A TALK ON THE INDIAN PROBLEM.

The fourth of the series of monthly free lectures at St. Mary's Hall was given before a large and interested audience last night by Superintendent M. Friedman, of the Carlisle Indian School. After dwelling upon the population of the American Indian, which now numbers 300,000, the diversity of tribes and dialects numbering no less than 250, the sense of honor, truthfulness and honesty characteristic of the full blood, he propounded the question, "How Solve the Indian problem?" There is no cure-all or panacea for the vexed question. It must find its solution by the abolition of the debilitating, enslaving influence of the reservation system, the allotment of the 117 millions of acres of land that he owns the capitalization of the annuities, and the education of the Indian. His illustrations of the Osage tribe with its $8,000,000, the Six Nations drawing interest on $3,500 for clothing, which allows each one three or four yards of muslin; or the Oneida Tribe, which wastes valuable time and energy to collect the per capita annuity of forty-three cents, showed the folly and injury of such a system. The way out would be to capitalize and distribute to competent Indians the trust funds which the Government holds, and let the Indian work out his salvation by industry. His account of what the Carlisle School—the pathbreaker of our present educational system for the Indians—has done, was full of interest and instruction. In a short hour Superintendent Friedman gave a most masterly, intelligible and informing talk on a problem, which happily, after years of costly experiment, costly in life and property, is now drawing to a happy and successful solution.—The New Era, Lancaster, February 6.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Boys are already signing to go out to the country after Commencement.

Our matron, Miss Jennie L. Gaither, has been quite ill for several days.

James R. Walker has been assigned to the duties of nightwatchman for this week.

The enterprising Freshmen have just finished and put up a lovely blue and orange banner.

The carpenter boys are now at work in the gymnasium getting ready for Commencement.

The buds on the trees are making their appearance which reminds us that spring is almost here.

Jane M. Butler, who is out in the country, says that she is well and is getting along nicely in her studies.

A chorus consisting of one hundred voices is now practicing the anthems which are to be sung at Commencement.

The dress-making class is busy making the graduating dresses for the Senior girls; they promise to be very pretty.

Nathaniel Jabeth left Tuesday for his home in Idaho. All his friends, and especially the Nez Percés, were sorry to see him leave.

Sunday evening the Catholics held their usual meeting in the music room. A short program was carried out and enjoyed by all who attended.

The outing agent, Mr. Dickey, and the trade instructors are busy signing up their apprentices for places to work during the coming summer.

Mr. Mayhew, the dairyman, has gone on a short visit to his home in New York. Mr. Ellis, the farmer, has charge of the dairy during his absence.

The Sewing Club met last week with Miss Schultz, and spent a very pleasant evening. Much progress was noted in the various pieces of embroidery, and the interest in the hero and heroine of "The Attic Guest" is still unabated.

Miss Curtis was hostess of a very pleasant entertainment on St. Valentine's Evening. The decorations were in red, being hearts and flowers. The principal feature of the evening was a prize guessing contest, the prize winners being Miss Beach, Mr. Peirce, Mrs. Tranbarger, and Miss Hazard. The rest of the evening was devoted to conversation and refreshments. Mr. Peirce spoke entertainingly of his experiences in the West.

Father Stock preached a splendid sermon last Sunday morning; his subject was: "The man who Sowed Barley." Some fell on the roadside and did not take root; some fell among thorns and took root but were choked by the thorns; some fell on good ground and brought forth good fruit. These represent the three classes of men—those who hear the word of God but do not listen; those who listen for a time and finally give up for riches and pleasures; those who listen and practise what they hear. Think to which class you belong.

Good Invincible Meeting.

The society was called to order at the usual time and place. The President and Vice-President being absent, Henry Vinson was appointed president pro tem. After the singing of the society song roll was called followed by the reading of the minutes, after which this program was given: Declamation, Lyman Madison; essay, Henry Broker; extemporaneous speeches, Fred Broker and Alex Cadotte; select reading, Thomas Owl; oration, Willam Garlow. Debate; Resolved, "That the national banks should be abolished." The speakers on the affirmative side were Philip Cornelius and Eugene Powlass; negative, Abe Colonahaski and Charles Coons. The judges gave their decision in favor of the negative side. The official visitors were Messrs. Miller and Dickey. Mr. Nagay, the Y. M. C. A. secretary, was also present. The Critic made his report and the house adjourned.

GOOD STUDENT MEETINGS.

