

The Carlisle Arrow

A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER EDITED AND PRINTED BY THE STUDENTS OF THE UNITED STATES INDIAN SCHOOL

VOLUME VII.

CARLISLE, PA., OCTOBER 28, 1910.

NUMBER 8

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Mrs. Canfield has promoted Mary Sewatis to the shirt-making class.

After a few months at home James O'Brien has returned and joined his classmates in the freshman class.

Mary Harris announces in a letter to a friend that she intends to return to Carlisle very soon.

The dressmakers are kept busy making clothes for the new girls who are coming in every week.

Longfeather, an ex-student of Carlisle, is a senior at Syracuse University. He is studying law and forestry.

Lafe Allison, an ex-student of Carlisle, and a member of the freshman class, is making good out in Oklahoma.

The printers are working on a 100-page catalogue for the school. It is expected that we will be sometime getting it out.

In a letter, Olive Wheelock states that she is enjoying life in Wisconsin. She wishes to be remembered to all her friends here.

Jennie Ross writes from Hatboro, Pa., that she is about to enter school and that she is anxious to begin study.

Thomas Lazore writes from his country home in New Hope that he is very much pleased with his surroundings.

Daisy Chase writes from her home in Kennett Square, Pa., that she is well and happy and attending a public school.

Fanny Charley, who came East on account of ill-health, is now visiting friends in Mt. Airy, Pa. Her friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Elizabeth Paisano was recently married to Mr. Howard Arcallo. Mrs. Arcallo is an ex-student of Carlisle. Friends here wish them a long and happy married life.

Jonas Homer is working at his trade of carpentering in Syracuse, N. Y., and is doing good work. He wishes to be remembered to his friends.

Melissa Cornelius, who has been in the country for some time, came in for a week's visit last Monday. Her friends are glad to have her with them again.

Myrtle Sutton, who is living with Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd in Mt. Holly, New Jersey, is happy and getting along nicely. She sends best wishes to Carlisle.

Nelson Simons writes from New Milford, Pa., that he has a fine country home and congenial work. He sends best wishes to his classmates.

George Beane, an ex-student of Carlisle, whose home is in Alaska, is visiting his former schoolmates, Elizabeth and Ben Penny, who live in Kooskia, Idaho.

Choir members are glad to welcome into their circle, Miss Esther Brown, who will be a great help to the sopranos and to Mr. Stauffer, whose assistant she will be.

The men working on the new heating system have begun filling in the new excavations made for the tunnels and our campus is gradually assuming former conditions.

A letter has been received from Anna Miles stating that she is nicely settled and that she has begun her art work. She has met many young ladies who are her classmates.

Susie Porter, one of the most resourceful designers in the art department, has finished some original wallpaper border designs which are on exhibition in the art room.

Frank Mt. Pleasant, one of our old stars of the track and football field, was over to see the Indians play Gettysburg. He is now coaching the F. & M. College team, of Lancaster.

Jonas Jackson, class '05, writes from Seattle, Washington, that he is working in a printing office. He adds that he is well and wishes to be remembered to his friends.

Walter Saracino writes that he is getting along well with his trade of carpentering, in Williamstown, Pa. He expects to stay out for the winter and work all day at his trade.

Those who are interested in hand manufactured rugs will find one to admire in the art room; it is blue and white and was made by Helen Johnson, a new pupil in that department.

The Susans are looking forward to a lively season and they hope to raise their literary standard. They welcome all new members with the hope that each will do her part to uphold the dignity and the prestige of the society.

Clarence Faulkner, who since graduating from Carlisle has been in New York City working in a machine shop, returned to his home in Idaho last summer and is now living on a farm which he expects to cultivate.

Fred Schenandore has been elected captain of the Band football team for the season of 1910. He is a strong man and he will make a good leader. He has good material with which to work and the team should strive to be worthy of its captain.

A small party of friends were very pleasantly entertained by Miss Kaup Tuesday evening of last week. Miss Hetrick, who left Saturday for Porto Rico, was the guest of honor. Conversation, music and refreshments were the order of the evening.

A word of praise is due the Indian School Cadets who marched so well in the parade on Tuesday. They did themselves credit and were the subject of much favorable comment. As marchers they surpassed their paleface brethren. — Carlisle Evening Sentinel.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Anna Hauser left last week for the country, where she will spend the winter.

Next Monday is Hallowe'en boys. Have all the fun you want, but don't do any damage.

The recitation, "Winning," was given by Daphne Waggoner in a manner quite in accord with the subject.

Some of the boys who are not going to the Penn game to-morrow are planning to go chestnutting on the mountains.

Fred Carden, a junior, is fond of the violin and plays it very well. His classmates are enthusiastic over his music.

