CARLISLE STUDENT NURSES MAKE GOOD.

Indian Girls in Several Metropolitan Hospitals.

Dr. Theodore Appel, medical director of the Lancaster General Hospital, in a conversation with Dr. Allen in Philadelphia during the recent meeting of Pennsylvania doctors held in that city, said that the two nurses from this school, Sara Beuchler and Ozetta Bourbonnais, were doing splendid work in that institution, and that they were a credit to the school, and had the making of splendid nurses. The Carlisle School has done much to show to the country the availability of the Indian maidens as good nurses.

The city hospitals will soon know what material we have at this school, and a number of them will soon be wanting our best girls to take their course of nursing. Every one of the present pupil nurses is doing well and winning the respect of their superiors for their ability and devotion to their profession.

Hats off to the Indian nurses.

Dr. Allen, during his visit to Philadelphia last week, called at the German Hospital to see Eva Simons, a recent graduate of this school who is studying nursing. Eva has been making more than good at this hospital. She had been promoted to one of the surgical wards a few days previous to the Doctor's visit. She is classed by the superintendent as a most industrious girl, and her associates speak of her highly. Eva is making a standard at this hospital that will be hard to surpass by the girls who follow her when she graduates.

Dr. Allen also saw Emerald Bottineau, who has been in the German Hospital of Philadelphia with an attack of typhoid fever. She is recovering nicely and will soon be home.

Since her convalescence began she has been the life of the ward with her bright, cheery disposition and sunny smiles. Eva Simons was her night nurse during her illness.

A New Resident Physician at Carlisle.

The position of resident physician, left vacant by Dr. Fralic's removal to Arizona, has been filled by the appointment of Edward F. Menger, of Franklin County, Pa. Dr. Allen had over sixty applicants for this position, all married men, and Dr. Menger was selected from this number. He is a graduate of Medico Chi College, Philadelphia, class of 1909, and comes highly recommended. He was a resident of the flood district in Ohio, and suffered from the inundations as well as others. He is glad to be back in old Pennsylvania and bids fair to be very popular as our resident. We bid him welcome.

Recognition Long Since Due.

The nomination by President Wilson of Gabe Parker, a prominent Choctaw Indian, to be Registrar of the United States Treasury, is a happy solution of a problem which had grown "embarrassing" to the administration. But not only is it a way out of a difficulty, but, by the nomination of Parker, President Wilson has given recognition where recognition has been due for years. It is not so much that the office will be given to Gabe Parker, who is an Indian, but that it is to be given to an Indian, who happens to be Gabe Parker.

The Nation freed the negro, gave to him what he has to-day, and has in a measure given him a hand in the governing of the country. The Nation took from the Indian all that he had, his land, his birthright, even his name, and until to-day has done little to officially recognize him.

It would be well if the nomination sent to the Senate by President Wilson established a precedent.—Muskogee Phoenix.

NEW DISPENSARIES FOR STUDENTS' QUARTERS.

They Are Well Equipped and Make Very Useful Additions.

The opening of the school year has been marked by improvements in the Hospital Department. Instead of having all the dispensary cases go to the dispensary in the hospital as heretofore, a well equipped and appointed dispensary has been added to the Girls' Quarters and one to the Large Boys' Quarters. These dispensaries have been fully equipped for the purpose, and a large air compressor, for treating colds and sore throats, and a pair of scales have been placed in each one, as well as a supply of drugs, linen, etc. With these improvements and additions, a thorough method of keeping in touch with the ailments of dispensary patients will be introduced, so that a complete record of each pupil's dispensary ailments can be had at a glance at any time during his or her school life. This with the hospital record will give a complete history of any and all ailments that a pupil may have at any time during his stay at the school. The dispensaries are centrally located and are a decided improvement in every way.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Frank Johnson was a welcome visitor over Sunday.

Effie Nori, from her home in New Mexico, sends greetings to her classmates, the Juniors.

During the last week the Junior Class has been increased from sixteen to twenty-one members.

Leo Archambault has done so well this fall that he has recently been promoted to the Sophomore Class.

The school reception on Saturday evening was enjoyed by the students. Dr. Friedman, Miss Ridenour, Miss Reichel, Mr. Nori, and Miss Lewis were present.

ATHLETIC NOTES.

Carlisle 21—Lehigh University 7.

The Indians journeyed to South Bethlehem last Saturday and defeated the heavy and experienced Lehigh team by a score of 21 to 7. Lehigh had been heralded as an unusually strong team this year, but the score would indicate that either Lehigh is weaker than last season or that Carlisle is playing better ball than when the same teams met last fall, as the score this season is better than last.

