Prof. Surface, state zoologist, made a very interesting address in the auditorium on Arbor Day.

Word has been received from Laura Tubbs, who went home a few weeks ago, that she is well and happy. She sends greetings to her friends.

A letter has been received from Katie Wolfe, stating that she is enjoying the southern air and that she is fast making friends among her people.

William Nelson, class 10, has gone to Wisconsin to work at his trade of blacksmithing. He will be with William White, an ex-student, who has gone into business and is doing well.

A card was lately received from Jose Porter, upon which he states that he is in Shawnee, Okla., working at his trade. Jose is an industrious young man and will be sure to succeed wherever he may be.

"Truth" is the name bestowed upon the tree which the Seniors planted on Arbor Day. Many lovely sentiments were said as each helped to plant it. The class song was sung while going to and from the tree, and everything was done with great dignity, as becomes a Senior class.

Sara Hoxie writes from Merchantville, N. J.: "I have just finished reading the SENIOR ARROW and it brings some fond memories of dear Old Carlisle. I have a very nice home; better patrons could not be wished for. The place is beautiful and I love my work. My best wishes to the senior class."

Enrique Urrutia, a Porto Rican who spent three years at Carlisle, returning to his home in 1905, is now occupying a position at the Naval Station at San Juan, P. R. He expects to take an examination for a second lieutenantship in the Porto-Rican Regiment of infantry next fall. In a recent letter to the superintendent he asks to be remembered through THE ARROW to all his Carlisle friends

Two seniors, Jerome Kennerly and Alfred De Grass, left last Monday morning for workfields of the busy outside world. The former has gone to Milwaukee, Pa., where he will specialize in horse-shoeing, and the latter to Bethlehem, Pa., to work at his trade of painting. They will return in the fall to resume their academic studies. The best wishes of the remaining Seniors go with them.

At their meeting last Friday evening the Susans, after discussing their revised constitution, decided to adopt it and be guided by its rules and regulations and to have it printed as soon as possible. A very good program was rendered as follows: A select reading, Clara Trepania; piano solo, Clara Bonser; story, Stella Bear. The question debated: "Resolved, that the United States government should take steps looking toward the purchase and control of the interstate railroads. Affirmatives Marie Lewis and Rosina Peters. Negatives, Daphne Waggoner and Mae Wheelock. The judges were Selina Twoguns, Texie Tubbs and Pearl Wolfe. They decided in favor of the affirmative. The official visitor was Mr. Veith.

Last Monday morning, in the auditorium, Mr. Stauffer gave a good description of the trip to Washington that was made by twenty of our boys who acted as ushers at an illustrated lecture on "The Vanishing Race," given in one of the ballrooms of the Willard Hotel. The boys spent some of their time in visiting the various places of interest in which Washington abounds.

In a letter from Leila Waterman, who is living with Miss Biles in West Grove, Pa., she says: "I have a very nice home; I think it must be the very best home there is under the Outing System. Farm life seems to agree with me; I enjoy it all so much. I gather eggs in the evening, and only last evening I found sixty-five; sometimes I get more than that. We have twenty little chickens—dear little things—six cats and several little kittens; all of the cats have names. I have just fallen in love with every thing on the place. My room is so pretty that I should like to stay in it all the time." Leila closes by sending love to her classmates.

Last Friday evening the Invincibles met at the usual hour in their society hall. They had no special program prepared, the numbers rendered were entirely voluntary, and all were interesting. Those who took part were James Lydick, Jack Jackson, Joseph Jocks, William Bishop and Philip Cornelius. There was a general debate and the question was as follows "Resolved, That city life is preferable to country life." Those who took part on the affirmative side were William Bishop and James Lydick, negative, Leroy Redeagle, Philip Cornelius, Walter Robertson and Henry Blatchford. No judges were appointed, therefore the question remains undecided. Philip Cornelius was elected critic in place of Edison Mt. Pleasant, who has gone to the country for the summer. The official visitors were Miss Kaup and Mr. E. K. Miller.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Our campus is, indeed, a beautiful spot.

