A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER EDITED AND PRINTED BY THE STUDENTS OF THE UNITED STATES INDIAN SCHOOL

VOLUME X.

CARLISLE, PA., MAY 1, 1914.

NUMBER 34

SUNDAY AFTERNOON CHAPEL SERVICE.

By Rev. E. H. Kellogg.

Theme, Jer. 115: "Then answered I and said, 'Amen, O Lord.'"

"Amen" is a Hebrew word which means "so let it be" and "so it shall be." It is a word to express our own hearts' desire that what God has spoken should be, and our faith that what he has spoken and promised shall be, because He is faithful to His word and promises.

In all things of our relations with God, two great things are true: First, that to say from the heart "Amen" to God in whatever He does toward us or speaks to us is the very secret of the soul's life; and secondly, that as a matter of fact God is Himself the doer of everything whatsoever that is good, and all that He leaves us to say, in any matter of our life toward Him as men with our God, is just "Amen, O Lord; so let it be," and "I believe that so it shall be." Your applications of this is to say "Amen, O Lord," to God's providence. In face of all the mysteries of life and existence, the fact of evil, our disappointments and discouragements and burdens, learn to say always "Amen, O Lord," as did Jesus say, "Even so, Father, for so it seemed good in Thy sight."

Say "Amen, O Lord," to God's judgment of us, His condemnation of us. When His spirit is bringing home to our hearts conviction of sin, let us not try to excuse ourselves for it, not try to defend ourselves against God. Call our evil things by their right names in the light of Christ's revealing and condemning presence. It is only through whole-hearted and entire confession of our sins, that we can receive to our hearts God's wonderful, free forgiveness of our sins and His cleansing of us from them.

Say "Amen, O Lord," to God's gift of full and free forgiveness, which is not for the sake of any good in us but only for the sake of Christ our Saviour. Do not distrust the greatness of His mercy. Do not insist on trying to deserve it, i. e., to earn it, instead of accepting it. It is His will that we should receive His mercy, not deserving it. Joyfully and gladly, in humility of simple faith, just take to your hearts Christ to full and free forgiveness, with a believing heart.

Say "Amen, O Lord," to his purpose to make us holy. Realize that we cannot make ourselves that. But He has promised to make us that, if only our hearts fall into line with that purpose of his. He is the only doer of it. Our part is to perpetually answer from our heart and say, in prayer, "Amen, O Lord, so let it be, and "I have faith in Thee to believe so it shall be."

BLACKSMITH SHOP.

By Guy Burns.

A new surrey is nearly ready to be sent up to the paint shop.

The smiths are kept busy repairing farm wagons and impliments.

Otto Thunder has gone out on his first experience as a horse shoer.

Michell Gomez has been working on the gates, making hangers for the gates which are to be placed between the Girls' Quarters and the Gymnasium.

CARPENTER SHOP.

By Newton Thompson.

Some boys are still busy at the Alumni Reception Hall.

The carpenters are still doing repair work at the first farm.

The twenty tables are all finished and are ready for the paint shop.

The carpenters are also laying a new floor at Mr. McKean's cottage.

The boys who are doing inside work are busy making window sashes for different buildings.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Nellie Hallowel, Blanche Archambault and Corinne Janis have recently been promoted to the dressmaking class.

Simon Needham, one of the recent graduates and who is now attending the Keystone Business College in Philadelphia, says in a recent letter that he is getting along nicely.

A large portion of the first farm will be planted with garden truck, as the boys are to be under our able instructor, Mr. Abrams. They should make the best of their opportunities.

Rev. James G. Dickson writes from Stites, Idaho, that he has been appointed by the Reformed Church as missionary pastor among the Winnebago Indians and will be there by the 1st of May.

While speaking to a Sunday school class last Sunday, Mr. Lipps said his ambition was to live on a farm and be drawn more closely to nature. This statement rather surprised many in the class.

A surprise party was given by Mary Gray last Sunday afternoon in honor of Margaret Moore's birthday. The guests were Blanche Hall, Margaret Gray, Gertrude Bresette, Maude Cooke and Eva Williams.

