the splendid advice which it contained.

Stacy Beck, a member of class '10, will leave in a few days for Oklahoma, where she has accepted a position as assistant matron. Our best wishes go with her, and we hope she will find her new work very congenial.

Miss Kaup gave the morning school division, an excellent talk on her visit to Hampton Institute. She spoke of how nice and clean they kept their campus. Let us follow their example and keep our campus free of waste paper.

Last Friday evening The Susans elected the following officers: President, Ivy Miller; vice-president, Texie Tubbs; recording secretary, Mazie Skye; Treasurer, Pearl Wolf; reporter, Louisa Kachicum; critic, Mae Wheelock. After the election a very good program was given as follows: The Society Song, Susans; select reading, Grace Kie; piano solo, Adeline Greenbrier; recitation, Lottie Trampler; impromptu, Mae Wheelock. The debate: "Resolved, That it would be for the best interests of both the governments concerned to annex Canada to the United States." The affirmative speakers were Eliza Keshena and Merceline Holstine; negatives, Clara Bonser, and Pearl Wolf. The affirmatives won. The official visitors were Miss Lacrone and Miss Scott.

Manager "Sieb," Nephew of the "Young Chiefs," recently organized, led his team to a victory over the "Cherokees" in a nine inning game played Saturday. The game was interesting up to the eighth inning, when the "Chiefs" spotted their pitcher and pounded the horse hide for several tallies. Up to the eighth inning the score was standing 4-3 with the Cherokees in the lead. The ending of the ninth inning brought the game to a close with the Chiefs on a good lead. Score 12-4.

ABOUT CARLISLE ATHLETICS.

Swarthmore plays lacrosse here tomorrow at 3 p. m., and the Indians are determined to "Scalp 'em."

The Class championship meet will take place next Monday. It will be a close and interesting contest between several of the classes.

Tewanima easily won a 10-mile race in N. Y. City last Saturday evening and again lowered the indoor record for the distance. His time was 54 min., 19 1-5 seconds.

The lacrosse team was defeated by Stevens Institute at Hoboken last Saturday by the score of 6-4. It was a very close and exciting game and the Indians surprised every one by making such a good showing for a green team.

Carlisle Boys at Gallup, N. M.

James Luther, a Carlisle ex-student, is working as a pipe fitter in the round house at Gallup, New Mexico, and making from fifty to fifty-seven dollars a month. He likes the work and is in way of advancement to a higher place. He reports that there are a number of former Carlisle boys at Gallup, all doing nicely and living up to the Carlisle standard. He mentions that Mr. and Mrs. Noble Thompson are now living in Gallup, and frequently speak of their Carlisle friends.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Dr. Shoemaker and his family have gone on a two-weeks visit to his brother in New York City.

Miss Ella Staub, cook at the Teachers' Club, is away on leave for a few days to visit friends in Harrisburg.

During to the storm last Sunday the Catholic students did not go into town to church, but had mass in the Y. M. C. A. hall.

Edison Mt. Pleasant left for the country last Tuesday. We are all sorry to be without him, but wish him every success.

Mr. F. W. Broughton, private secretary to Commissioner Valentine, made Carlisle a visit this week. We were glad to see him and hope he will come again.

Grace Wayman, a member of the junior class who has been in the dressmaking class all winter, is now detailed to the Teachers' Club to assist Miss Staub.

Several cards have been received from Katherine Wolfe. She expects to go, within a few days, to the Cherokee School where she will be assistant seamstress.

Myrtle Peters, who has been living in Riverton, New Jersey, has been transferred to West Chester, Pa. Agnes Cabay and Virginia Boone are also living in West Chester.

Fannie Keokuk, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Harrisburg, came in for a few days' visit. She will return to Harrisburg, thence to her home in Oklahoma.

The Mercers met at the usual place last Friday evening, the president, Agnes Waite, in the chair. There was no debate but a very good program was rendered. The official visitor was Miss Johnston.

Alfred Degrasse, senior, spoke on the subject of "Possibilities in Spare Moments" in the auditorium Monday afternoon. It is wonderful what things can be accomplished, if we but utilize our spare moments.

A song service was held in the Y. M. C. A. hall last Sunday evening. Fritz Hendricks, Thomas St. Germaine, and Montreville Yuda gave some brief but inspiring talks to the boys.