Early in the game Captain Welch skirted Lehigh's right end, aided by the Indians' fine interference, for 75 yards for a touchdown, and in the second quarter five gains by Guyon, Bracklin, and Calac scored another touchdown. Lehigh solved the Indians' attack much better in the last half, and the Carlisle gains were consequently less steady and effective, but one more touchdown was scored in the last period.

Lehigh scored upon a well-executed forward pass, which Captain Welch misjudged and overran.

Garlow kicked every goal from the touchdowns and is fast acquiring accuracy in this important department of the game.

The Indians' line, especially Busch, Garlow, Hill, and Welmas, played finely and stopped the heavy Lehigh backs before they could get their plays well formed.

The defense was better than the offense and fumbles very few.

The team left for Ithaca, N. Y., this morning, where the big game of the season will be played with Cornell. Cornell has a team over twice as strong as last year, and our boys will have their hands full to stave off a defeat.

Reserves, 0—Conway Hall, 12.

The Reserves played Conway Hall a close game on Dickinson Field last Saturday. But for some "bone-head" plays and fumbles, the score would have been closer, as the teams appeared to be very evenly matched.

The cross-country race may be held earlier this year because the dual race with Penn will probably be October 25, the day of the annual Penn-Indian football game.

Guyon is punting in good form.

Carlisle's line is playing a great game and charges low and fast.

The ends and other line men are slow getting down the field under punts.

The Junior Varsity boys went to Waynesboro and defeated the team from that place by 13 to 0.

The Reserves play Albright College at Meyerstown to-morrow, and the Junior Varsity play the Mechanicsburg High School upon our field. Game at 3 p. m.

A Serenade.

Last Thursday evening the band boys turned out in full force to serenade their leader, Mr. Stauffer, in honor of his birthday. It was a complete surprise and a great pleasure to be thus remembered by his boys, and Mr. Stauffer's appreciation was very apparent. After a few selections the boys were invited in to partake of refreshments, which were served by a few other friends who had been invited in to celebrate the occasion.

The Y. M. C. A.

A volunteer meeting, led by Edwin Miller, was held Sunday evening. The speakers were John Gibson, William Garlow, James Crane, and Nelson Simons. Clement Hill led in prayer.

Superintendent Friedman gave the fellows a good talk. He repeated what he has so often impressed upon them before—that a Christian character is the foundation for a successful life.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Mrs. La Flesche is spending her vacation at her old home in Pinconning, Mich.

Inez Brown, who was graduated from Carlisle in 1909, brought a party of students from Fort Totten, N. Dak.

At the Monday evening meetings the Presbyterians study "Paul's Letters to the Phillippians."

Last week the band boys played for the good roads meeting, which was held in the Cumberland County Court-House.

A party of new students, consisting of six boys and a girl, arrived last Sunday evening from Laguna, New Mexico.

On Monday last the Freshmen were taken by the mathematics teacher to the paint shop to learn, by actual demonstration, how to paper a room.

After a very pleasant visit with Carlisle friends, Mrs. M. Dodge and her little daughter Charlotte left Monday a few days' visit in Philadelphia and Washington, D. C.

Mr. Quick Bear talked to the boys on "How to Become a Gentleman." Your expression, your clothes, the way you wear your hat, all tell something of your inner self, whatever that real self may be.

Mr. E. E. Rutter, one of the attaches of the Associated Press, was at the school on Friday and took a number of photographic views of the school for newspaper and magazine use of the syndicate which he represents.

John Clinton Foster and George Wallis Hamilton, of Washington, D. C., were the guests of Mrs. Foster for the week-end. Both were successful candidates in the August examination for lieutenantcies in the U. S. Marine Corps. John Foster stood second on the list.

The Juniors held a class meeting last Monday evening and gave a program and a debate. The question read thus: Resolved, That women should have the right to vote. On the affirmative side were Eva Williams and Lillian Walker; negatives, John Gibson and Henry Hayes. The negatives won.

PROTESTANT SUNDAY AFTERNOON SERVICE.

Rev. J. P. Koontz, pastor of the United Brethren Church of Carlisle, conducted the services on Sunday and preached from the text found in Psalms 63:8, "My soul followeth hard after Thee."

He said, in part, that these are refreshing words. They are the language of a man in great earnest. Half-heartedness is little less than folly, and will never gain much if anything. In religion it is surely the cause of the damnation of thousands of souls.

First, the text shows a spirit of determination, and involved due consideration; the reason of so much half-heartedness in religion is the want of due consideration.

Second, a willingness to labor. There is implied here difficulty, hardship, and tribulation. This is the lot of all, but the man who is in earnest will overcome every obstacle and triumph over every difficulty.