Corn husking is now at hand and about forty boys were detailed to the second farm Monday and Tuesday to do the husking.

Harry West has accepted a position with the Foery Drug Company of Harrisburg. He began work the first of the week.

Melissa Corneluis, who has been working for some time at Ridley Park, Pa., has returned to the school for a short visit.

Lyford John, who has been working as a painter in Altoona, has returned to school to resume his studies and to complete his trade.

Mr. Howard Quay, of Phoenixville, Pa., is stopping for awhile at the school. He is visiting Mr. King of the Quatermaster's department.

Our campus is being cleared of the ever-falling leaves; they lay in heaps here and there making us think of a hay field during harvest.

Jefferson Smith, who did such good work in room 10 last year, is again substituting during the temporary absence of the regular teacher.

A party of fifty girls from Irving College visited the school Monday and they seemed greatly interested in the work which is being carried on here.

Rose Hood, who has been spending her vacation at home in Fort Klamath, Oregon, writes that she expects to return to Carlisle sometime in November.

Miss McDowell chaperoned a large party of girls to the cave last Tuesday afternoon which was a half-holiday on account of the parade down town.

Shela Guthrie, a member of the senior class, has gone to Philadelphia where she will receive eye treatment under the direction of the famous Dr. Fox.

The Catholic orchestra played at meeting last Sunday evening for the first time this year. Although they had not practiced long, they did exceedingly well.

Florence Pennel, one of the nurses at the hospital, will leave some time next week for Medico-Chi hospital in Philadelphia where she will take nurse's training.

Mazie Skye, who has been taking the normal training for a couple of months, is now working in Mrs. Denny's office. Agnes Waite has taken her place in the normal room.

A number of boys and girls attended the church services at the Methodist church in town last Sunday. Some who had been on the probationary list were received into full church membership.

The "Strollers" made themselves so popular that we hope they will come again next year. "Bonnie Doon," the sweet Scottish ballad, was delightfully sung by the tenor of the quartette.

In a letter to Miss Beach we learn that Miss Ella Petoskey, a Carlisle graduate and formerly teacher here is now in charge of the adult primary work in the Stewart School, near Carson City, Nevada.

"Great is God in Zion" was the subject of the sermon delivered by the Rev. G. M. Diffenderfer in the auditorium last Sunday afternoon. It was full of beautiful thought and at no time did interest flag, so simply was it explained.

Abraham Colonahaski represented the Sophomore Class in the chapel exercises Monday afternoon. The title of his recitation was, "Life is What We Make It," and the manner in which he gave it reflected credit upon himself and his class as well.

The Ladies' Sewing Circle held its initial meeting of the year on Thursday of last week in the rooms of Mrs. Canfield. Many stockings were darned to the accompaniment of "The Rosary", read by Misses Sweeney, Johnston and Lecrone. The members are all anxiously awaiting the next meeting so that they can hear what Jane did next.

Girls Attend Missionary Meeting.

Twenty-five of the girls enjoyed the privilege of attending the Women's Missionary meeting Saturday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church of Carlisle. The meeting was opened by marching in of the children, each carrying a banner with some missionary's name upon it. A banner upon which appeared the name of Nancy Hunter, who did so much for the Indians, was given to the Indian girls to hold during the meeting. Mrs. Johnson of China, gave an address, and Nora McFarland illustrated in the sign language of her tribe, "Nearer my God to Thee." After the singing of a hymn and a short talk by Miss Winifred Woods, the meeting was closed.

Standards Elect New Officers.

Last Friday evening the Standards elected their officers as follows: President, Gustavus Welch; Vice-president, Alvin Kennerly; recording secretary, Francis Coleman; corresponding secretary, Montreville Yuda; treasurer, Jefferson Smith; critic, Charles McDonald; music manager, James R. Sampson; Sergeant-at-arms, Moses Stranger Horse. After the election of officers the following program was rendered: Music, the Standard Band; declamation, James Lyons; essay, Fred Sickles; select reading, Wm. Ettawageshik; duet, instrumental, James R. Sampson and Alay Cheauma. There was a large attendance and several visitors, chief among whom were Mr. Whitwell, the advisory member, and Mr. Elliott of New York City.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Marie Dixon, a member of the Senior Class who has been on the sick list for a week, is rapidly recovering.

Miss Lida M. Johnston left last week for her home in Lockport, New York, to stay for awhile with her mother who is ill.

Miss Pierson, field matron of the school at Winnebago, Nebraska, visited the school last week. She brought with her seven boys.

Bessie Button, who has been out in the country for some time, came in the other day for a short visit before leaving for her home in New York.

Mrs. Locklear, a Cherokee from North Carolina, has been staying at Carlisle for two or three days. She came to visit her children who are students here.