Peter Gaddy left for the country on Monday morning.

The school herd of dairy cows is now taken out to the pasture daily.

Antonia Tillahash and Frank Johnson were among the spectators at the relay races Saturday.

George Redwing left for the country Monday morning. His many friends wish him success.

The building that is being erected at the first farm is now well under way. It is for the use of stock.

Anna Chisholm left for the country last Saturday. She will make her new home at Mt. Holly, New Jersey.

Mr. Harvey K. Meyer, the superintendent's clerk, is making a few days' visit to his home in Lebanon, Pennsylvania.

Annie King, one of the small girls, has returned from the country. She has been out almost a year, so is glad to be back.

Melinda Desantel, one of the nurses, went to the country last week where she will take care of an invalid for the summer.

Joseph Loud Bear, who is working in Mt. Holly, came in Saturday and reported having a good time and a good place to work.

The band gave a short concert last Thursday evening complimentary to the pupils who went out to the country last Friday and Saturday.

The Y. W. C. A. will sell ice-cream, cake, fruit, nuts and candy in the Y. M. C. A. hall next Saturday evening. All come; bring your money and show your willingness to help along the good cause.

Last Monday morning in the auditorium Mr. Whitwell gave the morning division a very interesting account of his visit to Hampton Institute.

Clara Trepania, who is a member of the junior class, left for the country last Tuesday. We are sorry to lose her but we wish her a pleasant vacation.

Owing to the fact that there were not enough members in attendance to form a quorum last Friday evening, the Standards adjourned their meeting without transacting any business.

Rev. Mr. Pilgrim gave the audience a fine talk on, "The Publican and the Pharisee" in the auditorium last Sunday afternoon. The whole discourse was beneficial to every one who is willing to take the lesson.

Harrison Smith, who went out to the country with the second party, is greatly missed at the printery. His ever smiling face was an inspiration to his co-workers, and we hope he may keep his cheerfulness among his associates.

Clara Bonser, who has been acting as head girl in the laundry for the past six months, has been promoted to the hospital as head nurse. We wish to congratulate her on the change and we trust it will prove a success for her.

"Sieb" Nephew's "Young Chiefs" added another game to their credit by defeating the "Minnesota Indians" with a score of 6-0. Hauser's pitching and the one-hand stab made by Red Wing, were the features of the game.

Hauser, the Carlisle Indian catcher for Harrisburg, played well in Saturday's game with Scranton. In an account it is said: "The work of Hauser, the Carlisle Indian, was an interesting feature. His throwing was of the gild-edge order. His part in a double play was the fastest kind of fielding."

The Susan Literary Society met last Friday evening at the usual hour and place. The meeting was successfully carried out. The question for debate read thus: "Resolved, that the education of children should be compulsory from the age of 7 to 16 years." The judges decided for the affirmative. The official visitor was Miss Boley.

Daphne Waggoner represented the sophomore class at the opening exercises in the auditorium last Monday morning. The title of her recitation was "Make This a Day." It was given in a pleasing manner.

James Driver, an ex-student and now a baker at Hershey, Pa., is doing a thriving business. After leaving the bakery here he went to Hershey and started in business for himself. He began with some competition, but, by producing the best bread and other good eatables, he has won from his competitors and now has all the business of the little town, he being the only baker. He has a hired man who runs one wagon through the country, while he manages the business in town.

The meeting of the Y. W. C. A. last Sunday evening was very interesting under the leadership of Pearl Wolfe. Margaret Reed was one of the speakers. She took for her subject, "The Good Shepherd." Several of the other girls took part by readings which referred to the subject. Adeline Greenbrier was on the program but being absent, Iva Miller volunteered with a recitation entitled "The Leper." The meeting was closed with the repeating of The Lord's Prayer.

