CARLISLE, PA., SEPTEMBER 4, 1914.

CHANGES IN THE SCHOOL CALENDAR

The School Calendar for 1914-15 has been set up and will appear by the time this issue of THE ARROW comes out, or shortly thereafter. Comparison of the new calendar with the one for 1913-14 shows the following changes:

During study hour, students will remain in quarters instead of going to the school rooms. A group of teachers will assist the matrons and disciplinarians during study hour in directing the students' study.

Every Sunday afternoon from 2.00 to 4.00 will be a period of quiet. During these two hours, both students and employees will refrain from playing musical instruments and from making any unnecessary noise whatsoever. The purpose of this arrangement is to enable anyone to have a period of perfect quiet in which to write, read, or rest.

Sunday school in the Auditorium on Sunday forenoons and church services in the Auditorium on Sunday afternoons have been discontinued. Instead, all students are required to attend the full complement of church services in town on Sunday forenoons.

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. will hold their services at 3.15 p. m. instead of 7.00 p. m. as heretofore.

A general meeting will be held every Sunday evening at 7.00 o'clock in the Auditorium. The nature of these meetings will be similar to that of the open-air meetings held on the campus during the recent summer months.

Each literary society elects one of the class-room teachers as advisory member. The principal of the Academic Department will be ex-officio and advisory member of all the literary societies.

Commencement week will come in May, at the close of school, instead of March as heretofore. Hereafter, the academic school year will extend from September to May, all promotions being made at the same time commencement is held.

The rooms heretofore known as the "Normal" department at the Academic Building will hereafter be known and designated as the "Primary" department.

Fills Vacancy in Chief Clerkship.

Mr. Claud V. Peel, of Austin, Texas, has been appointed Chief Clerk. He arrived on July 29, from Washington, D. C., where he had been employed in the Indian Office. Mr. Peel will live in the cottage formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Claud M. Stauffer.

Ex-Student in the Music Business.

In remitting his subscription to THE ARROW and RED MAN, Mr. Fred E. Smith, who was a Carlisle student several years ago, writes as follows:

"I am getting along very nicely out here in Nebraska. Have been out here two years and a half, during which time I have met several graduates and returned Indian school students, all of whom, I am pleased to say, are doing nicely.

"I am still in the music business. I have three bands to direct and have secured the engagement to furnish band music, next month, at the Neligh County Fair, Neligh, Nebr.; at the Norfolk Fall Festival, Norfolk, Nebraska; and at the State Fair, at Lincoln, Nebr.

"Have been away from Carlisle so long that I doubt if there is any one there that remembers me. Remembering, however, with appreciation my experience at your school, I will assure you that your school shall always be held in the highest esteem."

Transferred to Cherokee.

Miss Kaup, who has had charge of the Normal Department for several years, was transferred in August to the Cherokee School, N. C. Miss Roberts, a teacher at Carlisle during General Pratt's regime, has been appointed to succeed her.

THE CHRISTIAN UNION MEETING.

The last of the summer religious meetings was held in the auditorium last Sunday evening, with all of the students and most of the employees present.

Mr. Lipps talked on "Christian Ideals in School Life." It was a simple and direct appeal to each one to strive for high ideals.

Following are extracts from his talk:

Character must be formed while here at Carlisle—that is what we are here for.

The Indians are noted for being a proud race—too proud to ask favors without returning full value. That is a noble trait; it must not die out. Prove that you possess it by returning in full measure of attainment the many opportunities offered here.

Christ was the perfect man. He is the ideal for the whole civilized world. While we will not reach this perfection, we can strive for it, and in striving, develop the kind of character that will perpetuate the noble qualities that have made the American Indians famous. Your parents expect it. They expect of you what they themselves have missed, in many cases. We must not disappoint them. We must make good.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

The school garden crop exceeds, in quantity of production, any on record. The farms also have yielded abundantly, making this a record-breaking year for Carlisle in the fruition of agricultural products.