Nan Saunooke represented the Senior class in the auditorium last Monday morning. The title of her essay was "Spare Moments." It was full of inspiration, which we would do well to follow.

The Catholic students gave a farewell entertainment to Father Ganss last Tuesday evening. They had drilled well for it, so that it would be worthy of the occasion. Appropriate little gifts were presented to Father Ganss by the students.

Frank L. Johnson, better known as "John Alden," departed from us last Monday afternoon for New Jersey. "Mr. Alden" had gained good experience while here as a painter and now the world has called upon him to make good so we can no longer hold him.

The boys who are far enough advanced in their trades to make a creditable showing for themselves will be given the opportunity, through the Outing System, to go to places within easy distance of the school, to further pursue their respective trades under competent instructors.

The Y. M. C. A. meeting, led by Miss Cowdry last Sunday evening, was unusually interesting in its character. Miss Cowdry talked about "The Lepers of India." From the many talks we have had about these unfortunate people we are learning to know and to understand their condition, which is very sad indeed. We feel grateful to Miss Cowdry, and to other leaders who are taking such pains to make our meetings interesting to all of us. The visitors were Miss Gaither and Miss Johnston.

The Juniors held their class meeting Monday, April 11th, and elected the following officers: President, William Bishop; vice-president, Henry Vincent; secretary, Joseph Jocks; treasurer, Fred Cornelius; reporter, Walker Penn; sergeant-at-Arms, David White. After the counting of the votes the newly elected president took the chair and gave us a speech, after which we had a short program. The class elected George Thomas captain for the class contest. Our teacher gave us a short talk, after which the meeting adjourned.

Last Friday evening there was held in the Standard Society Hall an interesting meeting the feature of which was the election of officers. The successful candidates were: President, Jefferson B. Smith; vice-president, Francis Coleman; recording secretary, Harry Wheeler; corresponding secretary, Harry West; treasurer, Harrison Smith; critic, Gus Welch; censor, Alvin Kennedy, assist. critic, Albert Lorentz; manager of music, Montreville Yuda; sergeant-at-arms, Andrew Jackson; editor, Mitchell Pierce. Mr. E. K. Miller was the official visitor.

Grand Opera Downtown.

The Carlisle Oratorio Society, under the direction of Frederick C. Martin, and assisted by Emil Mollenhauer, will produce Saint-Sas's grand opera, "Samson and Delilah" on Saturday evening, April 23, at the opera house, Carlisle. The opera which contains three acts and thirteen scenes covering the whole Biblical story, will be given exactly as produced by the Metropolitan company in New York, minus only the costumes and stage settings. The performance will begin at 8:15 Saturday evening. A special afternoon concert by the Boston Festival Orchestra, at 2:15. Tickets for both entertainments are on sale at Houston's Drug Store, Carlisle.

The Artists' Picnic.

Alice Jake, Marjorie Jackson, Susie Porter, Emma Rowland, Florence Whiteman, Nora McFarland, Sarah Montieth, Marie Cox, Anna Miles, Mollie Mantel, Cora Battice, Sadie Ingalls, and Mary C. Harris, with Mrs. Dietz, for chaperone, held a picnic at Holly Park, on the 16th. They left here at ten o'clock, and returned at 5:30. Immediately upon arrival they pitched their tent in the heart of the forest where they were kept busy cooking, for every one was famished. Sadie assumed the responsibility of most of the cooking while Susie and Marjorie acted as head waitresses. Every one had to cook her own meat by holding it over the fire in true Indian fashion. After luncheon until time to return, the party roamed around observing and enjoying the beautiful scenery for which Mt. Holly is famous. The girls wish to thank Mrs. Dietz for her kindly chaperonage throughout that happy day.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Allen Reboin, the cheerful lad, has left for the country.

The masons are busily working on the new dairy barn to be built at the first farm.

A very pretty postal mailed at St. Paul was received from Charles Kennedy.

The farm detail of boys is very busy getting the ground in condition for planting.

The new juniors heartily congratulate the new seniors and wish them future success.

The tulips are now in bloom and they help very greatly in beautifying the campus.

The Seniors have begun the study of Indian history, and they find it very interesting.