Third, a patient perseverance. The way is long; God sometimes hides his face, but we must follow hard after in darkness and in doubt. The spirit is often faint, but if we fall we will rise again; and if we follow hard after Him, then He will not forsake us.

THE Y. W. C. A.

A recognition service was held Tuesday evening for the girls who had sent in their names to become members of the Association. There were nine: Florence Edwards, Ollie Standing Bear, Lucy Charles, Lillian Walker, Ozella Roy, Eva Jones, Mary Horsechief, Martha Waters, and Bessie Standing Bear.

A short program preceded the confirmation of new members. Selected Bible verses by Marjorie Jimerson, Cecelia Matlock, Alice Tyndall, Theresa Lay, Lupie Spire, Amy Smith, Lena Bennet, Matilda Chew, Emily Poodry, and Marie Garlow; a reading by Mamie Mt. Pleasant; talk by Myrtle Thomas, and a selection by the quartette were rendered.

Short talks on Association work were given by Louisa Bluesky, Jennie Ross, Rose Lyons, Alice Tyndall, Della John, Evelyn Springer, Virginia Coolidge and Sarah Montieth.

Mrs. Dodge, Carlisle '97, who was very active in Christian work while a student at Carlisle, gave a most helpful talk.

Superintendent Friedman and Superintendent Perry of the Albuquerque School were in for a few minutes.

Y. W. C. A. Notes.

The testimonials given by some of the girls were very helpful.

We all took great interest in our Y. W. C. A. meeting Sunday evening.

Mrs. Dodge and her little daughter Charlotte were visitors. Mrs. Dodge said:

I enjoyed your meeting, every minute of it, especially the singing.

Some of the pleasantest recollections I have of my Carlisle school days are connected with Association work. You girls have a great opportunity; use it to the best advantage.

Your parents expect you to become leaders in Christian work; they need your help when you return to your homes; prepare yourselves to be of assistance to them.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

The dressmakers are making uniforms for the new students.

Henry Vincent, Class of '12, witnessed the Carlisle-Lehigh game last Saturday at South Bethlehem, Pa.

Mr. Albert Exendine, a graduate of Carlisle and of Dickinson Law School, is here to assist Mr. Warner during the football season.

George Nash, who has been working at his trade at Lancaster, Pa., and Charles Harrison, who went to his home in Nebraska, have returned to resume their school and shop work.

Lena Blackchief entertained a party of girls in her room Saturday afternoon. The guests were Eva Jones, Della John, and Lena Bennett. The refreshments were cakes, jelly, and candy.

SUPT. FRIEDMAN SPEAKS AT OPENING EXERCISES.

Extracts from Superintendent Friedman's talk to the students at opening exercises, October 6th:

The Superintendent gave us a splendid talk on "making good."

Dr. Friedman called our attention to Carlisle's birthday, 34 years old, October 6th.

Dr. Friedman told us how Carlisle was opened in 1879 and when the first Indians, eighty Sioux, came in for an education.

Carlisle was at one time used to teach soldiers to fight the Indians, but now it is used to teach the Indians how to work side by side with the white man.

The students of Carlisle must feel it their duty to grasp the grand opportunities offered here so that when they return to their people they may be a power for good among them.

Superintendent Friedman said it was "up to us" to uphold Carlisle's honor; to go forth prepared to join the ranks of splendid Indian men and women who are successful in their chosen professions and trades.

The Government, in establishing the Carlisle Indian School in 1879, did the best thing it could do for its wards. During the years the Indians have progressed so much by being educated that they are now found among the Nation's body of law makers.

The Boys' Catholic Meeting.

Father Stock gave a splendid talk on "Miracles" and a reading on the parade of the Holy Name Society which was given in Philadelphia last week and in which fifty thousand members took part. John Gokey also gave a short reading. Superintendent Friedman, who was present, gave a short speech on the "Evils of profanity."

THE LITERARY SOCIETIES

SUSANS

The newly elected officers of the Susans are: President, Mary Bailey; recording secretary, Myrtle Chilson; treasurer, Myrtle Thomas; critic, Nettie Kingsly; reporter, Susie Lacy; marshal, Clara Irving. After appointing committees on program and questions, the following program was rendered: Song, Susans; recitation, Maggie Hardin; vocal duet, Myrtle Chilson and Thressa Martell; anecdotes, Minnie O'Neal; piano solo, Elsie Kohpay.

The debate: Resolved, "That the Sulzer impeachment is justifiable".

The affirmative speakers were Jeanette Pappin and Mary Shomin; negatives, Cora Elm and Addie Hovermale. The judges decided in favor of the affirmative side.