The program given by the Mercers at their last meeting was as follows: Impromptu, Phenia Anderson; vocal solo, Agnes Jacobs; select reading, Clemmence La Trail; picture, Mary La Rocque; the question for debate: Resolved, "That a reciprocal commercial treaty should be concluded between the United States and Canada." The speakers for the affirmative side were Ernestine Venne and Ruth Elm; for the negative, Susie Porter and Della John. The judges decided in favor of the affirmatives. The visitors were Charles King, John Goslin, Minnie Jones, and Delia Denny. After short addresses from each, the Critic gave her report and the house adjourned.

Last Friday evening the Standards met in their hall at the usual time. The president being absent, the house was called to order by the secretary. Mr. Reuben Charles was elected chairman for the evening. The singing of the Standard song was followed by roll-call and the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting after which the program was rendered as follows: Declamation, Gabriel Mallotte; essay, John Ramsey; impromptu, Leslie James; vocal solo, Montreville Yuda. The question, Resolved, "That New Orleans is a better location than San Francisco for the Panama exposition." The affirmative speakers were Samuel Wilson and George White; negatives, Harry West and John Jackson. The decision of the judges was in favor of the affirmatives. After the transaction of business came the Critic's report. Mr. Wyatt was the official visitor; he congratulated the boys on the fine program and also on the fact that they have lost their shyness in getting up before the society. The house then adjourned.

Indians Lose Valuable Friend.

Through the death of Archbishop Ryan the Indians lose a loving father, a faithful friend and an able and conscientious worker for their advancement. For a number of years he has been closely identified with the Indian work and it was very close to his heart. The Indians throughout the country mourn his loss.

THE INDIAN HUNTER.

MANUEL HIDALGO, Porto Rican.

Once upon a time their lived an old Indian. He was poor in every respect and did not own anything but a little house. He was married, and he and his wife depended largely upon fishing and hunting for a living. He went to the woods to hunt, but could not find any game, so he thought it would be better to go home. He arrived at his home and told his wife that he could not find any game, so she told him to go fishing. He went to the brook and sat down for awhile. After awhile a pretty red fish bit, and the fisherman pulled him out. The fish knew that he could not live very long in the hands of an Indian who was as hungry as that, so the fish begged the Indian to let him go. The fish told the Indian that if he let him go, he would throw his net into the water, and bring it in full of fishes. The Indian said, "Will you be true, or will you fool me?" The fish said, "I will be true;" so the Indian let him go, and put his net into the water. The Indian waited patiently for a little while, and then he found his net so full of fishes that he had pretty hard work to pull them out. Just by his kindness the Indian got so many fishes, and made up for that hunting day he lost.

Be kind hearted and you will receive your reward sooner or later, as the old Indian did.

The reception given Saturday afternoon by the cabinet members of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. to the young men and young women of Dickinson College who have helped them so much with their Bible study work during the winter, was very pleasant. The time was spent in playing such games as "Wink," "Three Deep" and "What is It?" The refreshments were ice cream, cake and punch. During the afternoon Pearl Wolfe enlivened the company by playing selections on the pianola, and Texie Tubbs sang "All that I ask is love."

The Athletic Reception.

Everybody and his family were bidden to the feast and everybody and his family who were present spent a delightful evening. The gym. was gay with bunting, and brightly colored foot-balls—which represented different colleges—were suspended from the gallery and seemed to wave merrily, and in time with the music which was sufficiently inspiring to fill all with the desire to dance. The refreshments consisted of sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake. Some of the guests from outside were Mr. and Mrs. Davies of Carlisle, and Mrs. Daniels and Miss Hagey from Harrisburg.

SPECIAL SUSAN PROGRAM.

The Susans' society hall presented a charming appearance; there were new window shades over which hung handsome net draperies; a cosy couch in one corner and beside it a table upon which tea things were invitingly arranged; potted plants decorated with the class colors, lavender and white, while delicately colored blossoms emitting delightful odors were effectively distributed about the room and in a conspicuous place upon the wall, hung the Senior class banner with its beautiful motto "Truth Conquers." GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Commencement once a year and everything on the rush. Every student must dig deeply in order to advance. Those who have made each day count will be the winners in the race.

Mrs. Nancy Teakasin, formerly Nancy Hashaly, ex-student, is now keeping house on a farm of 480 acres near Fort Yates, North Dakota. She is planning on making a visit to Carlisle next summer.

Mr. Laban Baird, former student at Carlisle, and subsequently enrolled as a student at Hampton, writes that he has been employed for a year as assistant fireman at the Oneida Indian school.

