A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER EDITED AND PRINTED BY THE STUDENTS OF THE UNITED STATES INDIAN SCHOOL

VOLUME VII.

CARLISLE, PA., NOVEMBER 25, 1910.

NUMBER 12

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

The Flandreau school has an organized orchestra consisting of seven pieces.

Edmund Venne, through a letter to his sister Ernestine, sends regards to his friends at Carlisle.

Pipe laying from building to building is almost completed and steam is on most the buildings.

Clifford Taylor has been elected Captain of the junior basket-ball team for this coming season.

From what he writes, Leon Jure seems to be having a fine time in California though he never forgets Carlisle.

Myrtle Sutton writes from Mt. Holly, New Jersey, that she is well and wishes to be remembered to her friends.

Spencer Patterson, who is working in town as an electrician, has lately rewired one of the churches and we are told that he did good work.

"Jack Frost" is slowly but surely taking the beautiful foliage off the trees on the campus thereby warning us that winter is well nigh here again.

Many beautiful post-cards have been received from Rose Whipper, who went to the country last week. She is well pleased with her country home.

Emma Newashe, who left for Moorestown, New Jersey, has entered the first year high school there. She states that she is getting along nicely in her studies.

The good material in the Junior class should enable them to be represented by a strong team in the basket-ball series of games for the championship honors.

A delightful letter has been received from Julia Jackson, who is living at home with her mother, who is quite an invalid. She spoke lovingly of Carlisle, and regrets that circumstances are such that she can not return to finish with the present Senior Class.

The mottoes and wall cards published by The Carlisle Indian Press always draw the attention of visitors. Many are sold at this time of year to be given as Christmas gifts.

Many of the girls have bought dolls from Miss Edith Rinker during the past week. They are to be dressed and sent, in time for Christmas, to the Leupp Day School in Arizona.

Simon Johnson, who is a farmer in Bucks County, writes that he is getting along well. He is one of the Carlisle ex-students who is making good side by side with his white brothers.

The joint reception of the Susans and the Invincible societies has been postponed to the second of December, so that members of the Invincibles who are in the football team may be present.

John Frost — not Jack — ex-student, is doing well at his home in Grey Cliff, Montana. He is a great hunter, and game just now is plentiful, so that fawn-chops and venison steak are often served.

In a letter from Michigan, Fred Cornelius says: "We are now having cold weather; it reminds me that this is the hunting season and I expect to kill a few wild animals before the season is over."

Anna King, who went to the hospital in Philadelphia to have her eyes treated, will return to school this week. Her friends have missed her very much, and are rejoicing that she will soon be with them again.

Subscribers to THE ARROW who send in a change of address should always remember to add to this request their former address. Oftentimes we receive letters without signatures and it is hard for us to comply with such requests.

Pleasant news has been received from Esther Reed, now Mrs. Joseph A. Dick, stating that her four months old baby is very well and a great joy to her. She named it Ernestine Venne Dick, the first name after Ernestine Venne, who feels very proud of the honor.

Splendid reports come to us of Frank Marques, a pupil of this school who is out under the outing working as a machinist in the shops of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company, in Albany, New York. He does piece work, the first month averaging $40 and in October averaging $70.

Joseph Twohearts, who left last June for his home in North Dakota, is now baker at the government school at Fort Simco, Wash. He finds the work very pleasant, but often thinks of his Carlisle friends, and wishes to be remembered to them, especially to his classmates in room Nine, and his instructor in baking, Mr. Smith.

"Sleep alone, use clean washwater, use your own soap, towel and handkerchief, rub your eyes with your knuckles or wrist instead of with the finger tips, if you must," was the advice given by Dr. White in his talk to us on diseases of the eyes, in the auditorium at opening exercises both morning and afternoon.

An Instructive Trip.

The boys who went to Annapolis had a chance to see the cadets give a military and naval drill. Some of the boys were invited to visit the fleet which was composed of nine small boats. The naval drill was especially interesting, for the commands were given by means of flags on the Admiral's ship. A number of the boys visited the submarine boats and they had the pleasure of meeting some of the sailors. They were shown the torpedoes and their wonderful mechanism.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Yum, yum, the dinner was great!

The Varsity football team won from Johns Hopkins last Saturday in a good game by the score 12-0.

Sunday being a beautiful day many of the girls attended the morning services at various churches in town.

Addison Johnson and John White, employed respectively in Harrisburg and Mt. Holly as printers, were visitors at the school last Saturday evening.

Miss Eva Peters, a student at Dickinson College, attended our school reception Saturday evening. She expressed herself as having had a delightful time.