Dora B. McCauley visited Mrs. Robitaille and friends here on her way home to Minnesota. Miss McCauley is a Haskell graduate and was recently a stenographer to Charles E. Dagenett in the Indian Office. She has a transfer to Leech Lake, Minn., with increase in salary.

ATHLETICS.

The frequent rains during the summer, together with the efforts of Mr. Simons, have put the athletic field in the best condition it has been for some time, and the thick green grass makes an excellent surface upon which to begin the foot ball season.

Coach Warner has returned from his vacation, and through his and Mr. Simon's efforts everything was in readiness for outfitting the candidates at the beginning of school. About forty men were outfitted on Monday, and there have been additions to the squad every day since.

A great deal of enthusiasm has been manifested, and, while it is too early to form any accurate estimate of the material available, it can safely be said that the prospects are about as they usually are at the beginning of the season. The team will lose such good men as Welch, Garlow, and Bracklin, and possibly one or two others, but enough old players are sure to return to form a nucleus for a fairly good team. Calac, Walette, and Welmas are here, and Guyon, Looks, and Pratt are expected soon. Some of the good substitutes and reserves are also here, and there are a few good-looking new men, so that prospects are by no means discouraging.

Mr. Dietz will assist Mr. Warner with the Varsity squad, while Ex-Captain Antonio Lubo, of the famous 1907 team, will have charge of the Reserves, assisted by Mr. McGillis, who is an ex-Haskell player. Old graduate players will be here and assist from time to time. William Gardner, who is to be head coach at University of the South, was on hand with the beginning of practice and will remain until about Sept. 10th.

The Reserves have a complete schedule, which is not quite so hard as last year. They open the season as usual with Mercersburg Academy. The opening Varsity game will be in two weeks, September 19th, with Albright College. Training table will be started about the 15th, as usual.

Mr. Griffiths Drills Girls During Vacation.

Five evenings a week during vacation, after work hours, the girls in company formation, marched out in front of the Superintendent's residence to drill, under Mr. Griffiths' directions. The captains were as follows: Company A, Blanche Jollie; Company B, Lucy West; Company C, Mamie Vilcan.

Alumni Hall Opens.

The Studio, with Mrs. Robitaille in charge, opened for business on the 27th. There is a large and attractive array of pennants, table scarfs, and pillow covers in the school colors, besides scarf and hat pins, cuff links, watch fobs, and other desirable trinkets. All of these have upon them, in artistic design, the thunderbird, which is the Carlisle emblem.

There are also choice confections, consisting of candies, assorted cookies, crackers, etc.

Mr. Griffiths to Be Quartermaster and Commandant of Cadets.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths arrived from Tacoma, Wash., on May 20. Immediately upon arriving Mr. Griffiths assumed charge of the commissary department. Recently he has also been made Commandant of Cadets.

Mr. Griffiths has had wide experience both in and out of the Indian Service. His work at the Cushman School and elsewhere has been highly commended. Previous to coming to Carlisle, Mr. Griffiths was superintendent of the Masonic Home at Puyallup, Wash.

As junior lieutenant of the naval militia of the State of Washington and junior lieutenant of the Third Division of Indian Militia (the only organization of its kind in the United States), Mr. Griffiths won distinction as an organizer and tactician of first rank. In the review held before expert and critical judges at San Francisco in 1912, the Third Division of Indian Militia, drilled by Mr. Griffiths, took first prize.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS

Mr. William Gardner is here for a couple of weeks. He will coach Suanee University, Tenn., this fall.

Simon Needham, salutatorium of class '14, finished the course at the United Telegraphy School in Philadelphia, August 26.

Edith Emery, who is now a junior in the Kensington Hospital, Philadelphia, came to Carlisle for two weeks' vacation during August.

The meetings held out in the campus on Sunday evenings during the summer were largely attended. There were some very good talks given and they were always inspiring.

Estella Ellis, Carlisle '11, came to her alma mater from Syracuse, N. Y., to renew old acquaintances and rest in the shade of the grand old campus trees for a couple of weeks. She returned August 27.

Mrs. Lipps and the children arrived from Lewiston, Idaho, on June 20th. Everyone shared in Mr. Lipps' happiness in being reunited with his family after many months of separation. The "white house" now resounds with childish laughter in which Baby Milton leads them all.