Mr. Elliott spoke to the Sunday school in the auditorium; he told of his travels through China and also of some of his experiences in other parts of the Orient.

Sylvester Long, a member of the Eastern Cherokee tribe, is making very good progress in music and in his academic work also. Sylvester is interested in everything he does and he knows how to apply himself.

We have heard from Samuel J. McLean, a Sioux, who graduated from Carlisle in 1909. He is now taking a commercial course at Fremont College, Nebraska, and writes that he is in the best of health and getting along well in every way. He has been elected president of one of the debating clubs of the college.

The Susans held their usual meeting on Friday evening. The following program was rendered: Song, Susans; recitation, Rose Baldeagle; select reading, Dollie Stone; anecdotes, Katie Wolf; vocal solo, Myrtle Thomas. Debate: "Resolved, That the degraded conditions in the United States are due to foreign immigration." The affirmative speakers were Eliza Keshena and Ella Johnson; the negatives, Ruth Lydick and Louisa Ketchicum. The judges decided in favor of the affirmative. After the transaction of important business the house adjourned.

The latest news received by Mr. Nori from Mrs. Nori and the children is from Oraville, Washington, where Mrs. Nori has gone to attend to her land allotments. They are all enjoying good health. Mrs. Nori writes that she has met several ex-students of Carlisle in Oraville, all of whom hold good positions and are doing well.

The Invincibles elected and installed the following officers last Friday evening: President Edison Mt. Pleasant; Vice-President, Sylvester Long; recording secretary, William Bishop; corresponding secretary, Frank Lone Star; treasurer, Alfred Degrasse; reporter, William Owl; sergeant-at-arms, Robert Tahamont; assistant sergeant-at-arms, Jack Jackson.

We were fortunate in having with us Saturday night a fine quartette of entertainers, known as the Strollers. These young men are all of pleasing personality and very versatile, and every number of their varied program was received with rounds of applause and great appreciation by the audience. We hope they will visit us again.

Splendid Talk by Mr. Elliott.

Mr. H. S. Elliott, Secy. for Bible Study of the International Committee of Y. M. C. A., New York City, Student Department, who has been visiting us for two or three days, delivered a very interesting and earnest address before the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. at their Union meeting Sunday evening. He gave us all some very good advice about using our talents for the good of others and not letting them go to waste.

Mercers Have Good Meeting.

At their last meeting the Mercers gave a program as follows: Song, Mercers; story, Elizabeth George; impromptu, Thirza Bernel; anecdotes, Cora Battice; recitation, Anna Dibo; vocal solo, Gladys McLean. Debate: "Resolved, That women should have the right of suffrage." The affirmative speakers were Charlotte Welch and Christina Gabriel; the negatives, Lida Wheelock and Clara Hall. The victory was given to the affirmative. Messrs. Ramsey and Elliott were called upon for remarks, after which the house adjourned.

ABOUT CARLISLE ATHLETICS.

On a wet field, in a drizzling rain, Carlisle was defeated by Princeton last Saturday upon the latter's home grounds by the score of 6-0. The Indians' light weight and style of play have always handicapped them on slippery fields, and the score was very creditable under the conditions.

All the boys played hard and their fumbling was the only great weakness. This was somewhat excusable owing to the slippery ball. The team was not in the best of shape either, as Captain Hauser was not able to run with the ball, and Kennerly was slowed up greatly by his sprained ankle.

On the whole, the boys deserve great credit for the stubborn fight they put up against the unbeaten Tigers.

The boys were finely treated by the university students and players, and the whole team unites in the opinion that Princeton has one of the best and cleanest teams the Indians have ever met.

The great game of the season will be played with Penn to-morrow at Phila. The boys are in fine shape, and able to put up the fight of their lives, and if Carlisle don't beat old Pennsy and wipe out the defeat of last year, it will be because Penn is a better team and not because the Indians did not play up to their limit. Although our team lacks the experience of players on the Penn team, yet such great improvement has been made during the past week that the players feel able to win, and Carlisle's supporters will be satisfied with nothing short of victory.

Cross Country run next Monday at 4.00 P. M. All boys going in this handicap race should deposit names in the mail box at large boys' quarters before Monday morning so that handicaps can be made out. First prize, gold watch, and there are nine other prizes.

The Second team plays Lebanon Valley College's first team at Annville tomorrow, and the Third team goes to Mercersburg to play the Mercersburg Thirds.

The second team lost a hard fought game to Bloomsburg Normal School last Saturday; score, 5-3.

THE SCHOOL AT CARLISLE.

MINNEAPOLIS (MINN.) JOURNAL.