The Mercers held their usual meeting in the Y. W. C. A. room. The attendance was rather small, but the program was well rendered nevertheless. The question debated was "Resolved; That President Taft should be elected for a second term." The affirmatives were Anna Rolette and Ollie Bourbanias; negatives Flora Eaglechief and Mattie Ten Eyck. The negatives won. Mrs Lovewell, the official visitor, gave us encouraging advice, after which the meeting adjourned.

Last Friday evening there were not enough members of the Invincible society present to constitute a quorum, so the regular meeting was postponed. Nevertheless, the few members present showed the Invincible spirit by remaining and holding an impromptu meeting. One of our advisory members, Miss Mann, took the opportunity to give her farewell speech to the Invincibles. We hope that she will be successful in her new field and congratulations go with her from the Invincibles.

Mr. Nori and Mr. Griffin, his father-in-law, visited Philadelphia Saturday.

Mr. Warner our athletic, director has another automobile, a Chalmers-Detroit 30.

Miss Mollie V. Gaither left last Wednesday to visit the girls who are out in the country.

Mr. Stauffer saw our relay team win at the University of Pennsylvania last Saturday.

The carpenter's detail at the farm are improving the condition of the fences and buildings.

The painters have done much lately to improve the looks of our buildings and fences around the place.

Mr. Whitwell, our principal teacher, visited Hampton Institute last week. He was accompanied by Mrs. Whitwell.

The Sophomores were represented in the auditorium last Monday afternoon by Alice Nunn, who recited in a very nice way, "The Right Start."

A new tennis court has been added to the campus. It is in the rear of Lone Star's house and controlled by a club of which Mr. Deitz is secretary.

Mr. James Mumblehead, a member of the senior class who is working in Halifax, Pa., came in Saturday. He likes his work and is pleased with his surroundings.

The latest acquisition to "Pop" Warner's new running squad is "Pat," a French bulldog, a present to him from Coach Wingard, who was here last fall.

Large Boys' Quarters is quite a lonely place now since so many boys have gone out for the summer. Mr. Henderson and Mr. Tranberger now have comparatively a small family to look after.

The Y. M. C. A. were fortunate in having with them last Sunday, Mr. Walls, of Conway, to lead them.

His subject was "Loyalty." It was an inspiring talk; one long to be remembered.

Among the students who came in from the country last Sunday to see their friends, was Antone Danforth. He seems to take advantage of every chance to come "home," and he is always welcome.

Mr. Henderson, boys' outing agent, had over sixty boys out working at their trade last week. He hopes to have a great many more out when it is so they can be spared from their departments here.

The printing department lost Wendell Allison, James Pawnee Leggings, Harrison Smith, Lonnie Hereford and Samuel Wilson, who left for the country Friday last. They are all workers and can be trusted to please the patrons to whose homes they may be attached.

Miss Mann, who has been clerk in charge of the office work of The Carlisle Indian Press, has given up her position here to again enter the field of journalism as a reporter on The Baltimore Sun. She leaves many new friends here who admire her for her pleasant ways and genial disposition. Her associates and her other friends here join in wishing her abundant success, and extend to her a cordial invitation to visit us whenever she so desires.

Picnic in Honor of Miss Mann.

A picnic given in honor of Miss Mann was held at Mt. Holly Park last Monday evening. The weather was perfect and every one was in a gay humor. Twenty-six sat down to "a feast fit for a king" and no one stood upon the order of his eating but immediately proceeded to satisfy the inner cravings of his soul. Twilight descended as a blessing upon the revellers reminding them gently of the passing of time. Then there was a hurry to and fro; the tables were cleared as if by magic and some one scenting good material instituted an impromptu track-meet, the like of which had never before been witnessed. Athletes heretofore unheralded and unsung because of their innate modesty and retiring natures, were discovered in the events which took place. Thus was the time profitably spent until the car came to take us back to "Old Carlisle."

ABOUT CARLISLE ATHLETICS.