Mrs. Anna G. Wylde, a graduate of the Danvers, Mass., hospital, was appointed to succeed Miss Beer as head nurse of our hospital. Mrs. Wylde has had experience in some of our largest eastern hospitals. She took post-graduate work at the Emergency Hospital at Washington, D. C., and was for some time in charge of the Casualty Hospital operating room, where she was also assistant superintendent for a year and a half.

Mr. James E. Kirk Assumes Duties as Storekeeper.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Kirk arrived on September 2nd. Mr. Kirk takes a position here as storekeeper. He was for a long while a clerk at Yakima, Wash., from whence they came. Mr. Kirk has been in the Service for a number of years, having been superintendent of the Cherokee Orphan School in the Cherokee Nation and also a clerk at Anadarko for a while. We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Kirk and hope they will like Carlisle.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS

After the supper on the lawn last Saturday evening, the students and a number of employees repaired to the Gym for a little social and dance. A general good time is reported.

John R. Wise, superintendent of Haskell, visited Carlisle and friends a few hours on his way to and from New York City. Mr. Wise was formerly assistant superintendent here, and his old friends were glad to see him again.

During the rush of canning, the amount of corn, beans, and tomatoes put up averaged a hundred gallons a day. Aside from these, a great many beets, cabbages, and carrots are to be stored away for the students' winter consumption.

Ozetta Bourbonnais visited Carlisle and her many friends for two weeks during the latter part of June. Miss Bourbonnais is taking up nursing in the General Hospital at Lancaster, and she is getting along splendidly with her work.

Miss Cora Elm, who graduated from Carlisle in 1913 and who is now taking training at the Episcopal Hospital in Philadelphia, stopped over for a couple of days en route to her home at Green Bay, Wis., where she will spend her vacation.

The Campus, from Large Boys' Quarters to the Academic Building, is one long stretch of velvety grass. The trees and flowers also look beautiful, all ready to welcome back the Outing and other students returning or first entering Carlisle.

The school picnic given on the 21st and 22nd of last month at Mt. Holly was enjoyed to the fullest extent, the boys having theirs on Friday and the girls on Saturday. The picnickers enjoyed themselves playing base ball, swimming, and climbing the mountains. The students rode to Holly and back on special cars.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holstein, who were married at the bride's home in California last April, visited Carlisle for a few days in August. Mrs. Holstein was formerly Miss Louise Kinney, one of the brightest members of class '10. Mr. Holstein is an ex-student of Carlisle and is a young man of good character and ability, who promises to do well for himself and his worthy bride. Mr. and Mrs. Holstein are, at present writing, at White Earth, Minn.

Miss Edith Emery enjoyed a two weeks' visit with her friends here during August, after which she returned to the Kensington Hospital in Philadelphia, where she is a student nurse. Miss Emery has been very successful in her work there, having stood second in a recent examination. She expects to finish the course in another year.

Outing Pupils Return to School.

The Outing girls and boys came back Thursday and Friday, respectively. They all look exceptionally well, and happy to be back at Carlisle.

Vegetables and Pickles for Winter Use.

Up to August 29th, the kitchen and diningroom force, with Mrs. Richey and Miss Zeamer in charge, assisted by Mr. George and his boys, had put up for winter use the following: 257 gallons of corn, 792 gallons of tomatoes, 1,273 gallons of beans, and 200 gallons of cucumber pickles.

Other vegetables keep coming in and the canning goes on.

A Vacation Wedding.

On August 5th, at the home of the bride's parents in West Pittston, Pa., Miss Lelah Burns and Mr. Louis Hathaway were united in marriage by the Rev. W. S. Barnes, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Miss Burns has been on the Carlisle teaching force for the past three years, and Mr. Hathaway is assistant disciplinarian. Both are highly esteemed by their many friends at Carlisle, who join in wishing them a long and happy life.

The Students' Annual Picnic.