Friends of Mary Darden will be pleased to see her when she comes in some time next month.

A most impressive sermon was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Black in the chapel Sunday afternoon.

Rae Kennedy and Leon Jure were fortunate to leave for the country in company with their patrons.

The Seniors extend their heartiest welcome to Marie Arteshaw, who has lately returned to the class.

Many interesting letters and postals have been received from the girls who went to the country last week.

Etta Saracino, who is visiting with her country folks in town, came up last night to attend the union meeting.

Many beautiful Easter postals were received from Elmira Jerome who is at Fort Totten, N. D., as assistant seamstress.

A letter received from Rose Lyons, who went out with the first party, states that she has a very nice home in Jenkintown, Pa.

A number of the pupils who went out a year ago have returned to school. We are very glad to have them with us again.

Harry Wheeler went to Philadelphia to attend the gymnastic championship contests which were held in the central Y. M. C. A. hall there.

Many beautiful postal cards have been received from Katie Wesh, who went home last Wednesday. She is to return in the fall.

Quite a number of boys have already signed to go out in the country on the first of May. Many good homes are still open for them.

Last Saturday afternoon the "Cherokee Indians" defeated the "Highland Giants" in a fast game of base ball by the score of 7 to 8.

A number of boys are getting ready to go out into the country for the summer; most of them are new boys who have just entered the school.

The masons and the carpenters are now engaged at the first farm making improvements in the barns and stables to make them more sanitary for the cattle.

Robert J. Tahamont took a party of small boys to the mountains recently. He led them across fields and through brooks. On the return trip Joseph T. Lang piloted them.

President Gus Welsh, of the present junior class, has had a broad smile on his face since he received his promotion. He claims that the juniors have good prospects to win in athletics this year.

During our commencement an ex-student spoke to the student body at the union meeting of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. He excited one of our smallest boys, for the little fellow exclaimed; "Gee, he is a good spoker!"

We should all enter our new classes with more energy and interest this term for more is expected of us this year than ever before. If you failed to pass take up your studies with the determination that you are going to catch up.

The members of the Junior class are sorry to lose two of their members, Emma Newashe and Laura Tubbs, who left for their homes recently. We hope they will return to resume their studies in the fall, but until then we wish them success and happiness during their stay at home.

Francis Coleman, and Maggie Sky, president and secretary of the Senior class, called upon Mr. Friedman Monday afternoon to ask his permission to choose the site for the planting of their class tree on Arbor Day. The place chosen is a conspicuous one, quite in accord with the advancing spirit of the class.

Miss Kaup and Miss Sweeney left for Hampton Institute last Monday morning, where they will remain for a week observing ways and methods in that excellent institution. During Miss Kaup's absence from the Normal Department, Carlisle Greenbrier will have charge of the morning division of pupils, and Eliza Keshena and Nan Sanooke of the afternoon.

The Senior Class meeting was held in the music room last Tuesday to transact its usual business. The feature of the evening was the election of officers which resulted as follows: President, Francis Coleman, vice-president, Alfred Degrasse; secretary, Mazie L. Skye; treasure, Louis Dupuis; reporter, William Ettawagishik; sergeant-at-arms, Robert Tahamont; critic, Nan Saunooke.

Charles Kennedy, of the Carlisle Indian Press force and a member of the Carlisle Indian Band, left Carlisle last week to accept the position of bandmaster and disciplinarian at the Indian school at White Earth, Minnesota. He began work Monday of this week, and is by this time, we hope, beginning to get acquainted with his work and his co-workers at that school. We look to Charles to make a success of his undertaking, and have confidence in his ability and determination to do so. He is missed here by the band boys and printers, and we all notice the absence of his violin in the school orchestra.

The Juniors held a meeting to elect officers last Monday evening. The election resulted as follows: President, William Bishop; vice-president, Henry Vincent; secretary, Joseph M. Jocks; treasurer, Fred Cornelius; reporter, Walker Penn; critic, Joel Wheelock; sergeant-at-arms, David White. A voluntary program consisting of anecdotes, recitations and debate was rendered. The question; "Resolved, that city life is preferable to country life." Henry Vincent and Walker Penn on the affirmative side; Iva Miller and Clara Trepania on the negative. No judges were appointed and the question was left to the individuals to decide as each thought best.
