BELIEFS OF THE CHIPPEWAS.

MARGARET O. BLACKWOOD, Chippewa.

Some very peculiar beliefs have the old Chippewa Indians. This one has existed from time immemorial and today even the present generation still believes it.

It seems that a very, very long time ago the Great Spirit gave to a member of the tribe the power to change the physical and mental condition of the human body, causing the body to assume the shape, appearance and manner of any heart, bird or fowl. This person was called the Medicine Man. He also had power to cause the change in temperature of anything relating to the earth or sea.

When this old man passed from this earth to the "Happy Hunting Grounds" he bestowed his power upon the most fitting persons and that is how it became so distributed that numbers of Indian tribes possess this power.

These performances are called "Bear Walks" in English, and if there is any person who desires to have another become demented or physically deformed, they may go to the old Indian who possesses this power and give him some belonging of the person to be ruined, and some money to pay for the "Bear Walks," and have him cause the change. They say it makes no difference how far away or whether or not he has ever been seen by the performer, the victim will be reached by the medicine.

Another Successful Carlisle Graduate.

The following paragraphs gleaned from a recent letter from C. M. Sickles, a representative Carlisle graduate, speak for themselves and show another successful career begun at Carlisle:

"I have been in active practice ever since the week following my graduation—the spring of 1904.

"Have been in Tiffin, (Ohio) a city of 17,000 population, and the county seat of Seneca county, for 5 years, 4 months. There is plenty competition, too, as there are 14 other dentists here. At present I have all that I can do. I started in in debt. Now I have over $1000 worth of furniture and instruments in my office. I have no little back room, 'one horse shack' that a decrier of Indian education might imagine. I keep a servant all the time and have my home furnished elegantly. I am not writing this in a boastful manner—but it is with a great deal of satisfaction that I write it, as I earned it all myself. I came here without a cent—besides being in debt several hundred dollars—now I have over $1000 in the banks here and am adding to it monthly."

WHY CORN IS CULTIVATED.

NAN SAUNOOKE, Cherokee.

The Indians of my tribe relate this legend to their children from generation to generation:

Many years ago there lived an old woman with two sons. Every day she would disappear for a certain length of time; when she returned she would bring with her corn, beans, and pumpkins. As her sons grew older they wondered where she got these things. They planned to force her to give them the secret, or kill her if she refused. Discerning the little boys' intention, she called them to her and gave each a little earthen jug and also a bow and arrow. She then instructed the boys as to what they should do after taking her life: She told them to drag her body over the fields and bury it there. Then they were to take the bow and arrow and earthen jug and shoot insects all night. They were told if they went to sleep during the night the corn would not come up until one week after planting.

The boys shot the insects and watched the corn grow to maturity. They remembered the corn was tasseling, when the younger boy said he was sleepy and believed he he would lie down awhile; but alas, the little lad fell asleep and his brother did likewise.

When they awoke they could see no corn. The corn did not again appear until seven days. Then the little green shoots came up. The boys had to keep the fields free of weeds as a punishment for falling asleep at their posts of duty. The Indians believe that no effort would have been needed on their part to get this grain had the boys fulfilled their duty and not slept.

A COPY of the commencement issue of The Red Man will be mailed to any ex-student or friend of our institution upon request. It contains a full account of all exercises.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Andrew Jackson left for the country last week. All the Juniors wish him success.

Many postals have been received from James Lydick, who left for his home last week.

Emma Newashe, who went home this week, is visiting friends in Shawnee, Oklahoma.

Jesse Youngdeer, an ex-student of Carlisle, is playing baseball with the "Nebraska Indians" this summer.

Charles Fish writes to his friends that the world is treating him very well and that he is doing his best to merit the treatment.

Instead of holding their usual meeting last Friday evening the Susans attended the Mercer Society where they listened to an excellent program.

The Sophomores are glad to have Stella Bradley back in the class. She has been confined to the hospital with an attack of grip for several days.

Joseph Loudbear, who is working at his trade in Mt. Holly, came in last Saturday for a short visit. He assumes the air of a boy well contented with his lot.

The boys who represent Carlisle in tomorrow's meet against Harrisburg High, and Conway Hall, have been training faithfully and they expect to come out winners.

Miss Winifred Woods, who is a teacher at Irving College, gave a very interesting description of Westminster Abby to the girls of the Y. W. C. A. last Sunday.

Mr. O'Neil, our lacrosse coach, will leave Wednesday for Boston, where he will visit relatives and friends, thence go to Montreal, Canada, where he will manage the Cornwall Club.

Grace Burnette came in from the country Friday to return to her home in South Dakota. We are sorry to see her leave, but we hope she may have a pleasant summer.