The boys and girls had their picnics, as usual, at Mt. Holly this year. The boys were given precedence, holding theirs on the 21st and the girls going the next day. The weather was fine and the food good and plentiful. There were no belated ones nor mishaps incidental to large picnics. Good fellowship prevailed, and the trolley ride back in the evening dusk brought to a close another happy day to be recorded in Carlisle's "memory book."

Some of the boys who have been treated to samples of the kitchenette cooking pronounce the food excellent and are more than willing to taste some more.

MY TRIP TO EAGLES MERE.

By LUCY WEST, Pawnee.

When I was asked to write upon our trip to Eagles Mere, I felt there was so much to say about it that I hardly knew how or where to begin.

"Begin at the beginning and tell as much as possible in a few paragraphs," I was told. So I shall try to do that.

Myra Lone Chief and I were chosen to represent our Y. W. C. A. at the Middle Atlantic Student Conference which is held yearly at Eagles Mere.

We were delighted at the prospect of meeting students from other schools and seeing a place about which we had heard such interesting accounts from other Carlisle girls who had been there before us.

We were to be there ten days and plans were made accordingly, so on June 23, in company with the Dickinson College Y. W. girls we left for our destination.

The trip seemed short enough, and when we were told we had arrived, it did not seem possible. Nearly all the way the scenery was beautiful, and we enjoyed it greatly for some of it reminded us of home.

Our room at the Forest Inn Cottage was ready for us. The Cottage is in the woods yet quite close to the bathing beach and the steamer landing, which is the center of all out door activities at Eagles Mere.

The program for each morning was as follows: First period, Bible study; second, mission and community work; third, addresses on "Fundamentals of Christian Faith," and kindred subject, by Professor William Hutchinson of the Oberlin Theological Seminary.

The afternoons were devoted to study and recreation, and in getting acquainted with other student delegates, who represented schools and colleges in Ohio, West Virginia. Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania.

Each had something helpful to tell concerning the association work that is being done in her own particular school. The exchange of ideas was very beneficial, and we brought back with us many thoughts which we hope may be of help to our own Association.

We met a number of very interesting people and all were kind and seemed greatly interested in us. We made acquaintances that we shall never forget. And certainly we shall not soon forget the good fellowship, the beautiful scenery, and the inspiration of it all.

We returned to Carlisle with a better understanding of what Association work really means and what it is accomplishing all over the world.

GENERAL SCHOOL NEWS.

Mrs. Ada Marshall of Washington, D. C., is visiting Miss Wilson.

The gardener and his boys have set out about 200 rhubarb plants.

Mr. and Mrs. De Huff are now cosily settled in their apartment in Teachers' Quarters.

Mrs. Carl Kardenal, of Reedsburg, Wis., is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Rendtorff.

Mrs. Harriet Rader, Mrs. Lipps' mother, from Andersonville, Tenn., arrived August 26th for an extended visit.

W. W. Coon, Assistant Supervisor of Indian Schools, was one of our distinguished visitors during the summer.

Miss Given Williams, a teacher at Mt. Pleasant for some years, has been transferred to Carlisle. She arrived on August 24th.

Lieutenants Foster and Underhill, of the Marine Officers School at Portsmouth, Va., were week-end visitors during August.

While at Chautauqua, Mrs. Canfield took instruction in lace-making so that any girl who wishes to learn the art will now have an opportunity.

Gus Welch and Henry Broker, Carlisle '12 and '13, respectively, returned last week from a very enjoyable and profitable summer in Atlantic City.

A CARLISLE STUDENT HONORED.

Some time ago Mr. Lipps received a letter from Dr. Irvin, Headmaster of Mercersburg Academy, stating that Mr. Rodman Wanamaker had offered to provide scholarships for Indian boys and asked if he could recommend an Indian boy who desired to avail himself of the opportunity to go to Mercersburg Academy to prepare for Princeton University, with the object of ultimately returning to his people to give to them the benefits of his training.

Mr. Wanamaker generously offered to provide whatever could not be earned by the student who would be willing to accept the proposition.

Before deciding upon anyone, there were several things to be considered. Among others, the character, standing, and ability of the student; and finally, and most important, the needs of his people.