Millie Bailey, of Sisseton, South Dakota, is getting along very nicely keeping house for her parents who are living on a farm. Since leaving Carlisle she has attended and finished the course in the school near her home.

In the evening the girls are to be seen in the halls and in other places swinging their clubs; they seem to be very much interested and delighted with the pretty, puzzling movements taught them by the physical directors.

A letter received from Electa Schuyler Metoxen of West De Pere, Wis., informs us of the death at that place, on February 4th, of consumption, of William Peters, an ex-student. She writes as follows: "William was a good boy before his illness and he was wonderfully patient during his hours of suffering. A large circle of friends mourn his untimely end."

Supervisor Peairs, who is on an inspection tour, favored the morning students with a talk on the essential relations existing between labor and production. "Nothing worth having" said he, "is secured without labor." And in order to fortify this assertion, he offered a two-pound box of candy to any boy or girl who could think of any thing worth having that did not require labor to produce. Therefore, he urged us to work earnestly and well in every department, academic or industrial, to which we may be detailed and thereby reap our share of the world's honors.

From far-away Tasmania comes a letter of appreciation for Carlisle literature which has been received by Mrs. Laura Wolfhogen. She expresses a desire to hear from some of the Carlisle students and she offers to send pictures, postcards or stamps to any who may write to her. She will willingly answer questions about Tasmania. This is a fine chance to learning something more than our geographies tell us about that interesting land. Her address is: "Mena, Newtown Road, Hobart, Tasmania."

THE ORIGIN OF THUNDER.

GENEVIEVE BEBEAU, Chippewa.

Once upon a time three Indians went hunting. They walked for three long days and nights but could see neither game nor forests. They finally came to a tall tree and one of the hunters climbed to the top of the branches in order to look for game.

From the tree-top a path led to an Indian tepee in the clouds. He at once informed his companions on the ground and instructed them to follow him. Arriving at the tepee, they entered and joined other Indians who were smoking their pipes. After feasting for some time they all went out to hunt. The reports of their guns were heard on the earth, and even the Indians to-day believe that every time it thunders those Indians are hunting upon the Happy Hunting Grounds.

One Indian, on returning to the earth, told the Chippewas that by offering up smoke as a sacrifice to the thunder it would stop the thunder. Some of the Indians still follow the custom of smoking during a storm to appease the thunder.

The Chippewa Indians in the northern part of Minnesota are very superstitious and the older ones tell numerous startling stories of their younger days.

LET nature teach you to value and strive for the beautiful. She abhors the ugly and seems ever seeking to transform it into loveliness. I have seen in the woods an old tree trunk half submerged out of which a cluster of flowers was growing, as if Nature were endeavoring to atone for and hide the unsightly.—Personality.

"LEARN A TRADE."

"Learn a trade." This motto State Statistician J. L. Peetz, who has charge of the recently established free employment bureau operated by the state of Indiana, is thinking of hanging in his office. His experience in trying to find men for trade positions, without success, and his efforts to find employment for the laborers when there is no employment, have prompted him to to plan the motto.

A review of the application cards filed one afternoon disclosed that the statistician had places for fifty men with trades, but no applicants with which to fill them. Among the men wanted were brass molders, plumbers, steam fitters, sheet metal workers, straight lathe operators, machinists, upholsterers, boilermakers, toolmakers, etc.

In the class of common laborers, there are approximately four applicants to every job. The coming of winter and the completion of outside work always drives the laborers to seek inside work, but such places which are not already filled at the beginning of the winter season are few.—Winona Printer.

Address on the Indian Problem.

M. Friedman, superintendent of the Carlisle Indian School, on Sunday evening delivered the fourth of the series of addresses in St. Mary's Hall, on moral, social and educational questions, taking as his subject "The Indian Problem." The speaker, who is one of the foremost Indian educators in the country, advocated the breaking up of the reservations for the red man, discontinuing their annuities and giving them an education. It was an excellent lecture and was greatly enjoyed by a good sized audience.—The Lancaster Daily Examiner, February 6.

Alfred Blackbird, an Omaha Indian and an ex-student of Carlisle, now living in Nebraska, is proving to be a successful farmer. He has just marketed 5000 bushels of corn raised by him last year on his own farm. The crop was free from incumbrance and the owner drew a check for the entire amount. He is married, and is a prominent member of the Macy Church, where he holds the position of interpreter for the pastor, Rev. Beith.