Mr. McClure's talk was very much enjoyed by the Seniors for he brought out illustrations of politeness which came in nicely with their lessons on "A Fortune in Good Manners."

We wish to correct a mistake made in reference to Bishop Darlington of the Episcopal Church. In last weeks issue of the ARROW it read: "Bishop Darlington of the Methodist Church."

Miss Zeamer, Miss James and Mrs. Ritchie with their "helpers" are exceedingly busy preparing the Thanksgiving feast to which we are all looking forward with great anticipation. We know of all the pleasure in store.

The game last Saturday afternoon between the "Painters" and the "Specials" was fiercely contested. The result was uncertain until the referee's whistle blew at the end of the game. The final score was 12 to 8 in favor of the "Painters".

The Y. M. C. A. meeting was very interesting last Sunday evening. Mazie Skye presided and Miss Mary Cowdry was the speaker. She told about Mr. Higgins, who is a missionary among the lumber men of the northern United States. Texie Tubbs sang "What Will the Harvest Be?" and the members joined in on the chorus.

There was a large attendance at the Catholic meeting last Sunday evening. The program was an exceptionally good one. Thomas Myiow gave a fine reading entitled "Forty Years Ago;" Robert Bruce played a cornet solo entitled "The Bugle call;" Alberta Bartholomeau accompanied him on the piano. There were several visitors. The meeting closed with a talk by Father Stock.

The meeting of the Susans was held at the usual time and place. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. After the confirmation of new members the following program was rendered: Select reading, Iva Miller; piano solo, Cora Bresette; impromptu, Clara Trepania; the debate: Resolved, "That city life is preferable to the country life". The affirmative speakers were Dollie Stone and Shela Guthrie, while the negative was upheld by Minnie White and Olive Chisholm. The judges decided in favor of the affirmative. Mrs. Lovewell and Miss Hagan, the official visitors, responded when called upon, and after the critic's report the house adjourned.

Our Monthly Entertainments.

One of the best school entertainments given here was presented by students in the auditorium Thanksgiving eve. These monthly school entertainments require extra duties of the teachers and both they and our principal are to be congratulated upon the results attained. Below we give program:

MRS. SMITH—AN APPRECIATION.

Smiling peacefully and closing her eyes gently, as though sinking into a restful slumber from which she would ere long awake, Mrs. Smith quietly passed away. With unfaltering faith she saw beyond that silent portal her loved ones awaiting her there. The picture presents a happy change, a reunion in a realm where the fruition of the hope that is in every heart is realized.

Mrs. Smith came from a chivalrous stock—from a long line of brave men and beautiful women. In her youth she was the toast of all the country side, beautiful and brilliant, an ornament to the cultured society in which she was the moving spirit.

A true daughter of the South, she was loyal to the heart's core to her traditions, her songs and her prestige. She never lost her vivacity and brilliancy; to the last she was a charming woman; of deep sympathy, broad charity and an intuition that fathomed the depths with unerring accuracy.

We shall miss her because Carlisle was the richer for her presence; she radiated an atmosphere of kindness that was widespread in its influence. The memory of her cheerfulness and bravery in suffering will remain as an inspiration to so live that when we too are summoned we may also be—"Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

Inspector McLaughlin Visits Carlisle.

Carlisle had the pleasure of a visit from Inspector James McLaughlin, who was here on official business for several days last week. Mr. McLaughlin is the veteran of the Indian service in point of real service, he having entered in the year 1871, starting in at Fort Yates, North Dakota, and is widely known as a real friend of the Indian. His late book "My Friend the Indian," has recently attracted much attention and widespread comment on account of the fact that it not only portrays the Indian as he is, but depicts in striking manner the great power for good a clean, upright, sincere worker among the Indians is.

A Fine Address.

Mr. McClure, who addressed us in the auditorium, sang "He cares for me." We enjoyed it very much.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Harrison Smith, who recited in the auditorium last Monday afternoon, did very well. The subject of his recitation was "Beware".

The mechanical drawing classes from the various shops began their lessons last Monday. Mr. Collins meets his students in the agricultural room.

The football boys who went to Baltimore on Saturday saw Joe Shehan, a former student; he is a printer and working in a job office at that place.

Dollie Stone was the morning speaker for the Sophomores at the opening exercises on Monday. She rendered in a very nice manner, "A Good Name."

The boys are eagerly looking forward to the skating season. They are beginning to inspect the pond with interest, and some are buying new skates.