After many inquiries into all these necessary details, and due consideration over the matter, Mr. Lipps decided to recommend John E. Gibson. There was no hesitation over accepting, for the young man had been considering for some time ways and means for obtaining a higher education. So arrangements were speedily arranged for him to enter Mercersburg at the fall opening.

Before entering Carlisle in 1911, John E. Gibson, who is now a member of the Senior Class, had been a student for some years at Teller Institute, Colo. Being ambitious, he came to Carlisle, where larger opportunities are offered, and from the first day he arrived, he has made good. He is a full-blooded Pima from Arizona, a tribe which has received very little from the Government.

In view of this fact, and because of his standing as a student, the choice meets with the approbation of both the members of the faculty and the student body of the Carlisle School.

Supper on the Campus.

Last Saturday evening the students ate their supper out on the lawn. Mrs. Richey and her assistants had prepared a full meal for them. The extras on the bill of fare consisted of bologna, peanut butter, and ice cream and cake.

MISS ELY LAID TO REST.

By M. BURGESS.

On the second day of the week and the twenty-seventh of the seventh month, nineteen hundred and fourteen, the mortal remains of a good woman, greatly beloved by all who knew her, were laid peacefully to rest in the quiet little graveyard of the Religious Society of Friends, at Wrightstown, Bucks County, Pa.

Anne S. Ely, for twenty-eight years a member of the Carlisle School faculty, died July 24, at the home of a niece in Wycombe, Bucks County, in her eighty-first year. The immediate cause of death was heart failure of but a few hours duration. After a strenuous period of care and extreme anxiety last June, in Kansas, when an aged sister passed away during a heated term of unprecedented severity, Miss Ely suffered a slight stroke of paralysis, but with her usual power in the mustering of reserved force she rallied sufficiently to travel alone to New York State to spend six weeks at a summer resort with her long-time friend, Miss Burgess. Here she seemed to regain her wonted strength and energy of past years; but each month after that seemed to tell on her lengthened days, and in the midst of plans to visit Chicago and Kansas she was taken to her long home.

General and Mrs. Pratt, of Washington, D. C., and daughters (Mrs. Richenda McCombs, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Mason Pratt, of Baltimore), also a representative delegation from the Indian School Outing Department, of which she was superintendent for many years, and other friends from a distance honored the memory of this devoted and substantial friend of the Indian by their presence at the funeral services. This was a most impressive meeting, addressed by General Pratt, W. W. Burgess, of Philadelphia, and others.

To hundreds of co-workers in the Indian Service, and to thousands of ex-students of Carlisle scattered throughout the Indian reservations of our country, the name of Miss Ely is a synonym for repose and readiness to serve as a cup of strength in distress, and is ever uttered with emotions of esteem and grateful remembrance. It is safe to say that, excepting the founder of Carlisle, no worker at the school during a period of over a quarter of a century is more widely known to-day among the students of the past and present, among farm patrons and all interested in the carrying out of General Pratt's great plan of securing for the American Indian recognition as a man, by giving to him the opportunity to help himself, than is this noble woman.

ANNE S. ELY

For 28 Years Miss Ely was a Member of Carlisle Indian School Faculty. She Died July 24th at the Home of a Niece at Wycombe, Bucks County, Pa., in her 81st Year.

There must be hundreds of representative men of the tribes to-day, who, twenty, thirty, and forty years ago passed a period of training as orderlies under the masterly mind of this forceful personality. It was her strength of purpose, coolness of judgment, and practical common sense, combined with a motherly generalship in the administration of justice midst perplexing annoyances connected with the multiplicity of extra duties which seemed naturally to fall upon so willing and untiring a worker, that gave to her an individuality worthy of emulation.

Notwithstanding her busy life in performing the duties of her legitimate office, and the lighter cares as school post-mistress, unofficial information bureau, phone dispatcher, private banker for co-workers who frequently solicited short loans, and general adviser and counsellor regarding routes and trains, she still found time to look carefully and conscientiously after the little orderly boys whom she patiently trained in office tactics and courtesies, gentlemanly bearing, and business efficiency and dispatch. Many a little punishment administered in love will be recalled by these men of to-day who are fathers and grandfathers of students now on the roll, and who will rise up to call her blessed for the lessons gained through her patient, persistent efforts on their behalf.