The Seniors and Juniors of the morning division went for a walk to the farm last Friday. There was plenty of buttermilk and it served as an excellent beverage.

Miss White's father and sister stopped for a short visit on their way to Washington, D. C. They gave a very good report of Margaret Burgess, who is living with them.

Rose Beck left Carlisle last Monday afternoon for her home in Clayton, George. We hope she will have a pleasant vacation and return in the fall to finish her academic course.

Lawrence Poodry left for his home in New York last Monday. He was the smallest member of the band, and was very popular among the students. We are sorry to have him leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Frailey of Washington, D. C., visited the school last week for a day or two. Mr. Frailey is a prominent member of the G. P. O. staff and is taking his annual leave.

On May 12th, James and Ruth Lydick left Carlisle for their home in Cass Lake, Minnesota. They were accompanied by their father. They expect to return and resume their studies in the fall.

Mr. Denny, encouraged by Mr. Foulke and Mr. Kensler, and assisted by a squad of his boys, cut down five trees in front of Boys' Quarters. It is a decidedly good thing for the building and the lawn.

Iva Miller, a member of the Junior class, left to-day for Moorestown, N. J., where she will spend the summer. Her friends and classmates were sorry to see her go, but they wish her a pleasant summer.

The lecture given by Bishop Bell of Los Angeles, California, at Grace U. B. Church, Carlisle, was very good. His subject was, "Is the World Growing Better?" A number of the employees were present.

Last Sunday the club girls had the pleasure of attending services at Grace Church to hear the Reverend

E. H. Mower. They enjoyed the sermon and the singing, and the cordial manner in which they were welcomed.

Last Monday afternoon the Seniors were represented in the auditorium by Louis Dupuis. The subject of his declamation was "No Excellence Without Labor." This was Louis' first appearance and the Seniors are proud of him.

David Robinson came in last Saturday to witness the track and field sports. He is living in a nearby town working in a blacksmith shop. He likes his place and work, and states that he has gained considerable knowledge concerning his trade.

Rose McArthur enjoys working all day. She is employed half the day at the Teachers' Club and the other half in the sewing room. This gives her a chance to sew for herself which she appreciates greatly, as she is going to her home in Oregon in the early part of June.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Miller chaperoned a party of young people out to Mt. Holly Park last Saturday afternoon. They went on the one o'clock car and reached there at 2:30. As soon as the lunch baskets were put away they all started up the mountain. Some lost the path and went up the stony side, while others were more fortunate in keeping in the right trail. They finally reached the top where they had a fine view of the beautiful valley below. The party reached the school at six o'clock tired, but happy.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tyndall with their three little ones have been visiting their boy Albert, and sister, Nora Esau. Both are old Carlisle students, and they said their visit carried them back in mind to their school days. In No. 3 school room, each gave a good and instructive talk to the pupils. Mr. Tyndall told of his earlier school days in Philadelphia, and how at one time he had worked in John Wanamaker's big store, making paper boxes, and learning to speak English. He urged thoroughness on industrial lines. Mrs. Esau's talk was excellent—she said many things were hard in school life, but all should try hard so there might be no regrets over wasted time by and bye. —Indian News, Indian School, Genoa, Nebraska.

ABOUT CARLISLE ATHLETICS.

Swarthmore, with a rather crippled team, proved an easy victim for the Indians last Saturday in the dual track and field meet held on the Indian field. The score was, Carlisle 78½, Swarthmore 25½.

Swarthmore scored first place in only three of the thirteen events. Only one Carlisle record was broken. The new record was established in the pole vault when Reuben Charles won second place with a vault of 11 ft. ½ inch.

Moore equaled Mt. Pleasant's record of 50 sec. in the 440 yards dash and easily defeated Swarthmore's crack middle distance runner, captain Bradford, who was not in good condition. Neither of these men competed in the half mile.

The new men who showed up well for Carlisle were Burd in the 220 dash, and Morris in the low hurdle race. Both of these men are likely to win points at the Intercollegiate meet if they continue to improve as fast as they have the past week.

Schenadore won both the hurdle races in fast time, and Wheelock was a close second over the high timbers.

Thomas, as usual, scored the greatest number of points, winning the shot put, high and broad jump, and second to Burd in the hammer throw.

Following we give the summary of events:

100-Yard Dash—First, Dupuis, Carlisle; second, Halsey, Swarthmore. Time 10 1-5.

120 Yard hurdle—First, Schenadore, Carlisle; second, Wheelock, Carlisle. Time 15 4-5.

One mile run—First, Lewis, Swarthmore; second, Blackstar, Carlisle. Time 4 min. 39 seconds.