Beginning this evening, the literary societies will meet at 7:30 instead of at 7:00 as heretofore. Only three more meetings. Brace up. "Play the game and hit the line hard," and so bring the year's work to a fine finish.

Anna M. Rose writes from Pinconning, Mich., and says that she is well and getting along nicely. Furthermore, she says: "I am very thankful for the education which I received at Carlisle and wish to thank the teachers and instructors for what I learned while there. I wish the Mercers success, my former classmates, and friends."

ATHLETIC NOTES.

The lacrosse team suffered its first defeat of the season last Saturday when Swarthmore scored two goals to Carlisle's one.

The relay team, consisting of Coons, Gillman, Guyon and Kelsey, was defeated at Philadelphia at the great relay carnival last Saturday. Syracuse University won first place in the group of colleges with which Carlisle was classed.

The lacrosse team is on a trip to Annapolis and Baltimore. The Navy and Johns Hopkins team will be played on this trip and both are unusually strong.

The annual track and field inter-class contest will be held next Monday afternoon. Four places count as follows: 5, 3, 2, 1. The winners of medals in the field events will be decided upon a handicap basis but in scoring points there are no handicaps.

The track season will close this year with a dual meet with Lafayette College upon our field next week Saturday, the other meets having been canceled by agreement.

Charles Kelsey ran a trial half mile on Monday in the fastest time ever made upon our track.

THE Y. M. C. A. MEETING.

By Nelson R. Lay.

Last Sunday evening the union meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Hall of the two associations was an interesting affair and attended by a large audience. Jennie Ross led the meeting with the following program: Opening hymn, congregation; scripture reading, John Gibson; prayer, Mr. Whitwell; hymn, congregation; Bible verses, members; music, double quartette; reading, Cora Battice; hymn, congregation; address, Prof. Thadinger of Dickinson College; music, double quartette; closing hymn, congregation; mizpah, congregation.

Prof. Shadinger gave a very interesting address on the "Struggle for Existence." He clearly outlined how men struggled for existence in the beginning and how the Christian religion struggled in its infancy.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

By John E. Gibson.

Days are fine for outdoor meetings.

Ex-President Nelson Simons is now at his home at Mashpee, Mass.

Vice-President Peter Eastman has gone to his home in Peever, S. Dak.

A large number of the boys are constantly leaving for the country under the Outing System.

Prof. Shadinger, of Dickinson College, was the interesting speaker at the Union Meeting last Sunday evening.

We are glad to learn of the marriage of Mr. Henry Redowl and Miss Della Smith, former students of Carlisle. Henry was one of our "standpatters" and represented us at the Lake Mohonk Conference, New York, last June. The members of the Y. M. C. A. extend the heartiest congratulations for a successful career in their new walk of life.

The Middle Atlantic Student Conference will be held at Eagles Mere, Pa., on June 12 to 21. There will be a large number of good speakers, among them is T. Richard Glover of England. We want a good representation at the conference and those desiring to attend see Mr. Meyer or the President as early as possible so that arrangements will be made to that effect. This is a conference well worth attending. One prominent eastern college man said, "It was the biggest event of my college course."

THE UNION MEETING OF THE HOLY NAME SOCIETIES.

By George Merrill.

The two societies met for a union meeting Sunday evening. After a short prayer the following program was rendered: Piano solo, Gertrude Bressette; select reading, Mary Shomin; vocal solo, Clara Irving; recitation, Jeanette Pappin; instrumental duet, Henry Herrera and Antoine Anaquot; song, members. The meeting closed with a prayer.

A card from Clemence La Traille states that she is enjoying the zero weather in North Dakota. She has gained considerably in weight, and so she says: "This is where I should stay."

Miss Olive J. Gordon writes from Red House, N. Y., that she is keeping house, and "I have often thought of dear old Carlisle and its many kind friends and wish all a Happy New Year."

Emma Quinn, now Mrs. Abe, writes that she is keeping house in her own home at Owyhee, Nev. "We appreciate your interest and send to you kind wishes for your unbounded success in the work this coming year."