Dear Miss Ely! Always of an even mind and dependable, light-hearted yet deeply in earnest, social without society pretense, having a fund of wit and humor rarely excelled and a knowledge of just how to lace it, a lover of high-grade games, champion at croquet, chess, and whist, keen at repartee, kindly, gentle, responsive, loyal to the head of the school, and endowed with a memory for statistical information and past events that proved invaluable; wise, discreet, magnanimous, true, who can estimate the impress that such a character has made upon the growing mind of a race in whose interest she served during the best years of a long life?

THE INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENTS.

Results Accomplished During the Vacation Months Shown in Detail.

SEWING DEPARTMENT.

The summer detail in this department averaged thirty-four girls. They turned out the following articles:

- 90 white shirtwaists.
- 200 seersucker skirts.
- 100 table covers.
- 205 bureau scarfs.
- 100 hand towels.
- 50 nightshirts.
- 70 kitchen aprons.

PRINTING DEPARTMENT.

An unusually busy summer was experienced by the print shop. Mr. Brown's vacation detail averaged eight all-day boys, and a vast amount of work was accomplished.

The usual demands of the school were met, and in addition a considerable number of outside requests were received and executed. The Indian Office at Washington were furnished with 16,000 copies of an eight-paged circular, besides other smaller pieces of work. Much work was also executed for the Alumni Association, and the Society of American Indians also were supplied with considerable printing.

The summer detail also turned out the September RED MAN, and practically all work on the first issue of THE ARROW was executed by them.

ENGINEERING.

Mr. Weber and his boys completely rewired the Studio and the house at the first farm. They also installed a new sewer in the bakery, and a new system of steam-heating in the print-shop.

In the Studio they also rearranged the heating system to accommodate the changes occasioned in remodeling the building for the use of the Alumni Society.

Several new electric chandeliers were installed in the Girls' Quarters.

A complete new plumbing system was installed at the first farm.

New toilet facilities were placed in the bakery department.

The drainage system in the meat cellar was improved and many new kitchen appliances were installed.

Work was commenced on installing a new electric power conduit preparatory to putting in seven new motors in the print shop.

In addition to the improvements above enumerated, a vast volume of repair work required in the upkeep of the school's mechanical equipment was carried on.

The main sewerage system was connected with the town's septic system, thus avoiding the possibility of polluting the near-by streams.

The surface drainage has been regulated so that the water now empties into Le Tort Creek, from which it finds its way to the sea. This makes the entire Campus much more sanitary than heretofore.

During the summer Mr. Weber's detail averaged four boys, and the work accomplished is evidence of their industry and capacity.

SHOE AND HARNESSMAKING.

Mr. Boltz, with a detail of three boys, made a hundred pairs of shoes, and repaired between three and four hundred pairs. They also repaired all the harness used by the school.

BLACKSMITHING.

Mr. Shambaugh's two efficient apprentices shod the school horses and kept in good repair all the farming implements.

During Mr. Shambaugh's vacation, Willie Jackson was in charge.

WOODWORKING.

Mr. Lau's boys did repair work on all the buildings, and put steel ceilings in the large clothing room, in the Girls Quarters, and in the Studio. They also installed new scales near the Laundry.

TAILORING.

A detail of five or six boys, directed by Mr. Nonnast, made, during vacation, 163 coats and 144 pairs of trousers, besides repairing between two and three hundred garments.

CARPENTERING.

Mr. Herr and Mr. Gardner in charge. Their boys did general repairing all over the Campus and on the school farms. They built a large addition to the house on the first farm, enlarged and otherwise improved the Studio, besides making new furniture for it.

Section buildings, easy of shipment, are being constructed for field service. Two sectional buildings, begun in August, are almost completed.

The work of putting in steel ceilings in the Girls Quarters has been completed and the entire building was made ready for occupancy at the opening of school.