440-Yard Dash—First, Moore, Carlisle; second, Bradford, Swarthmore. Time 50 seconds.

Two mile run—First, Tewanima, Carlisle; second, Blackstar, Carlisle. Time 10 min. 6 4-5 seconds.

Half mile run—First, Lewis, Swarthmore; second, Twohearts, Carlisle. Time, 2 minutes 7 2-5 seconds.

220-Yard Hurdles—First, Schenadore, Carlisle; second, Shock, Swarthmore; Morris, Carlisle. Time 26 4-5 seconds.

220-Yard Dash—First, Burd, Carlisle; second, Dupuis, Carlisle. Time, 23 1-5 seconds.

Shot Put—First, Thomas, Carlisle; second, Powell, Carlisle. Distance, 39 feet 9 inches.

Pole vault—First, Phipps, Swarthmore; second, Sundown, Carlisle. Height, 11 feet 3½ in.

High Jump—First, Wheelock, & Thomas, Carlisle, tied. Height, 5 feet.

Hammer Throw— First, Burd, Carlisle; second, Thomas, Carlisle. Distance, 119 feet 2 in.

Broad Jump—First, Thomas, Carlisle; second, Staub, Swarthmore. Distance, 20 feet 11 inches.

The lacrosse team closed the season by defeating the strong Navy team at Annapolis last Saturday by a score of 3 to 2. It was a hard fought contest and the victory was a great credit to the team and to Coach O'Neil.

Carlisle is to be congratulated on turning out such a fine team in the first year the sport has been tried here, and that the team has been able to do so well has been the surprise of lacrosse experts all over the country. The credit is due to the spirit and hard practice of the players, the able leadership of Captain Garlow, and especially to the able coaching of Mr. O'Neil.

Next year a better schedule will be arranged and the Indians should have the best team in the country.

The braves from the Carlisle Indian School showed that they know something of their forefathers, when they defeated the young palefaces of the Naval Service by 3 to 2 today in the most exciting lacrosse game ever seen here. All the scoring was done in the first half, and the second period was so desperately contested that neither side was able to net the ball once. In the second half particularly the playing was so fast and determined that neither team had time for such side issues as little individual scraps. The Indians' running and catching were remarkable. They played the ball on the ground largely and this proved confusing to the mid-dies, who do most of their work above the heads of their opponents. On the whole, it was a splendid contest, with two types of players and playing opposed.—Annapolis Papers.

The track team meets Lafayette at Easton tomorrow and are up against a strong team on a strange track. While nothing less than a victory will satisfy Carlisle, the team realizes that they will have no easy task to land the banner in the contest.

MR. NONAST, instructor in the tailoring department, made a short trip to Philadelphia last Thursday to visit with relatives who expect to leave shortly for a visit to the "Fatherland" where they will meet relatives and friends of Mr. Nonast. On his return Mr. Nonast gave an interesting account of his trip to his boys.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Miss Hetrick is taking her annual vacation.

Mrs. Canfield has gone to New York for a week.

With the flowers out in the beds, our campus looks like a well kept park.

Mr. Weber recently made a trip to New York in the interest of his department.

Mr. and Mrs. Stauffer entertained over Sunday the Misses Heagy from Harrisburg.

Gus Welch was one of the most enthusiastic rooters at the dual meet last Saturday afternoon.

Supt. Friedman left last Monday morning for Washington D. C., to attend to some business for the school.

Mrs. Fred Stocker, of Chicago, who is visiting her son, Harry Woodbury, expects to remain here about a week.

Last Sunday evening the Catholic pupils held a song service in the music room. A couple of instrumental solos were also given.

George Thomas is now working all day at his trade of masonry. He is helping to lay the foundation of the new barn at the first farm.

Mr. Lau, and his boys, have built a new office for Mr. Kensler and also a new storeroom for papers in the back part of the storehouse.

The new barn at the farm is being rapidly constructed. The brick layers have begun the brick work and it will be only a short time until it is completed.

Levi Hillman, '10, left last Monday for Wilksbarre, Pa., where he will work at his trade. His friends and former classmates wish him every success.

The service last Sunday afternoon was instructive and beneficial to all present. The subject was, "Opportunities." Rev. A. W. Haggerty delivered the address.

Marie Artshaw represented the Senior class last Monday morning with a recitation entitled, "Better Than Gold." We all enjoyed her manner of speaking.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Eli Beardsley, an ex-student of this institution, was one of the graduates of Hampton Institute recently.

Vernon Davis expects to spend the summer in the country. He will leave as soon as his vacation begins.