One of the latest additions to the list of employees of the school is Miss Mary Yoos, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, who has come to us as assistant seamstress.

Mr. Kensler, our efficient quartermaster, succeeded in buying turkeys for Thanksgiving at the reasonable price of 17c per lb., and they were nice ones too. He purchased forty.

Mr. Charles Dagenett, Class '89, and now of Denver, Colorado, who was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Denny through Saturday and Sunday, left Monday evening.

The clothing room in Girls' Quarters is now completed, and is a great improvement on the old; it is roomy, convenient and well-lighted. Miss Schultz and her helpers are rejoicing over a desire fulfilled.

Mr. Rolla Brown of St. Louis, Missouri, has recently been appointed as teacher of the Business Department of our school. He comes to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. Ramsey. We extend him the welcoming hand.

The faculty held a meeting on Wednesday of last week. After listening to a fine program by the band, the subject "Training for life" was discussed. Mr. Friedman presided, and Mr. Whitwell, Mrs.

Lovewell, Miss Lecrone, took part in the discussion. Owing to the lateness of the hour the discussion of the second subject was postponed until the next meeting.

The Y. M. C. A. held their meeting in the chapel last Sunday evening. The boys were very much interested in the talks which were given by the different members. Mr. Nagie is a great help and the boys take interest in the work. We have one of the best gymnasiums and one of the most heroic foot-ball team's in the country; why not have one of the best Y. M. C. A.'s?

Eben B. Snow, an ex-student, writing from Falconer, N. Y., says: "I am often lonesome for dear old Carlisle. I would like to come back to school again, and hope I will be there next spring. I should have gone back this fall. I am working in Jamestown and getting two dollars a day. I hope the teachers and pupils will all have an enjoyable Thanksgiving. Give my best regards to teachers and everybody."

The Standards had an excellent meeting last Friday evening. The program was: Oration, James Welch; select reading, John Ramsey, Debate; Resolved, "That the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company strike was unjustifiable". The affirmative was upheld by Fred Cardin and Bernard Hermann; the negative by Kenneth King and John Goslin. The judges decided in favor of the negative. The Standard Concert Band played a few selections and the meeting adjourned. The official visitor was Miss Kaup.

One of the thoughts expressed by Mr. De Groffe in the auditorium Monday morning was about seeing things from different points of view. He said that when we are doing certain things we cannot see the wrong by looking only on one side. He illustrated this point by telling us that while traveling in the West he saw Pike's Peak when in Colorado Springs, and again from Wyoming without recognizing it. He was told, to his surprise, that it was Pike's Peak. We must look on all sides of life and in that way see things as they really are, not as they seem.

The Mercers held their meeting in the society room last Friday evening. Mr. Tranbarger was the official visitor; other visitors were Lewis Runnels, Delancy Davis and Montreville Yuda. The program was well rendered and consisted of the following numbers: Song, members; reporter's notes, Thirza Bernel; recitation, Florence McLean; impromptu, Esther Moose; society prophecy, Agnes Waite; vocal solo, Thirza Bernel. The debate question was very closely argued by Ruth Elm and Gladys McLean for the affirmative, and Estelle Bradley and Anna Rolette for the negative. It read: Resolved, "That the sailor is more to be honored than the soldier." The judges decided in favor of the affirmatives.

The Invincibles held a lively meeting in their hall last Friday evening, every seat being taken. After the miscellaneous business and the signing of the constitution by new members, the house proceeded with the program as follows; Song, Invincibles; declamation, George LaVatta; essay, Frank Lonestar; speeches, Thomas Owl and Josiah Saracino; duet, George La Vatta and Robert Tahamont; quartet, James Mumblehead, Sylvester Long, Frank Johnson, and Philip Cornelius. Debate: Resolved, "That to cross the Atlantic in an airship requires more courage than it did for Columbus to cross in a sailing vessel." The affirmative speakers were William Bishop and Henry Vinson; the negative, Philip Cornelius and Moses Friday. The judges decided in favor of the negative. The official visitor was Miss Curtis.

Mr. Ramsey Resigns.

In the severing of the connection of Mr. A. W. Ramsey with the faculty of the school, Carlisle and the Indian Service has lost an efficient employee and capable instructor. He has been with us for some time in charge of the business department of the school, and has given entire satisfaction in his line of work.

On his way to his home in Tennessee, Mr. Ramsey intends to stop in Indiana and other places to inspect some schools, with a view of taking a post-graduate course at one of them. After he has completed his post-graduate course, he will go into business in Tennessee or elsewhere. The best wishes of Carlisle friends go with him wherever he is.