Additions and improvements to the bakery have made it quite sanitary and much more convenient.

A number of the employees' quarters have been made more comfortable by repairs.

The carpenter work required in the remodeling of the quarters occupied by the assistant disciplinarian at Large Boys Quarters was also executed by this detail.

TINNING.

Mr. George's five boys put new roofs on the houses and outbuildings at the first farm and on the addition to the Studio, the campus barn, and the old warehouses. They repaired and painted the roofs on the laundry, the shops, and the florist's house.

Thousands of gallons of vegetables have been put up for the students' winter use by Mr. George and his detail, with the assistance of the kitchen force. At present writing, the canning process is still in operation and will continue until the unusually abundant crop of vegetables raised on the school farms and garden have been exhausted.

PAINTING DEPARTMENT.

During the vacation months, Mr. Carns had a detail of six boys. They painted the following buildings: laundry, boilerhouse, Large and Small Boys' Quarters, Girls' Quarters, Disciplinarian's and Athletic Quarters, the Cage inside and out, the barn, and the Studio. They also painted and papered the apartments occupied by Mrs. Foster and Mr. and Mrs. De Huff in Teachers' Quarters and the interior of cottages occupied by Messrs. Brown and Peel, besides painting 1 spring wagon, 2 buggies, 33 benches, and several pieces of furniture.

The greenhouse was repainted inside and out, and all glass reset. Also, the florist's cottage was repainted.

(Owing to lack of space the Masonry Department has been omitted, but will appear in the next issue.)

THE SCHOOL GARDENS.

Approximately, the school garden has furnished for the students' use during vacation the following vegetables:

- 1,100 ears of sweet corn.
- 211 bushels of beans.
- 4,000 cabbages.
- 3,525 cucumbers.
- 40 bushels of lettuce.
- 2,345 bunches of green onions.
- 65 bushels of green peas.
- 500 bunches of radishes.
- 1,000 summer squashes.
- 300 bushels of tomatoes.

It is estimated that the garden of 20 acres located on the first farm will yield vegetables to be stored, canned, or pickled for winter use as follows:

- 100 bushels of cured onions.
- 400 bushels of tomatoes.
- 200 bushels of beans.
- 50 bushels of peas.
- 5,000 ears of sweet corn.
- 70,000 cucumbers.
- 100 bushels of lettuce.
- 100 bushels of radishes.
- 5,000 winter squashes.
- 2,000 bushels of beets.
- 1,000 bushels of turnips.
- 200 bushels of lima beans.
- 5,000 celery stocks.
- 100 bushels of carrots.
- 10,000 cabbages.

THE FIRST FARM.

The forty-eight cows and the six head of young cattle are in fine condition, as are also 70 hogs, averaging 125 pounds; 30 shoats, averaging 30 pounds; 22 small pigs, and 12 brood sows.

The average amount of milk produced during the summer months was eighty gallons a day, and butter, eighty pounds a week.

There is material for hundreds of tons of ensilage.

THE SECOND FARM.

The wheat and oats were unusually good and the yield was abundant. There are thirty acres of fine potatoes. The large flocks of turkeys and chickens are thriving. The number of eggs gathered have kept the hospital well supplied throughout the summer.

ACADEMIC DEPARTMENT NOTES.

Immediately after the close of school last May, every teacher made a careful physical inventory of all books and other property pertaining to her school room. The inventories submitted by the teachers were checked and the property re-counted by the Principal. Also, the Principal made an inventory of all books and other property in his office and store-room. All of these inventories were then summed up, and the totals of all kinds of books, etc., on hand ascertained. A card index of these totals was then made. The Principal's property cards show on their face all the property pertaining to the Academic Department; on the reverse side is shown by special entries the location of all the property shown upon the face of the cards. Each item of property requires a card separate from all the rest.