You cannot imagine how pleased I was to hear that we were to be taken out to the Indian school! We had been east, visiting almost three months, and I had not had a chance to see it yet. Of course, you have all heard something about the United States Indian School located at Carlisle, Penn., in beautiful Cumberland county. I desired to see it very much, for that is what has made Carlisle famous.

Before I describe our visit to the school, I want to speak of the school itself in a general way. The buildings we found were very simple architecturally, but the equipment was in every way strictly modern. I think they said the whole school consisted of forty-nine buildings. Just think of it! But all my amazement dissolved when I learned that they have to accommodate one thousand students. The school has a faculty of seventy-five. It was founded in 1879 and has been doing successful work ever since. But it was not until 1883 that congress first officially provided for it. One of the buildings has quite a history. It is the guardhouse which was built by Hessian prisoners during the Revolutionary war.

The purpose of the school is to train Indians so that they will be able to earn a living among the white people. Many of the students take advantage of the "Outing" system which permits them to reside with white families, which enables them to practise their trade, and get more civilization.

We went out to the school about ten in the morning, and by the time we reached the dining room the girls were just cooking dinner. I assure you it smelled good.

We had to register our names in the visitors' book which was about a foot thick, so you may be sure there are plenty of visitors to the school. Then, having secured a guide in the person of a young Indian, we started on a tour of the buildings. The campus was a beautiful green, and with the two school farms, comprises 311 acres. Our guide took us first to the building where the students study. But the whole aspect was too unschoollike, to use my own expression, and the teachers so kindly that I am sure I should not mind being an Indian at all providing I might go to such a school. The pupils were all busy at work, and we soon got through that building. However, we still had forty-eight others to go through, so we walked across the campus to the next building. They have cement walks leading from one building to another and everything is very clean. The next building was the laundry, and here we had fine examples of what science has done during the last generation. Everything from washing to ironing was done in a mechanical way. I was struck by the difference in the features of the students and was greatly surprised when I learned that eighty-seven different tribes were represented in the school. From the laundry we entered a regular factory where we found the Indian boys making shoes, harness, wagons, machinery and clothes of the national blue, and I don't know what else. We found this building exceedingly interesting. All of the instruction received in the school is of a practical nature, and a student may learn any trade he desires. Everything from book-keeping to blacksmithing is taught, and the girls, as well as the boys, are put through a complete academic course such as would be received in any Normal school.

We girls trailed along behind the guide, who was so very bashful that he would not say a word unless spoken to. Whenever we wished to ask a question we asked my uncle, and he passed it on to the guide, who generally found courage to answer him.

Next, our guide took us out to the field where the Indians play baseball and then we went through the chapel and about noon came to the dining room. You certainly would have been amazed could you have seen the size of the coffee pot they were making coffee in! And the other utensils were correspondingly large. We also saw the large, sanitary hospital but did not go through it. In fact, it would require a whole book to describe all we saw until we finally reached the end, which was the Carlisle Indian Printing Press, and Art Department. The Indians of Carlisle are justly proud of their press, and art department. Although one would hardly think it, the Indian has a natural talent for art and handicraft. They make beautiful Pueblo pottery, baskets, Navajo art squares, bead work, and various other things. The press is handled entirely by students who issue every week a small paper called THE CARLISLE ARROW, and every month a magazine, "The Indian Craftsman." This last is devoted chiefly to art, and is a magazine "not only about Indians, but mainly by Indians," as they say there.

While in the building we were given several small cards on which quotations were printed with beautiful borders, designed and drawn by the art department. Some quotations were very amusing, while some were of much value, such as this one, "Be polite to those who are not so to you, for remember, my son, you are courteous to others, not because they are gentlemen, but because you are one."

When we found ourselves once more on the green campus three hours after our start, we had been through nearly all of the buildings and we had seen many interesting things. Although we had received the impression that Indians were blood-thirsty savages from reading books written by people who were not fortunate enough to see the school at Carlisle, we have entirely reversed our ideas and now they are fully as modern as the Indian school. We often think with much pleasure of those few short hours spent in viewing the school, and whenever we go back to Pennsylvania the very first thing I want to see will be the Indian school at Carlisle.

LENORE HETRICK.

Indian Girls as Typesetters.

Ten days ago two fullblood Nez Perce Indian girls, Amelia Johns, age 17 years, step-daughter of Jessie James, and Martha Nesbit, aged 15, daughter of John Nesbit, all of Stites, commenced an apprenticeship with the Stites Sentinel, under the direction of F. M. Roberts and for this week's issue of the paper they set up over three galleys of type and Mr. Roberts says their work is very correct. They have signified their intention of learning the printing trade and were turned over to Editor Roberts by their guardians for that purpose and are proving to be very apt scholars, doing their work more correctly than many of the white beginners. They were educated in the Lapwai school.—Lewiston (Idaho) Daily Tribune.