The visitors were Miss Bentz, Mrs. Parker, Miss Inez Brown, and Mrs. Dodge. Mrs. Dodge, who was a member when the Society was first organized, gave an excellent talk on the beginning and the progress of the work during her student days at Carlisle.

Mrs. Foster and Miss McDowell were the official visitors.

THE INVINCIBLES.

The result of the election last Friday evening was as follows: President, John Gibson; vice-president, Elmer Busch; secretary, Nelson Simons; treasurer, William Garlow; critic, Jesse Wofford; sergeants-at-arms, Don Ortego and Augustine Knox; reporter, Boyd Crowe; corresponding secretary, Henry Broker.

Debate: Resolved, "That the immediate abolishment of the reservation system is desirable." Edward Bracklin, John Gibson, and Jesse Wofford debated for the affirmative side; William Thayer, Fred Broker, and George Francis upheld the negative. The judges decided in favor of the affirmative side.

Mr. Whitwell and Miss Reichel were the official visitors.

THE STANDARDS.

The Standards had a good meeting Friday evening. The program was as follows: Declamation, Henry Herrera; essay, Charles Lane; oration, George Tibbetts.

The question for debate read: Resolved, "That a $50,000,000 appropriation for the improvement of the public highways in Pennsylvania is justifiable." Preston Goulette and Adolph Morrin, affirmative; Calvin Lamoureaux and Edwin Miller, negative. The affirmative side won.

Joseph Sumner was initiated and ten names were handed in for membership.

Miss Moore was the official visitor.

THE MERCERS.

Song, Mercers; essay, Marie Garlow; recitation, Alice Logan; select reading, Lillian Walker, anecdotes, Cecelia Matlock; reading, Naomi Greensky; piano solo, Theresa Lay.

Gertrude Pego, Elvina and Julia Connell, Mary Kelsey, Jane Owl, Lizzie Skesick, Lizzie House, Nettie Standingbear, Cecelia Somers, and Sarah Parkhiersk were initiated into the society. A number of names were handed in for membership.

Mrs. Dietz was the official visitor. She gave a very interesting talk.

New Quarters For Small Boys' Disciplinarian.

Several months ago Mr. Denny and his family moved from the cottage next to the Athletic Quarters to a suite of rooms which had been prepared for them on the first floor at the end of the Small Boys' Quarters. These rooms were nicely painted and repaired, and some extensive improvements were made in the way of carpenter work and plastering, which make them a very attractive place for housekeeping. At the same time, Mr. Denny is now closer to the young men in the building over which he has charge.

After every storm the sun will shine; for every problem there is a solution, and the soul's indefensible duty is to be of good cheer.

—Wm. R. Alber.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Move to New Quarters.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer have moved from the Office Building to one of the apartments of four rooms and a bath on the second floor of the school's apartment building for housekeeping. These quarters have been kalsomined and painted, and are very attractive. This building, which contains four apartments, each apartment having four rooms and a bath fitted up in every way for housekeeping, was erected about five years ago by student apprentices.

AMONG THE INDIANS OF ALASKA.

A Former Carlisle Teacher Relates Some of Her Experiences.

Miss Hawk, who was a teacher here for several years, has written the following interesting letter to a Carlisle friend, and we publish it below, as many of the pupils and ex-students as well as employees remember her and will be interested in her work in Alaska, where she has been for the past four years:

"Where shall I begin to tell you of the very interesting experiences I've had? It certainly has been a year full of such new and happy work. I found the school work so ideal. I believe I did one of my best year's work and was so happy in it. I taught the grades from second to sixth and Dr. Reed taught the little folks. We had sixty-two enrolled. Then I had classes for adults. I taught classes in reading, oral English, and number work four nights a week for men.

I can't tell you how I enjoyed it. There were some quite old men who came, and it was very hard work to try to get them to understand, but I felt that it was a real joy in knowing that they wanted to learn. There were 32 of them, and we had some very happy times together. One afternoon a week I gave to the married women of the village. I gave them English lessons, and we sewed and cooked. I tried to teach them how to prepare their native foods so as to be more palatable. We had plenty of fun, and I believe they got something out of it. Then I had a sewing class and cooking class for the school girls. Our rules of the service require us to devote a period every day to this work. We made garments to wear over their furs, hemstitched handkerchiefs, and knit mittens and stockings. So you see I was a busy girl.

After The Bear made its last call (October 30th), old Jack Frost got busy and ice-locked the Bering Sea so good and tight that we were literally packed in ice.

A sailboat direct from Seattle, carrying a party of scientists to the Arctic, was our first boat of the year. They just stopped to give us the news (no mail), and I needn't tell you that we were glad to get all we could. On June 24th The Bear made its inspection trip and brought our first mail—heaps of it. It didn't take long to devour it.