The lacrosse team came to the front last Saturday and won an easy game from Baltimore City College through superior team work and all-around ability by the score of 15 to 0. It was a pretty game to watch from the Carlisle standpoint, and judging by the improvement the team is making from week to week under coach O'Neil's excellent instruction, we ought to win the next two games.

Mt. Washington Club of Baltimore will be played at their grounds next Saturday.

The relay team, consisting of Moore, Twohearts, Dupuis and Friday, ran a very fine race in their class last Saturday at Philadelphia and won first place. The prizes was a team banner and a gold watch for each winner.

Fred Schenandore won third place in the special 120 yds. hurdle event.

Tomorrow the track team meets State College in a dual meet on our field. State has a strong bid for the banner. In Talbot, the old Cornell star and Collegiate hammer throw champion, they have a sure winner in the hammer, shot and discus events, and they have some hurdlers, jumpers and distance men who will very likely score many points, so that themet is bound to be a close one. The meet starts at 1:30 p. m.

The union meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. hall last Sunday evening was well attended. The program was interesting, especially the talk given by Levi Hillman.

All the track boys were invited to witness a track meet between Johns Hopkins University and Dickinson College last Saturday. The former team won by a good margin.

Alvin Kennedy gave a party in his room last Sunday morning. While refreshments were being served the invited guests were favored with several selections on the phonograph.

Miss McDowell and Miss Kaup chaperoned a party of girls to the Cave to gather flowers last Saturday afternoon. They returned laden with violets and other flowers, and quite enthusiastic over the pleasures of the walk. The girls are grateful to the teachers for taking them.

Guy Plentyhorse, David White, John Runclose and William Ettawageshik, are working at the Cornman Print Shop, downtown. The boys of the printing department miss them, but our instructor believes in giving us all a chance at experience in outside shops.

Carlisle Beauty Abroad.

"Harrisburg is pretty generally and in fact widely known for the beauty of its young women," observed a court house official yesterday, "but now and then some strangers make even an old boy like myself turn around sudden enough to give him a crick in the neck. For instance, look at that girl."

Half a dozen men in the group took a look. A tall girl, with flashing black eyes and blue black hair, dark skin with the red in her cheeks showing through, showed a flash of white teeth as she smiled a reply to her companion. Incidentally some of the people who were passing turned for a look. A broad black hat caught up with a scarlet flower and a vivid scarlet sweater jacket set off her particular type of beauty amazingly.

The big yellow 'varsity "C" on the left breast of the jersey was not necessary to make it known that the girl was a student of the Carlisle Indian school.—Harrisburg Patriot.

A CHEROKEE INDIAN BALL GAME.

KATHARINE E. WOLFE, Cherokee.

Just as the white man, the Indian too has various forms of amusements.

The ball game, as played by the Cherokees, is as important to them as football or any other popular game is to other people.

The Eastern Band of Cherokees live on the Qualla Reservation in western North Carolina.

The neighborhood in which I live is divided into four main sections namely: Yellow Hill, Soco, Big Cove and Birdtown.

The Indians living in one of these sections will challenge those living in another to a game of ball. Say for instance the Indian men of Big Cove will challenge those living in Birdtown. They choose their players and agree upon the time and place for playing the game. It is generally played in an open field, far different from the well-graded field upon which the game of football is played.

The evening before the game the Indians, the women included, hold a dance in their respective sections of the country. These dances are held in the open air, usually near some small stream. The women do the singing while the men dance. In their songs they make all kinds of remarks about those of the opposing side. These dances continue all night long. From the time of the dances until after the game, the players are not allowed to eat any food.

The following day, the people from the different sections gather at the appointed place to witness the game. They either sit or stand around the edge of the field.

The ball players each have two sticks similar to those used in the game of lacrosse, only smaller. The ball is tossed up in the center of the field and the game begins. The object is to get it around two poles, placed at each end of the field, a certain number of times. They cannot pick up the ball in their hands. The players who succeed in getting the ball around the poles at their end of the field the greatest number of times, win the game.