Rosabelle Pickard, now living with a family in Lansdowne, Pa., writes that she likes her home and patrons very much.

Through a letter we learn that William Yankee Joe is getting along nicely with his work at the Hayward Indian School.

Clara Bonser, one of the new nurses at the hospital, is showing considerable ability in her management of the invalids.

Katie Wesh, an ex-student, writes that she is enjoying home life in Wisconsin, but that she often thinks of "Old Carlisle."

Rose Bald Eagle is an expert dressmaker. She expects to follow that trade for a means of livelihood when she leaves school.

In a letter to a friend we learn that Helen E. Pickard is getting on splendidly with her studies in the High School at Moorestown, N. J.

Philomena Badger, a former student who is now Mrs. Huber, states in a letter to a friend that she is the proud mother of a dear baby boy.

In a letter to one of her friends Mrs. William White, formerly Josephine Smith, states that she is now the proud mother of a baby girl.

Little Germaine Renville, who was a great favorite among the teachers and students of Carlisle, wishes to be remembered to all her friends.

Alvin Kennedy and Francis Coleman, both members of the senior class, are working in town as telegraph operators. We wish them success.

The boys' literary societies have adjourned their meetings until fall, owing to the large number of absent members, who have gone for the summer.

Stacey Beck, who went to Otoe, Oklahoma, writes that she is small boys' matron. She also states that the weather is fine, and her work is very pleasant.

Edward Blackwood, who went out with the first party, likes his country home. He sends best regards to his classmates.

Elizabeth LaVatta, who is now living in Waynesboro, Pa., writes that she has a very nice country home, and that she enjoys her work very much.

Vernon Davis, who is attending school in town, expects to spend his vacation out in the country. He is a bright scholar and will be a successful farmer.

The masons are making fast time with the new dairy at the first farm. It will take nearly all the stone fence at the first farm to level up the floor and cow yard.

Word has been received from Delancy Davis, who is staying at Center Bridge, Pa., stating that he likes his place very much and sends his best regards to all of his friends.

Edison Mt. Pleasant, a member of class '11, is working at his trade of carpentry at Altoona, Pa. He writes that he is getting along nicely, tho he misses the beauties of Carlisle.

Mary Gray has sent many beautiful postals to her friends stating that she likes her new home very much. This is the first time Mary has ever been out under the Outing System.

Fred Pappan is becoming prominent in the athletic world at Carlisle; he has lately shown himself to be an unusually swift runner by breaking the school record for one mile by three seconds.

Several rooms in girls' quarters are being calcimined and it keeps the girls busy moving their things around, but the looks of the rooms after they are done will repay them for their trouble.

Many beautiful postal cards have been received from Dolly Stone, who went out with the second party. She is living in Olney, Pa., where she has a very nice home and is getting along finely.

Halley's Comet is visible in the early morning before sunrise. An opportunity is before you to see one of the wonders of the heavens. Now is the time to see it because it doesn't come into view again for seventy eight years.

Word was received from Elizabeth Penny, a member of class '08, saying that she is well and happy. She wishes to be remembered to her many friends at Carlisle.

News was received from Frank Dibo stating that he is enjoying country life and its beautiful surroundings. He has a nice home and is treated as one of the family, which proves that he is contented. He also stated that the spring seeding is nearly finished.

An interesting letter has been received from Jesse Kenjockety, Tunnassa, N. Y., where he is working and expects to spend the summer. During his stay there he has become a member of the local Y. M. C. A. and writes, "I was elected a clerk. I am going to do all I can to have the young people join us. There is lots of work here to be done in that line." It is evident that his strong purpose is to be an influence for good wherever he is placed.

We have just received a renewal of the subscription for the Red Man from Margaret Martin, who, after three years of successful work at Greenville, has accepted a position at Sherman Institute, Riverside, California, with a promotion. Since arriving at her new home she has met a number of former students, among whom she mentions Mr. and Mrs. Shoulder, Mrs. S. Lubo, and Jefferson Maguil, all speaking highly of "Old Carlisle", and the pleasant days spent here.

Charles Huber, '09, writes Mr. Whitwell as follows: "I am now in the Civil Service as an assistant clerk, and I feel that it is an honor for the Carlisle Indian School in general as well as for yourself and the instructors whom I was under at the school, and I wish to thank you all for the knowledge I acquired under your care and jurisdiction. I took the examination in February last, and attained an eligible rating. When the abolishment of the position of financial clerk, which I have held since leaving Carlisle last summer, and the creation of an assistant clerk's position at this agency (Elbowoods, N. D.) was recommended by Superintendent Hoffman, I applied for the place. The recommendation was recently authorized by the office, and I fortunately received my appointment."