Beginning with September 1, the teachers will sign receipts in favor of the Principal for all property assigned to their respective rooms. This includes the property shown on the inventories made last May and June. Each teacher will also have a card index, showing all property pertaining to her room. When a teacher signs for any property, she is given a carbon copy of the receipt for her reference. The items appearing upon the receipt are then debited on her cards. When a teacher returns property to the Principal, she is given a receipt for what she returns. She then takes credit on her cards for all property returned.

Hereafter, all pupils will be required to sign a receipt in favor of their respective teachers for all books lent to the pupils for study. In signing this receipt, the pupil binds himself to take as good care of the books as if they were his own and also to return them, when called upon to do so, to the teacher from whom he received them. This means that on no account must a pupil return his books at any time to any person other than the person who lent them to him. The co-operation of pupils in this connection will result in increased efficiency all along the line. The Principal will hold the teachers responsible for all property receipted for by them; and in turn, the teachers will hold the pupils responsible for the proper care of such property as may be lent them and for its return in reasonably good condition at such time as its return may be required of them. Whenever a pupil goes on leave, or to outing, or is discharged, and when school closes in May of each year, all pupils will be required to turn in all books, etc., in their possession which may have been issued to them by teachers.

A revised course of study has been worked out and will be off the press within a few days. This course of study specifies in each grade, and in each section of each grade, just what text book, or books, shall be followed in each subject. An effort has been made to prescribe in each grade the books authorized by the Indian Office. However, in several cases, it was deemed advisable to depart a little from the authorized list in order to avoid expense by using the books already on hand. All obsolete text books have been discarded and up-to-date ones substituted in their places. Criticisms on this course of study will be called for toward the close of the year 1914-1915, and, upon the basis of those criticisms, the course will be further revised and improved for the beginning of 1915-16.

Hereafter, a general average of 75 per cent will be required for promotion. There will be no "conditions." A pupil reaching the required general average will be promoted unconditionally.

The new course provides that regular and definite instruction shall be given once or twice each week in manners, morals, good behavior, etc.

Algebra will hereafter be given in the "senior" year, instead of repeating the arithmetic work.

The work of summing up the inventories, of making the card index, and of working out the revised course of study has been done almost entirely by the new Principal, who has remained on duty throughout the summer season.

Principal Teacher Calls Academic Faculty Meeting.

Last Friday morning Mr. De Huff called a teachers' meeting. The new system of accounting for academic property which he has devised was explained and steps taken to have it go into effect immediately.

SUNDAY RELIGIOUS MEETINGS.

During the vacation months the entire student body, and the employees, each of whom took turns in leading, assembled Sunday evenings on the lawn for a short service. There were usually visitors from town, and on several occasions outside speakers gave inspiring addresses. The character of these meetings were in accord with the sentiment conveyed by the beautiful hymns and the Scripture lessons and were a source of restful enjoyment to all, as was evidenced by those present.

Sabbath school, conducted by Mr. Lipps and members of the faculty, continued throughout vacation.

Marriage of Ex-Students.

The Washington Herald of August 15th says:

"For the first time in the history of the District marriage-license bureau, so far as any one at the city hall was able to recall yesterday, a license has been issued for two members of the Indian race to marry.

"The license was obtained yesterday by Alvin W. Kennedy, of Salamanca, N. Y., who gave his age as 22, and stated that he was an Indian, but did not name the tribe to which his ancestors belonged. The bride is Mary A. Bailey, 21, of Browning, Mont. She also said she was of Indian extraction, and refrained from naming tribal connections.

"The Rev. James L. McLain, pastor of Wilson Memorial M. E. Church, was designated to perform the ceremony."

Mr. Kennedy was graduated from Carlisle as an honor pupil in 1911. Since then he has finished the course in wireless telegraphy, after which he enlisted in the Navy and was given the post of operator on the U. S. S. Jenkins. He was at Vera Cruz when that city was occupied by our troops.

Miss Bailey did not finish the academic course at Carlisle, having just entered the Freshman Class when she decided to go to the Kensington hospital in Philadelphia to finish the course which she had begun here. However, when Mr. Kennedy came home on leave, all those plans were changed to the satisfaction of everybody concerned. A host of friends at Carlisle and elsewhere extend best wishes to this deserving couple.