Inez Doctor, now Mrs. Green, writes from her present address, Lewiston, N. Y., R. F. D. 18, that she is keeping house. She says: "I would be very glad to receive THE ARROW, because I am always glad to hear what Carlisle is doing. I often borrow the neighbor's ARROW. I am doing quite well."

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Marjorie Jamison wants a Carlisle diploma, and so she contemplates returning in the fall.

Mr. Whitwell announced in Chapel Monday afternoon that school would close the 29th of May.

The students are very much interested in the war situation. A number are taking daily papers.

The band under the leadership of James Garvie, gave an out-door concert last Wednesday evening.

The second party of girls leave to-day for their Outing homes. The second party of boys left yesterday.

Captain Charles Kelsey of the Tigers led his team to victory over the Sox last Monday evening. Score, 5 to 0.

Mr. Whitwell gave the boys and girls a very interesting and helpful talk last Sunday morning at Sunday School.

Cora Battice and Jennie Ross left Thursday morning for their respective homes in Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Miss Burns and her guests, Mrs. Bevier and Miss Stackhouse, visited the Gettysburg battlefield last Saturday.

Dr. Shadinger gave us a splendid illustration of the Christian religion of to-day at the Union Meeting last Sunday evening.

After the Mercer literary meeting Friday evening, some of the members intertained Dr. Stamp with a few musical selections.

A letter was received from George Miller who went home for his health, stating that he is feeling well and is enjoying out-of-door life.

Letitia Bird, who went home on account of the illness of her mother, writes from Wilmot, S. Dak., that her mother is much better.

Among the rooters at the Penn relay races in Philadelphia, was Simon Needham, who is attending the Keystone Telegraphy School there.

Mr. Whitwell's topic for chapel exercises Monday was "Personal Responsibility." When Daniel Webster was asked what his most important thought was he replied, "First, man's individual responsibility to God; second, our individual responsibility to man."

John Gokee and John Walette left Thursday for Newtown, N. J., where they will farm for the summer.

Father Stock said mass in the Y. M. C. A. hall Sunday morning as it looked so much like rain that the Catholic students could not go into town for services.

Dr. Stamp, traveler, linguist, anthropologist of note, representing Pennsylvania University, is making tests on our students in order to establish the normal in blood pressure.

Dr Shadinger, in his talk at the Union Meeting, repeated Christ's words, "Go preach the Gospel," which means the same as "Go spread the Christian religion among your people."

New life is teeming—grass, buds, flowers, birds, insects, and kittens. Those at the ware-house are pudgy-wudgy balls of soft fur, with pink tongues and pink feet, soft as silk—charming little mewers.

Miss Burns had for guests over the week-end, Mrs. L. L. Bevier and Miss Josephine Stackhouse, of West Pittston, Pa., These ladies had never before visited Carlisle and they were impressed by the numerous forms of activities opened to the students.

THE PRINT SHOP.

By John E. Gibson.

The April Red Man was called the "Industrial Number."

Minnie O'Neal, our office assistant, is perfecting herself on the addressing machine.

Leon Boutwell is assisting George Tibbetts on the cylinder press for the A.M. division.

All are welcome to visit the print shop and those desiring to see the "type lice" will be shown upon request.

At a folding contest held recently, George Nash carried off the honors as being the champion of the A.M. detail. This does not mean that George is the undisputed champion of both A. M. and P. M. details, because contestants are on the "show me" line in the P. M. division.

INSTITUTE FOR INDIAN SERVICE EMPLOYEES.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR
UNITED STATES INDIAN SERVICE
IN THE FIELD, April 27, 1914.

To Supervisors, Superintendents, and Instructors:

Definite arrangements have been made to hold institutes for employees of all departments of Indian Schools as indicated in the following schedule:

Chilocco, Oklahoma	July 6 to July 18
Flandreau, South Dakota	July 20 to Aug. 1
Sherman Institute, Cal.....	July 20 to Aug. 1
Tomah, Wisconsin.....	Aug. 3 to Aug. 15
